Foreign Correspondents Report From Africa Heinz-Dietrich Fischer, 2014 Pulitzer Prize winning reporting in African countries by American journalists has been a latecomer within the award category for international coverage It took close to two decades after the establishment of the awards that reporting about the Italian Ethiopian crisis was declared prize worthy by the Pulitzer Prize jurors During World War II prizes were given for the coverage of the North African battlefields Since the 1960s inner African conflicts like unrest in the Congo impressed the jurors as well as writings on the Apartheid system in South Africa This book contains a selection of the Pulitzer Prize winning articles and photographs by news journalists in Africa Series Pulitzer Prize Panorama Vol 8

Twilight People David Houze, 2006-05-25 It is also a detective story steeped in the racial politics and tumultuous histories of two countries BOOK JACKET

The Man Who Killed Apartheid: The Life of Dimitri Tsafendas Harris Dousemetzis, 2024-03-04 On 6 September 1966 inside the House of Assembly in Cape Town Dimitri Tsafendas stabbed to death Hendrik Verwoerd South Africa's Prime Minister and so called architect of apartheid Tsafendas was immediately arrested and before he had even been questioned by the authorities they declared him a madman without any political motive for the killing In the Cape Supreme Court Tsafendas was found unfit to stand trial on the grounds that he suffered from schizophrenia and that he had no political motive for killing Verwoerd Tsafendas spent the next 28 years in custody making him the longest serving detainee in South African history For most of his incarnation he was subjected to cruel and inhumane treatment by the prison authorities From 2009 to 2018 Harris Dousemetzis extensively researched the assassination of Verwoerd and the life of Tsafendas For this research he travelled to South Africa Mozambique Greece France and Turkey and interviewed about 150 people who either knew Tsafendas or Verwoerd or were involved with the case of the assassination He discovered about 12 000 pages of documents on the case most of them previously unpublished in archival collections in South Africa Portugal and the UK Dousemetzis collaborated with prominent South African jurists psychiatrists and psychologists and concluded his research by writing the Report to the Minister of Justice in the Matter of Dr Verwoerd's Assassination The report conclusively proved that Tsafendas had assassinated Verwoerd for political reasons and that the apartheid authorities had orchestrated a massive operation to declare him insane and apolitical This ground breaking report and this book corrected the historical record regarding Verwoerd's assassination and Tsafendas The Man Who Killed Apartheid based on Dousemetzis's groundbreaking research chronicles in detail Tsafendas's life and conclusively demonstrates that he was a perfectly sane and deeply political person with a long history of political activism At the same time the book exposes the lie at the heart of apartheid's posture on the assassination of Hendrik Verwoerd and provides a rare picture of how the racist regime operated and what it was like to live and die under apartheid

Bowker, Susan Leigh Star, 2000-08-25 A revealing and surprising look at how classification systems can shape both worldviews and social interactions What do a seventeenth century mortality table whose causes of death include fainted in a bath frightened and itch the identification of South Africans during apartheid as European Asian colored or black and the separation of machine from hand washables have in common All are examples of classification the scaffolding of information infrastructures In Sorting Things Out Geoffrey C Bowker and Susan Leigh Star explore the role of categories and standards in shaping the modern world In a clear and lively style they investigate a variety of classification systems including the International Classification of Diseases the Nursing Interventions Classification race classification under apartheid in South Africa and the classification of viruses and of tuberculosis The authors emphasize the role of invisibility in the process by which classification orders human interaction They examine how categories are made and kept invisible and how people can change this invisibility when necessary They also explore systems of classification as part of the built information environment Much as an urban historian would review highway permits and zoning decisions to tell a city's story the authors review archives of classification design to understand how decisions have been made Sorting Things Out has a moral agenda for each standard and category valorizes some point of view and silences another Standards and classifications produce advantage or suffering Jobs are made and lost some regions benefit at the expense of others How these choices are made and how we think about that process are at the moral and political core of this work The book is an important empirical source for understanding the building of information infrastructures

Information, Freedom and Property Mireille Hildebrandt, Bibi van den Berg, 2016-07-01 This book addresses issues on the nexus of freedom of and property in information while acknowledging that both hiding and exposing information may affect our privacy It inquires into the physics the technologies the business models the governmental strategies and last but not least the legal frameworks concerning access organisation and control of information It debates whether it is in the very nature of information to be either free or monopolized or both Analysing upcoming power structures new types of colonization and attempts to replace legal norms with techno nudging this book also presents the idea of an infra ethics capable of pre-empting our pre-emption It discusses the interrelations between open access the hacker ethos the personal data economy and freedom of information highlighting the ephemeral but pivotal role played by information in a data driven society This book is a must read for those working on the contemporary dimensions of freedom of information data protection and intellectual property rights Anthropological Journal of Canada , 1972 International Labour Documentation International Labour Office. Central Library and Documentation Branch, 1965 Change in Contemporary South Africa Leonard Thompson, Jeffrey Butler, 2023-11-15 Change in Contemporary South Africa examines the intricate and often contradictory realities of South Africa during a period of significant political and social tension The book explores the coexistence of apparent governmental stability marked by economic growth a strong coercive apparatus and sustained White political dominance with increasing signs of resistance including labor strikes student unrest and growing international condemnation By presenting a range of interpretations from authoritarian entrenchment to the potential for revolutionary change it delves into the complex dynamics that shape South Africa s trajectory Structured across sections that analyze internal community dynamics instruments of White domination and the country s external relations the book scrutinizes the processes of change within South Africa s unique socio political framework With contributions from scholars spanning diverse disciplines and perspectives it raises critical questions about the future of racial inequality the potential for redistribution of power and wealth and the role of internal and external pressures in shaping outcomes This comprehensive yet nuanced analysis offers a valuable lens for understanding a society on the brink of transformation with implications that resonate far beyond its borders This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1975
