What the Ancestors Knew Joanne P. Miller, 2023-11-30 This book is intended to engender debate Its subject faith in a modern Buddhist context almost always carries with it the widespread but erroneous assumption that it is completely unimportant to the Buddhist path Without really knowing what it is and how it differs from theistic versions faith has been given a bad name Moreover naivety regarding the colonial orientalist agenda and bias of early Zen exegetes in the West has allowed modern Zennists to accept almost unquestioningly the view that faith and knowledge occupy opposite ends of the practice spectrum As a result trusted and authentic sources of authority Zen ancestors and sutras have often been prevented from speaking about a doctrinally sound and legitimate tool of realization mentioned in a stunningly large amount of sutras It has also resulted in an erroneous and often condescending view of faith schools of Buddhism Now is the perfect time in Zen s journey in the West to reassess and address these shortcomings

Regionalism and Globalization Joseph J. Matvey III Ph.D Sociology, 2010-06-17 Regionalism and Globalization represents research on three thematics Appalachia Global Computerization and Globalization First the spatial expression of corporate national and transnational capitalism essentially created the peripheralization of Appalachia and today fuels the development of underdevelopment in the region Computerization a second thematic concern is essentially perceived as one of the more significant instruments facilitating the technological compression of the globe In fact as computerization is more comprehensively embedded in the techno social aspects of globalization it now becomes possible to speak of global computerization or the objective computerization of the globe Finally Globalization is not merely a theme but a comprehensive paradigmatic shift in how we know the world It is further a systematic overarching process subsuming and in fact configuring and reordering the former two constructs of Appalachia and Computerization Additionally explored research includes global religion education international organizations popular culture and the global internet global sociology the concept of humanity and finally the global implications of Windows and Linux computer operating systems

Dogen's Extensive Record Eihei Dogen, 2010-03-16 Eihei Dogen the 13th century

Zen master who founded the Japanese Soto School of Zen is renowned as one of the world's most remarkable religious thinkers. As Shakespeare did with English, Dogen utterly transformed the language of Zen using it in novel and extraordinarily beautiful ways to point to everything important in religious life. Dogen's Extensive Record is the first ever complete and scholarly translation of this monumental work into English. This edition contains extensive and detailed research and annotation by scholar translator and Zen teacher Taigen Dan Leighton as well as forewords by the 18th century poet monk Ryokan and Tenshin Reb Anderson, former abbot of the San Francisco Zen Center, plus introductory essays from Dogen scholar Steven Heine and the prominent American Zen master John Daido Looi. The Saffron Road Christine Toomey, 2015-06-04 A brief meeting with a Buddhist nun in India made a deep impression on Christine Toomey. It sent her on a two-year 60,000-mile odyssey to learn more about the contemporary women choosing in their thousands to become part of a long tradition of female spirituality that stretches back through the centuries and now embraces the radical possibility that the next Dalai Lama could be female. In The Saffron Road, Toomey follows in the footsteps of earlier generations of Buddhist nuns to trace the routes by which the philosophy has spread from a solitary order in a remote area of India in the 5th century BC via 1950s San Francisco where Zen was popularised by the Beat generation to the globally renowned practitioners of mindfulness of today. Beginning her journey in the Himalayas close to the birthplace of the Buddha, Toomey travels from Nepal to India through Burma, Japan and on to North America and Europe, along the way visiting contemporary nunneries to meet the women who practise there. Amongst those she talks to are a group of kung fu nuns, an acclaimed novelist, a princess, a concert violinist, a former BBC journalist and a one-time Washington political aide. Through these conversations, the daily reality of the Buddhist existence is gradually revealed, together with the diverse spiritual paths leading these women towards nirvana. Combining travelogue, history, interviews and personal reflection, The Saffron Road opens the door to a rarely glimpsed world of ritual discipline and enlightenment.
