

Materiality

Establishing materiality

The auditor should determine a materiality level for the financial statements taken as a whole when establishing the overall audit strategy for the audit in the planning stage. Determining a materiality level for the financial statements taken as a whole helps guide the auditor's judgments in identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatements and in planning the nature, timing, and extent of further audit procedures.

This materiality level does not, however, establish a threshold below which identified misstatements are always considered to be immaterial when evaluating those misstatements and their effect on the financial statements and the auditor's report thereon. The circumstances related to some identified misstatements may cause the auditor to evaluate them as material even if they are below the materiality level determined when establishing the overall audit strategy.

Moving Materialities On Poetic Materiality And Translation With Special Reference To Gunnar Bjorlings Poetry:

The Sound of Poetry / The Poetry of Sound Marjorie Perloff, Craig Dworkin, 2009-10-15 Sound one of the central elements of poetry finds itself all but ignored in the current discourse on lyric forms The essays collected here by Marjorie Perloff and Craig Dworkin break that critical silence to readdress some of the fundamental connections between poetry and sound connections that go far beyond traditional metrical studies Ranging from medieval Latin lyrics to a cyborg opera sixteenth century France to twentieth century Brazil romantic ballads to the contemporary avant garde the contributors to The Sound of Poetry The Poetry of Sound explore such subjects as the translatability of lyric sound the historical and cultural roles of rhyme the role of sound repetition in novelistic prose the connections between sound poetry and music between the visual and the auditory the role of the body in performance and the impact of recording technologies on the lyric voice Along the way the essays take on the ensemble discords of Maurice Scève's Die Ezra Pound's use of Chinese whispers the alchemical theology of Hugo Ball's Dada performances Jean Cocteau's modernist radiophonics and an intercultural account of the poetry reading as a kind of dubbing A genuinely comparatist study The Sound of Poetry The Poetry of Sound is designed to challenge current preconceptions about what Susan Howe has called articulations of sound forms in time as they have transformed the expanded poetic field of the twenty first century Handbook of International Futurism Günter

Berghaus, 2018-12-17 The Handbook of International Futurism is the first reference work ever to presents in a comparative fashion all media and countries in which the movement initiated by F T Marinetti in 1909 exercised a particularly noteworthy influence The handbook offers a synthesis of the state of scholarship regarding the international radiation of Futurism and its influence in some fifteen artistic disciplines and thirty eight countries While acknowledging the great achievements of the movement in the visual and literary arts of Italy and Russia it treats Futurism as an international multidisciplinary phenomenon that left a lasting mark on the manifold artistic manifestations of the early twentieth century avant garde Hundreds of artists who in some phase in their career absorbed Futurist ideas and stylistic devices are presented in the context of their national traditions their international connections and the media in which they were predominantly active The handbook acts as a kind of multi disciplinary geographical encyclopaedia of Futurism and gives scholars with varying levels of experience a detailed overview of all countries and disciplines in which the movement had a major impact

Moving Materialities Fredrik Hertzberg, 2002 Nordic Literature Steven P. Sondrup, Mark B. Sandberg, Thomas A. DuBois, Dan Ringgaard, 2017-12-15 Nordic Literature A comparative history is a multi volume comparative analysis of the literature of the Nordic region Bringing together the literature of Finland continental Scandinavia Sweden Norway Denmark and S pmi and the insular region Iceland Greenland and the Faroe Islands each volume of this three volume project adopts a new frame through which one can recognize and analyze significant clusters of literary practice This first volume Spatial nodes devotes its attention to the changing literary figurations of space by Nordic writers from medieval to contemporary times Organized around the depiction of various scapes and spatial practices at home and abroad this approach to Nordic literature stretches existing notions of temporally linear nationally centered literary history and allows questions of internal regional similarities and differences to emerge more strongly The productive historical contingency of the North as a literary space becomes clear in this close analysis of its literary texts and practices Illuminating Darkness Päivi Mehtonen, 2007

"Mitt språk är ej i orden" Fredrik Hertzberg, 2018 Materialities in Translation Gunnar Björling's Poetry in English Jonathan Fredrik Hertzberg, 2001 Tactual Poësis Julie Phillips Brown, 2011 Critical studies of literature and the arts have long emphasized visual comparisons between the two dimensional spaces of the page and the canvas often to the exclusion of other senses dimensions and media Tactual Poësis develops an expanded vocabulary for how to read literature and the arts through attention to tactile multi dimensional innovations in the poetry of Susan Howe Cecilia Vicuña and Theresa Hak Kyung Cha As contemporary poets continue to broaden the material tactile dimensions of their writing an equal expansion in critical discourse becomes necessary For Howe Vicuña and Cha ordinary textual conditions no longer satisfy the poem must be seen heard and felt At the heart of each poet's formal innovation is the potential for tactual poësis a rewriting of history and a reordering of the contemporary world through poetic and readerly processes that are literally hands on I argue that it is precisely a poem's tactility that makes its text and the histories contained therein actual present and physical and therefore subject to manipulation by both poet and reader The histories these poets revise are numerous and far ranging from personal familial narratives in Howe's The Midnight and Cha's Dictée to cultural and national memories in Dictée and Vicuña's cloud net to linguistic and literary conventions in all three works together My first chapter examines Howe's textual and visual collage in The Midnight as an elegiac performance whereby the poet transforms the book into a costumed extension of her own body This transformation animates the text from within and activates an intermediate space between the living and the dead My second chapter argues that Vicuña's cloud net relies on bodily contact between poet reader and text to open the trans a transitive space between the present and an earlier time prior to globalization global warming and species loss From the trans the poet attempts to reclaim the forces of universal genesis and heal the destruction wrought since then My third chapter argues that Cha's Dictée imagines the possibility of the material tactile word as a means of concretizing history and exchanging the seeds of anti colonial resistance from one body to another
