Russian Masculinities In History And Culture:

Russian Masculinities in History and Culture B. Clements, R. Friedman, D. Healey, 2001-12-18 From the romantic liaisons of Peter the Great to the birth of the Russian queen this collection of essays presents recent research from the new field of Russian masculinity studies Peasant patriarchs aristocratic dandies anxious young bureaucrats workers in search of father figures heroic warriors promiscuous bathhouse attendants and vodka soaked athletic stars populate this volume Its essays take as a starting point the notion that masculinity like femininity has a history Masculinity, Autocracy and the Russian University, 1804-1863 R. Friedman, 2004-11-30 This is the first book length study of masculinity in Imperial Russia By looking at official and unofficial life at universities across the Russian empire this project offers a picture of the complex processes through which gender ideologies were forged and negotiated in the Nineteenth Century Masculinity Autocracy and the Russian University 1804 1863 demonstrates how gender was critical to political life in a European monarchy Military Masculinity and Postwar Recovery in the Soviet Union Erica L. Fraser, 2019-04-08 Catastrophic wartime casualties and postwar discomfort with the successes of women who had served in combat roles combined to shatter prewar ideals about what service meant for Soviet masculine identity The soldier had to be re imagined and resold to a public that had just emerged from the Second World War and a younger generation suspicious of state control In doing so Soviet military culture wrote women out and attempted to re establish soldiering as the premier form of masculinity in society Military Masculinity and Postwar Recovery in the Soviet Union combines textual and visual analysis as well as archival research to highlight the multiple narratives that contributed to rebuilding military identities Each chapter visits a particular site of this reconstruction including debates about conscription and evasion appropriate role models for cadets misogynist military imagery in cartoons the fraught militarized workplaces of nuclear physicists and the first cohort of cosmonauts who represented the completion of the project to rebuild militarized masculinity The Human Tradition in Imperial Russia

Christine D. Worobec, 2009-01-16 Sweeping across more than two centuries this compelling book introduces readers to some of the major themes in Imperial Russia In a set of engaging essays the contributors present richly human stories of individual and group experiences as well as of key events in Russian history We see the effects of reforms the consequences of an economy and society built on serfdom as well as the development of a civil society the woman question urbanization secularization and modernity As this book vividly shows individuals groups and events raised out of obscurity remind us of the messiness of everyday life of people s dreams frustrations and transformations as well as of their sense of self and the community around them The Fate of the New Man Claire McCallum, 2018-07-03 Between 1945 and 1965 the catastrophe of war and the social and political changes it brought in its wake had a major impact on the construction of the Soviet masculine ideal Drawing upon a wide range of visual material The Fate of the New Man traces the dramatic changes in the representation of the Soviet man in the postwar period It focuses on the two identities that came to dominate such depictions in the two decades after the end of the war the Soviet man's previous role as a soldier and his new role in the home once the war was over In this compelling study Claire McCallum focuses on the reconceptualization of military heroism after the war the representation of contentious subjects such as the war damaged body and bereavement and postwar changes to the depiction of the Soviet man as father McCallum shows that it was the Second World War rather than the process of de Stalinization that had the greatest impact on the masculine ideal proving that even under the constraints of Socialist Realism the physical and emotional devastation caused by the war was too great to go unacknowledged The Fate of the New Man makes an important contribution to Soviet masculinity studies McCallum's research also contributes to broader debates surrounding the impact of Stalin's death on Soviet society and on the nature of the subsequent Thaw as well as to those concerning the relationship between Soviet culture and the realities of Soviet life This fascinating study will appeal to scholars and students of Soviet history masculinity studies and visual culture studies

Separate Schools E. Thomas Ewing, 2010-11-01 Starting in 1943 millions of children were separated into boys and girls schools in cities across the Soviet Union The government sought to reinforce gender roles in a wartime context and to strengthen discipline and order by separating boys and girls into different classrooms The program was a failure Discipline further deteriorated in boys schools and despite intentions to keep the education equal girls schools experienced increased perceptions of academic inferiority particularly in the subjects of math and science The restoration of coeducation in 1954 demonstrated the power of public opinion even in a dictatorship to influence school policies In the first full length study of the program Ewing examines this large scale experiment across the full cycle of deliberating advocating implementing experiencing criticizing and finally repudiating separate schools Looking at the encounters of pupils in classrooms policy objectives of communist leaders and growing opposition to separate schools among teachers and parents Ewing provides new insights into the last decade of Stalin's dictatorship A comparative analysis of the Soviet case with recent efforts in the United States and elsewhere raises important questions Based on extensive research that includes the archives of Uzbekistan and Kazakhstan Separate Schools will appeal to historians of Russia those interested in comparative education and educational history and specialists in gender studies
