February 2001 crisis the most severe economic downturn in the history of Turkey generated an emergency situation in which a series of sweeping neoliberal policies were implemented to prop up the collapsed economy To receive the necessary loans from the international financial institutions the Turkish government hastily enacted a number of neoliberal laws including the notorious tobacco law Remaking Politics Markets and Citizens in Turkey not only explores the repercussions of the new tobacco law such as the establishment of a new regulatory institution the emergence of contract farming and the privatization of the tobacco monopoly thereby making a liberalized market but also the smoking ban governing the bodies and spaces of Muslim citizens Remaking Politics Markets and Citizens in Turkey provides an innovative contribution to Middle Eastern studies filling the gap for anthropological research in Muslim countries on local economic relations and their connections with the global economy
