The Experience of Crusading Marcus Graham Bull, Peter W. Edbury, Norman Housley, Jonathan Phillips, 2003-06-23 The study of the crusades is one of the most thriving areas of medieval history This collection of seventeen further essays by leading researchers in the field reflects the best of contemporary scholarship The subjects handled are remarkably wide ranging focusing on the history of the Latin East and its place in the context of Mediterranean trade and Near Eastern political developments Chronologically the essays range from the initial settlements at the time of the First Crusade to the way in which historians in more recent centuries have chosen to reconstruct the medieval epoch Together with its companion volume The Experience of Crusading Volume 1 The Experience of Crusading edited by Marcus Bull and Norman Housley this collection has been published to celebrate the 65th birthday of Jonathan Riley Smith the leading British historian of the crusades The volume includes an appreciation of his contribution to the study of the Latin East

Power and Place Gregory Stevenson, 2012-08-06 Archaeological epigraphic numismatic and historical research is used to illuminate the meaning and function of temples in both Jewish and Greco Roman cultures This evidence is then brought into a dialogue with a literary analysis of how the temple functions as a symbol in Revelation

Constructing Spain Nathan Richardson, 2012 Does fiction do more than just represent space Can our experiences with fictional storytelling be in themselves spatial In Constructing Spain The Re imagination of Space and Place in Fiction and Film Nathan Richardson explores relations between cultural representation and spatial transformation across fifty years of Spanish culture Beginning in 1953 the year Spanish space was officially reopened to Western thought and capital and culminating in 2003 the year of Aznar's unpopular involvement of his country in the second Iraq War Richardson traces in popular and critically acclaimed fiction and film an evolution in Spanish storytelling that while initially representative in nature increasingly engages its audience in spatial practices that go beyond mere perception or conception of local material geographies In original readings of films by Luis Berlanga Luis Buñuel Alex de la Iglesia Alejandro Amenabar and Julio Medem and novels by Juan Goytisolo Antonio Muñoz Molina and Javier Marías Richardson shows this formal evolution as a necessary response to developments restorations and transformations of local landscapes that resulted during these years from various human migrations tourist invasions urban development plans resurgent nationalisms and finally globalization As these changes occur Richardson traces a shift in the works studied from mere representation of spatial change toward actual engagement with shifting physical and social geographies as they inch ever closer toward the production of an actual spatial experience for their audiences In the final chapters of this book Richardson offers in depth and highly original readings of the storytelling projects of Medem and Marías in particular showing how these two artists invite readers to not only reconceive hegemonic notions of space and place but to practice alternative notions of being in place In these final readings Constructing Spain points to the newest developments in contemporary Spanish narrative and film a rise of new grammars of creation to challenge the ongoing capital driven creative destruction of globalized Spanish geography

The Other Side of Zen Duncan Ryūken Williams, 2021-06-08 Popular understanding of Zen Buddhism typically involves a stereotyped image of isolated individuals in meditation contemplating nothingness This book presents the other side of Zen by examining the movement's explosive growth during the Tokugawa period 1600-1867 in Japan and by shedding light on the broader Japanese religious landscape during the era Using newly discovered manuscripts Duncan Ryūken Williams argues that the success of Soto Zen was due neither to what is most often associated with the sect Zen meditation nor to the teachings of its medieval founder Dogen but rather to the social benefits it conveyed Zen Buddhism promised followers many tangible and attractive rewards including the bestowal of such perquisites as healing rain making and fire protection as well as funerary Zen rites that assured salvation in the next world Zen temples also provided for the orderly registration of the entire Japanese populace as ordered by the Tokugawa government which led to stable parish membership Williams investigates both the sect's distinctive religious and ritual practices and its nonsectarian participation in broader currents of Japanese life While much previous work on the subject has consisted of passages on great medieval Zen masters and their thoughts strung together and then published as the history of Zen Williams work is based on careful examination of archival sources including temple logbooks prayer and funerary manuals death registries miracle tales of popular Buddhist deities secret initiation papers villagers diaries and fund raising donor lists

Do We Still Need Inspiration? Matthieu Richelle, Camilla Recalcati, Martijn Beukenhorst, 2023-11-20 The concept of inspiration is part and parcel of the theological tradition in several religious confessions but it has largely receded to the background if not vanished altogether in the discussions of biblical scholars The question Do we still need inspiration might well reflect the perplexity of many exegetes today Systematic theologians for their part often further their own reflections on the subject independently of developments in the field of exegesis with the risk of remaining purely theoretical Biblical research in the last decades has been marked by new insights about the nature of the biblical texts stemming from the study of their inner plurality insofar as they combine and sometimes intertwine conflicting theologies of their textual fluidity and of their reception Can these new insights be integrated into a theological reflection on the notion of inspiration These questions are often explicitly raised about the Jewish and Christian Scriptures but they also prove increasingly relevant for Qur'anic studies This volume addresses them through contributions from exegetes of the Bible and of the Qur'an and systematic theologians

The Sea Can Wash Away All Evils Kimberley Christine Patton, 2007 Kimberley Patton examines the environmental crises facing the world's oceans from the perspective of religious history Much as the ancient Greeks believed and Euripides wrote that the sea can wash away all evils a wide range of cultures have sacralized the sea trusting in its power to wash away what is dangerous dirty and morally contaminating The sea makes life on land possible by keeping it pure Patton sets out to learn whether the treatment of the world's oceans by industrialized nations arises from the same faith in their infinite and regenerative qualities Indeed the sea's natural characteristics such as its vast size and depth chronic motion and chaos seeming biotic inexhaustibility and unique composition of powerful purifiers salt and water support a view of the sea as a no place capable of swallowing limitless amounts of waste And despite evidence to the contrary the idea that the oceans could be harmed by wasteful and reckless practices has been slow to take hold Patton believes that environmental scientists and ecological advocates ignore this relationship at great cost She bases her argument on three influential stories Euripides tragedy Iphigenia in Tauris an Inuit myth about the wild and angry sea spirit Sedna who lives on the ocean floor with hair dirtied by human transgression and a disturbing medieval Hindu tale of a lethal underwater mare She also studies narratives in which the sea spits back its contents sins corpses evidence of guilt long sequestered suggesting that there are limits to the ocean's vast salty heart In these stories the sea is either an agent of destruction or a giver of life yet it is also treated as a passive receptacle Combining a history of this ambivalence toward the world's oceans with a serious scientific analysis of modern marine pollution Patton writes a compelling cross disciplinary study that couldn't be more urgent or timely Sinners on Trial Magda Teter, 2011-05-01 Criminal law became a key tool in the effort to legitimize Church authority in post Reformation Poland Recounting dramatic stories of torture trial and punishment involving Christians and Jews this is the first book to consider the sacrilege accusations of the early modern period within the broader context of politics and common crime Jerusalem and Its Role in Islamic Solidarity Y. Reiter, 2008-05-26 The book deals with the role of Jerusalem as a central religious political symbol and with the processes by which symbols of faith and sanctity are being employed in a political struggle It examines the current Islamic ethos towards Jerusalem and the affinity between this religious ethos and the political aspirations of the Palestinians and other Arab and Islamic groups It also compares current Jewish and Muslim narratives and processes of denial and de legitimizing the affiliation of the other to the holy city and its sacred shrines and addresses the question whether religious outlook forms a major barrier for achieving peace in the Israeli Arab arena The Concept of the Elect Nation in Byzantium Shay Eshel, 2018-03-20 In The Concept of the Elect Nation in Byzantium Shay Eshel shows how the Old Testament model of the ancient Israelites was a prominent factor in the evolution of Roman Byzantine national awareness between the 7th and 13th centuries The Byzantines interpretation of the 7th century epic events as manifestations of God's wrath enabled them to incorporate the events into a paradigm which they now embraced the Old Testament paradigm of the Israelite Elect Nation's complex relationship with God a cyclic relation of sin wrath punishment repentance and salvation The Elect Nation concept enabled the Byzantines to express the shift in their collective identity toward a shrunken yet more clearly defined national awareness The City Lament Tamar M. Boyadjian, 2018-12-15 Poetic elegies for lost or fallen cities are seemingly as old as cities themselves In the Judeo Christian tradition this genre finds its purest expression in the book of Lamentations which mourns the destruction of Jerusalem in Arabic this genre is known as the ritha al mudun In The City Lament Tamar M Boyadjian traces the trajectory of the genre across the Mediterranean world during the period commonly referred to as the early Crusades 1095-1191 focusing on elegies and other expressions of loss that address the spiritual and strategic objective of those wars Jerusalem Through readings of city laments in English French Latin Arabic and Armenian literary traditions Boyadjian challenges hegemonic and entrenched approaches to the study of medieval literature and the Crusades The City Lament exposes significant literary intersections between Latin Christendom the Islamic caliphates of the Middle East and the Armenian kingdom of Cilicia arguing for shared poetic and rhetorical modes Reframing our understanding of literary sources produced across the medieval Mediterranean from an antagonistic orientalist model to an analogous one Boyadjian demonstrates how lamentations about the loss of Jerusalem whether to Muslim or Christian forces reveal fascinating parallels and rich cross cultural exchanges Mari and the Bible Abraham Malamat, 2023-08-14 The town of Mari is situated on the Euphrates near the eastern Syrian border This study compares the 18th century BC Old Babylonian texts from Mari with the Hebrew Scriptures and the early history of Israel Given the West Semitic or Amorite character of both Mari and the Bible this comparison may rightly be called imperative Mari and the Bible contains 22 chapters of essays both old and new conveniently assembled here and divided into three sections 1 Mari and the West dealing with Mari documents pertaining to Syria and Palestine as well as the Mediterranean region 2 Prophecy dealing with Mari prophetic texts particularly those recently published as compared to Biblical prophecy 3 Customs and Society also including topics such as female royal correspondence the royal harem the epithet Great King and king lists involving the cult of the dead

The Abiding Presence Mark Scarlata, 2018 With an emphasis on the nature and importance of divine presence The Abiding Presence provides a unique perspective on the overarching theology of Exodus drawing particular attention to God's revelation at the burning bush Sinai and the tabernacle Exploring the rich theological themes that emerge from the final form of the narrative the commentary also reflects on how these themes were employed by New Testament authors in understanding the life and ministry of Christ Bridging the gap between accessibility and scholarly rigour this commentary offers an excellent tool for ordinands students teachers in higher education and preachers to engage with the theology of the book in its Old Testament context as well as how its message is revealed in the New Testament and continues to speak today Contents 1 Introduction 2 Presence in Absence 1 1 2 25 3 Presence in a Name 3 1 7 7 4 Presence in Creation 7 8 15 21 5 Wandering in the Wilderness 15 22 18 27 6 Divine Presence Holiness and Law 19 1 24 18 7 Creating Space for the Divine 25 1 31 18 8 Sin at Sinai 32 1 34 35 9 The Abiding Presence and the Climax of Creation 35 1 40 38

Buddhism and Iconoclasm in East Asia Fabio Rambelli, Eric Reinders, 2012-09-06 This is a cross cultural study of the multifaceted relations between Buddhism its materiality and instances of religious violence and destruction in East Asia which remains a vast and still largely unexplored field of inquiry Material objects are extremely important not just for Buddhist practice but also for the conceptualization of Buddhist doctrines yet Buddhism developed ambivalent attitudes towards such need for objects and an awareness that even the most sacred objects could be destroyed After outlining Buddhist attitudes towards materiality and its vulnerability the authors propose a different and more inclusive definition of iconoclasm a notion that is normally not employed in discussions of East Asian religions Case studies of religious destruction in East Asia are presented together with a new theoretical framework drawn from semiotics and cultural studies to address more general issues related to cultural value sacredness and destruction in an attempt to understand instances in which the status and the meaning of the sacred in any given culture is questioned contested and ultimately denied and how religious institutions react to those challenges
