Bowker, Stefan Timmermans, Adele E. Clarke, Ellen Balka, 2016-02-26 The multifaceted work of the late Susan Leigh Star is explored through a selection of her writings and essays by friends and colleagues Susan Leigh Star 1954-2010 was one of the most influential science studies scholars of the last several decades In her work Star highlighted the messy practices of discovering science asking hard questions about the marginalizing as well as the liberating powers of science and technology In the landmark work Sorting Things Out Star and Geoffrey Bowker revealed the social and ethical histories that are deeply embedded in classification systems Star's most celebrated concept was the notion of boundary objects representational forms things or theories that can be shared between different communities with each holding its own understanding of the representation Unfortunately Leigh was unable to complete a work on the poetics of infrastructure that further developed the full range of her work This volume collects articles by Star that set out some of her thinking on boundary objects marginality and infrastructure together with essays by friends and colleagues from a range of disciplines from philosophy of science to organization science that testify to the wide ranging influence of Star's work Contributors Ellen Balka Eevi E Beck Dick Boland Geoffrey C Bowker Janet Ceja Alcal Adele E Clarke Les Gasser James R Griesemer Gail Hornstein John Leslie King Cheris Kramarae Maria Puig de la Bellacasa Karen Ruhleder Kjeld Schmidt Brian Cantwell Smith Susan Leigh Star Anselm L Strauss Jane Summerton Stefan Timmermans Helen Verran Nina Wakeford Jutta Weber

Learning from Museums John H. Falk, Lynn D. Dierking, 2018-10-16 This is the second edition of John H Falk and Lynn D Dierking's ground breaking book Learning from Museums While the book still focuses on why how what when and with whom people learn from their museum experiences the authors further investigate the extension of museums beyond their walls and the changing perceptions of the roles that museums increasingly play in the 21st century with respect to the publics they serve and those they would like to serve This new edition offers an updated and synthesized version of the Contextual Model of Learning as well as the latest advances in free choice learning research theory and practice in order to provide readers a highly readable and informative understanding of the personal sociocultural and physical dimensions of the museum experience Falk and Dierking also fill in gaps in the 1st edition Falk's research focuses increasingly on the self related needs that museums meet and these findings enhance the personal context chapter Dierking's work delves deeply into the macro sociocultural dimensions of learning a topic not discussed in the sociocultural chapter in the first edition Emphasizing the importance of time and space the second edition adds an entirely new chapter to describe the important dimension of time They also insert findings from the burgeoning field of neuroscience Latter chapters of the book discuss the evolving role of museums in the rapidly changing Information Learning Society of the 21st century New examples and suggestions highlight the ways that the new understandings of learning can help museum practitioners reinvent how museums can and should support the public's lifelong life wide and life deep learning

Doing Museology Differently Duncan Grewcock, 2013-09-05 One might believe that museum studies is a stable field of academic inquiry based on a set of familiar institutional forms and functions But as institutions museums have never been stable or singular and neither has the discipline of museum studies Museum studies as a field of academic inquiry has received little critical attention One result of this neglect has arguably been a lack of invention in museum studies another is the distancing of academic museum studies from museum practice Doing Museology Differently charts a different course A critical creative reflection on academic practice the book takes the form of a narrative account of museological fieldwork A research story unfolds challenging academic conventions at the level of its own presentation the book combines critical museum visiting with an autobiographical voice The identification of a previously underexplored interdisciplinary space leads the author to experiment with museum studies using contemporary developments in the theory and practice of human geography The new approaches to museological research and representation that emerge from this unique inquiry challenge assumed institutional and intellectual boundaries and act as a call to further creative experimentation

Souvenirs of the Fur Trade Mary Malloy, Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology, 2000-12-18 American mariners made more than 175 voyages to the Northwest Coast during the half century after 1787 The art and culture of Northwest Coast Indians so intrigued American sailors that the collecting of ethnographic artifacts became an important secondary trade Malloy has brought details about these early collections together for the first time
