branches taking apprentices it follows as a natural consequence that there are many workmen who are thoroughly efficient only in the branch in which they have been specially trained It will frequently happen from slackness in a particular branch of trade or from a other cause that a workman is compelled to turn his hand to another branch and he then finds that he must place himself under an obligation to others for instruction By all such workmen this little book will be found of value as well as by apprentices and country work men unaccustomed to many of the branches of the trade treated of in these pages amateurs also who take delight in the art will find the book of great service and lastly it is hoped it may prove useful as a work of reference to the trade in general The information given is based on an experience of twenty five years as a general Cabinet maker and can be relied upon All necessary instructions for veneering and inlaying in fancy woods for both flat and shaped surfaces will be found here and the process of dyeing veneers throughout their entire thickness so little known to the trade is also fully treated of as well as the working and staining of ivory marqueterie buhl work etc and the construction of various kinds of dining tables Many valuable recipes are also given and much information of a miscellaneous character as will be seen from a glance through the following Contents      Householder's Survival Manual ,1999 Donated by Mr Elmer Winter
