Connected Histories Eva Pfanzelter, Dirk Rupnow, Éva Kovács, Marianne Windsperger, 2024-09-23 The World Wide Web WWW and digitisation have become important sites and tools for the history of the Holocaust and its commemoration Today some memory institutions use the Internet at a high professional level as a venue for self presentation and as a forum for the discussion of Holocaust related topics for potentially international transcultural and interdisciplinary user groups At the same time it is not always the established institutions that utilise the technical possibilities and potential of the Internet to the maximum Creative and sometimes controversial new forms of storytelling of the Holocaust or more traditional ways of remembering the genocide presented in a new way with digital media often come from people or groups who are not in the realm of influence of the large memorial sites museums and archives Such private stagings have experienced a particular upswing since the boom of social media This democratisation of Holocaust memory and history is crucial though it is as yet undecided how much it will ultimately reinforce old structures and cultural regional or other inequalities or reinvent them The Digital space as an arbitrary and limitless archive for the mediation of the Holocaust spanning from Russia to Brazil is at the centre of the essays collected in this volume This space is also considered as a forum for negotiation a meeting place and a battleground for generations and stories and as such offers the opportunity to reconsider the transgenerational transmission of trauma family histories and communication Here it becomes evident there are new societal intentions and decision making structures that exceed the capabilities of traditional mass media and thrive on the participation of a broad public

Imagining Europe Chiara Bottici, Benoît Challand, 2013-07-29 In Imagining Europe Chiara Bottici and Benoît Challand explore the formation of modern European identity Europe has not always been there although we have been imagining it for quite some time Even after the birth of a polity called the European Union the meaning of Europe remained a very much contested topic What is Europe What are its boundaries Is there a specific European identity or is the EU just the name for a group of institutions This book answers these questions showing that in Europe's formation myth and memory although distinct are often merged in a common attempt to construct an identity for its present and its future In a time when Europe is facing an existential crisis when its meaning is being questioned Imagining Europe explores a vital and often unacknowledged aspect of the European project

The Abbe Gregoire and the French Revolution Alyssa Goldstein Sepinwall, 2021-06-08 In this age of globalization the eighteenth century priest and abolitionist Henri Grégoire has often been called a man ahead of his time An icon of antiracism a hero to people from Ho Chi Minh to French Jews Grégoire has been particularly celebrated since 1989 when the French government placed him in the Pantheon as a model of ideals of universalism and human rights In this beautifully written biography based on newly discovered and previously overlooked material we gain access for the first time to the full complexity of Gr goire s intellectual and political universe as well as the compelling nature of his persona His life offers an extraordinary vantage from which to view large issues in European and world history in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries and provides provocative insights into many of the prevailing tensions ideals and paradoxes of the twenty first century Focusing on Gr goire s idea of regeneration that people could literally be made anew Sepinwall argues that revolutionary universalism was more complicated than it appeared Tracing the Revolution s long term legacy she suggests that while it spread concepts of equality and liberation throughout the world its ideals also helped to justify colonialism and conquest
