Season Of Youth The Bildungsroman From Dickens To Golding:

Season of Youth Jerome Hamilton Buckley, 1974 Nineteenth-Century Lives Jerome Hamilton Buckley, 1989 In this unique collection of essays ten distinguished critics and biographers consider what it means to narrate a life Their illustrative texts are largely taken from nineteenth century biography autobiography and the novel but narrative is the broader genre that unites their various inquiries The principal issues are framed by Margaret Atwood J Hillis Miller and Phyllis Rose Atwood compares and contrasts the biographer and the novelist as creators of narratives emphasizing that the difference is in the ground rules Determining what these ground rules are is a recurring theme in these essays Some of the subjects discussed are the boundaries of fact and fiction the professed power of the narrator and the figurative underpinnings of autobiography Many of these pieces are delightful and provocative biographical and autobiographical excursions in themselves Atwood describes her early fear of biography Morton Cohen narrates an exciting bit of detective work he conducted into the life of Lewis Carroll and John Rosenberg gives a vivid and frequently revisionary reading of many aspects of Darwin s life Other critics Carl Woodring Richard Altick Norman Kelvin Margaret Stetz and Robert Kiely consider related topics The contributors as well as the editors have all been colleagues or students of the eminent critic and biographer Jerome Hamilton Buckley in whose honor these essays have been written

Season of youth Jerome Hamilton Buckley, 1974 Margaret Atwood and the Female Bildungsroman Ellen McWilliams, 2017-03-02 Examining Margaret Atwood s work in the context of the complex history of the Bildungsroman Ellen McWilliams explores how the genre has been appropriated by women writers in the second half of the twentieth century She demonstrates that Atwood s early work her own coming of age fiction including unpublished works as well as The Edible Woman Surfacing and Lady Oracle both engages with and works against the paradigms of identity which are traditionally associated with the genre Making extensive use of unpublished manuscripts in the Atwood Collection at the University of Toronto McWilliams uncovers influences that shaped Atwood s fashioning of identity in her early novels paying particular attention to Atwood s preoccupation with survival as a key symbol of Canadian literature culture and identity She also considers the genre s afterlife on display in Cat s Eye The Robber Bride Alias Grace The Blind Assassin and Moral Disorder in which the formulations of selfhood and identity in Atwood s early fiction are revisited and developed Atwood emerges as a writer who self consciously invokes and then undercuts the traditions of the Bildungsroman a turn that may be read as a means of at once interrogating and perpetuating the form McWilliams s book furthers our understanding of subjectivity in Atwood s fiction and contributes to ongoing conversations about the role gender and cultural contexts play in reframing generic boundaries

The Institution of English Literature Barbara Schaff, Johannes Schlegel, Carola Surkamp, 2016-11-07 The contributions investigate the ways in which numerous institutions of English literature shape the literary field While they cover an extensive historical field ranging from the Early Modern period to the 18th century to the contemporary they focus not only on literary texts but also on extra literary ones including literary prizes literary histories and anthologies and highlight the various ways in which these negotiate the processes that constitute the literary field All contributions assert that there is no such thing as literature outside of institutions Great emphasis is therefore put on different acts of mediation understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism's own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age

George Eliot and Goethe Gerlinde Röder-Bolton, 2023-11-27 In the first half of the nineteenth century in England there was a strong interest in German literature and German scholarship George Eliot studied German and German literature from the age of twenty Her first publication in 1846 was a translation of Friedrich Strauss's Das Leben Jesu followed in 1854 by the translation of Ludwig Feuerbach's Das Wesen des Christentums That same year George Eliot left England with George Henry Lewes on her first visit to Germany During the next three months they visited Frankfurt Weimar and Berlin to collect material for Lewes's biography of Goethe In this study Gerlinde Röder Bolton explores the impact of Goethe on George Eliot whose elective affinity with Goethe was both ethical and artistic and analyses George Eliot's responsiveness to Goethe's moral vision and the literary uses she makes of her familiarity with Goethe's work George Eliot and Goethe An Elective Affinity concentrates on The Mill on the Floss and Daniel Deronda showing how the intertextual relationship with Die Wahlverwandtschaften holds the key to an understanding of the latter part of The Mill on the Floss while the first part of Faust and Wilhelm Meisters Lehrjahre throw new light on Daniel Deronda This study with its close analysis of a range of works by George Eliot and Goethe is essential reading for anyone interested in both or either of these authors or in Anglo-German literary relations

The Souls of Mixed Folk Michele Elam, 2011-02-21 The Souls of Mixed Folk examines representations of mixed race in literature and the arts that redefine new millennial aesthetics and politics Focusing on black-white mixes Elam analyzes expressive works novels drama graphic narrative late night television art installations as artistic rejoinders to the perception that post-Civil Rights politics are bereft and post-Black art is apolitical Reorienting attention to the cultural invention of mixed race from the social sciences to the humanities Elam considers the creative work of Lezley

Saar Aaron McGruder Nate Creekmore Danzy Senna Colson Whitehead Emily Raboteau Carl Hancock Rux and Dave Chappelle All these writers and artists address mixed race as both an aesthetic challenge and a social concern and together they gesture toward a poetics of social justice for the mulatto millennium The Souls of Mixed Folk seeks a middle way between competing hagiographic and apocalyptic impulses in mixed race scholarship between those who proselytize mixed race as the great hallelujah to the race problem and those who can only hear the alarmist bells of civil rights destruction Both approaches can obscure some of the more critically astute engagements with new millennial iterations of mixed race by the multi generic cohort of contemporary writers artists and performers discussed in this book The Souls of Mixed Folk offers case studies of their creative work in an effort to expand the contemporary idiom about mixed race in the so called post race moment asking how might new millennial expressive forms suggest an aesthetics of mixed race And how might such an aesthetics productively reimagine the relations between race art and social equity in the twenty first century

Forgotten Engagements Angela Kershaw, 2007-01-01 This study is the first to examine the contribution made by women writers to politically committed literature in 1930s France Its purpose is to bring to light the work of female authors of left wing fiction whose novels are comparable to those of well known male practitioners of literature engage such as Paul Nizan and Louis Aragon It analyses the work of Madeleine Pelletier Simone T ry Edith Thomas Henriette Valet and Louise Weiss in the context of the inter war models of committed literature in relation to which they were produced Consideration of this body of fictional texts not previously brought together by literary historians shows how women were able to relate to fiction and to politics in inter war France Situating the novels within their social historical literary and political environment the book contributes to the literary and cultural history of twentieth century France The analysis of inter war political writing by women calls into question the criteria against which women s writing has been evaluated by feminist scholarship
