Seasonal Variations Of The Eskimo A Study In Social Morphology:

Seasonal Variations of the Eskimo Marcel Mauss, 2013-10-08 Seasonal Variations of the Eskimo is one of the first books in anthropology to adopt a sociological approach to the analysis of a single society. Mauss links elements of anthropology and human geography, arguing that geographical factors should be considered in relation to a social context in all its complexity. The work is an illuminating source on the Eskimo and a proto type of what an anthropologist should do with ethnographic data and exerted considerable influence on the development of social anthropology. English translation first published in 1979.

□ Mauss, Marcel, and Henri Beuchat 1979(1904-5), Seasonal variations of the Eskimo, 1991 Reintroducing Marcel Mauss Christian Papilloud, 2023-11-24 This reintroduction to the life and work of Marcel Mauss highlights his coherent and original thought both as an academic and an engaged intellectual of his time. Since his work regained attention in social sciences in the later 20th century, Reintroducing Marcel Mauss also emphasises the progression of research on Mauss's thought, bringing to light various neglected aspects of his scientific project, including his political commitment and writings. With a review of the contemporary research on Mauss's legacy, it offers a fuller understanding of the questions with which he was concerned, questions which converged in the challenge of working out alternative ways for a social life that promotes a genuinely social society inspired by socialist and cooperative values. It will therefore appeal to scholars of sociology and anthropology with interests in the history and development of sociology and the contemporary importance of classical social theory.

Key Concepts in Classical Social Theory Alex Law, 2011-01-19 This book's individual entries introduce, explain, and contextualise the key topics within classical social theory. Definitions, summaries, and key words are developed throughout with careful cross-referencing, allowing students to move effortlessly between core ideas and themes. Each entry provides clear definitions, lucid accounts of key issues, up-to-date suggestions for further reading, informative cross-referencing, relevant, focused, and accessible. This book will provide students with an Weaving Peace Samuel Kale Ewusi, 2012 Weaving Peace: Essays on Peace Governance and Conflict Transformation in the Great Lakes Region of Africa provides a unique and interdisciplinary perspective on issues of peace governance and conflict transformation by academics and practitioners from eight partner institutions of the United Nations Mandated University for Peace in the Great Lakes region of Africa. It is an essential tool for scholars and policymakers seeking contextual clarity behind the headlines about the nature and extent of conflicts in the region and how to go about transforming the region. It provides a rather nuanced perspective of the complexity of the peace conflict dynamics of the region and underscores the inescapable truth of the need for a more indigenous and context-based approach to understanding the Great Lakes region of Africa.

Factions, Friends and Feasts Jeremy Boissevain, 2013-03-01 Drawing on field research in Malta, Sicily, and among Italian emigrants in Canada, this book explores the social influence of the Mediterranean climate and the legacy of ethnic and religious conflict from the past five decades. Case studies illustrate the complexity of daily life not only in the region but also in more remote academe.

by analysing the effects of fierce family loyalty emigration and the social consequences of factionalism patronage and the friends of friends networks that are widespread in the region Several chapters discuss the social and environmental impact of mass tourism how locals cope and the paradoxical increase in religious pageantry and public celebrations The discussions echo changes in the region and the related development of the author s own interests and engagement with prevailing issues through his career

Baleen Basketry of the North Alaskan Eskimo Molly Lee,2015-09-14 Baskets made of baleen the fibrous substance found in the mouths of plankton eating whales a malleable and durable material that once had commercial uses equivalent to those of plastics today were first created by Alaska Natives in the early years of the twentieth century Because they were made for the tourist trade they were initially disdained by scholars and collectors but today they have joined other art forms as a highly prized symbol of native identity Baskets of exquisite workmanship often topped with fanciful ivory carvings have been created for almost a century contributing significantly to the livelihood of their makers in the Arctic villages of Barrow Point Hope Wainwright and Point Lay Alaska Baleen Basketry of the North Alaskan Eskimo originally published in 1983 was the first book on this unusual basket form In this completely redesigned edition it remains the most informative work on baleen baskets covering their history characteristics and construction as well as profiling their makers Illustrations of the basketmakers at work and line drawings showing the methods of construction are a charming addition to this book which belongs in the library of all those with an interest in the art of basketry and in Alaskan Native arts in general

The Social Origins of Thought Johannes F.M. Schick,Mario Schmidt,Martin Zillinger,2022-03-11 By studying how different societies understand categories such as time and causality the Durkheimians decentered Western epistemology With contributions from philosophy sociology anthropology media studies and sinology this volume illustrates the interdisciplinarity and intellectual rigor of the category project which did not only stir controversies among contemporary scholars but paved the way for other theories exploring how the thoughts of individuals are prefigured by society and vice versa

Travelling Passions Gisli Palsson,2005-09-07 Vilhjalmur Stefansson has long been known for his groundbreaking work as an anthropologist and expert on Arctic peoples His three expeditions to the Canadian Arctic in the early 1900s as well as his expertise in northern anthropology helped create his public image as an heroic Hemingway esque figure in the annals of twentieth century exploration But the emotional and private life of Stefansson the man have remained hidden until now New evidence of this other life has recently been discovered a collection of love letters between Stefansson and his fiance Orpha Cecil Smith were found in a New Hampshire flea market Stefansson s field diaries have revealed elegant essays and insightful commentary on Inupiat society baptismal records have revealed that Stefansson had a son Alex with his informant and guide Fanny Pannigabluk and through web searches and a private detective Palsson has found and conducted interviews with the descendants of both Cecil Smith and Alex Stefansson Travelling Passions sheds new light on Stefansson's life and work focusing on the tension between his private life and the theories that brought his name to the halls of fame. Palsson draws a clear, vivid and in many ways unexpected picture of the mythical figure of Stefansson.

Environment, Subsistence and System R. F. Ellen, 1982-09-30 Human ecology is ultimately part of a general theory of society. This is the argument developed here by Roy Ellen, whose exploration of the interplay between social organization and ecology in small-scale subsistence systems has direct bearings both on the investigation of human environmental relations in general and on contemporary social theory. He argues that while ecological study of non-industrial societies cannot be elevated to the status of theory domain or discipline, it can be represented as a single problematic that historically has acquired some degree of autonomy and which continues to make a significant contribution to a wider anthropology. Dr. Ellen introduces his subject matter through an extended and systematic discussion of some major frameworks developed within the last hundred years to examine and explain facets of the relationship between culture, social organization and the environment: determinism, possibilism, cultural ecology, systems theory, and ideas derived from modern biology. He follows this with a detailed review and appraisal of important recent research involving the use of ecological models, methods and data. This original and innovative study of the pre-eminently social character of human ecological relations will be of considerable interest to all students and researchers concerned with understanding the nature of the relationship between human beings and their environments.

Environmental Anthropology Michael Bollig, Franz Krause, 2023-09-04 Wie interagieren Menschen mit ihren Umwelten? Wie beeinflussen sie den Verlust und Erhalt der biologischen Vielfalt, den Klimawandel, die Umweltverschmutzung und den Umweltschutz? Das Buch führt Studierende in die Forschung und Praxis der Umweltanthropologie ein, stellt aktuelle Schlüsselkonzepte, Anwendungsbereiche und Debatten vor und beleuchtet zentrale sozialökologische Themen.

Property and Equality Thomas Widlok, Wolde Gossa Tadesse, 2006-01-01 The ethnography of egalitarian social systems was first met with sheer disbelief. Today it is still hotly debated in a number of fields and has gained sophistication as well as momentum. This collection of essays on property and equality acknowledges this diversification by presenting research results in two complementary volumes. They bring together a wide range of authoritative researchers, most of whom have worked with hunter-gatherer groups. These two volumes cover existing ethnographic and theoretical ground while maintaining a clear focus on the relation between property and equality. The book consists of the most recent work of prominent members of the original group of researchers in hunter-gatherer studies, among them James Woodburn and Richard Lee, and very recent ethnography on hunter-gatherers and other egalitarian systems.

Missing Persons Mary Douglas, Steven Ney, 1998-11-04 The Western cultural consensus based on the ideas of free markets and individualism has led many social scientists to consider poverty as a personal experience a deprivation of material things and a failure of just distribution Mary Douglas and Steven Ney find this dominant tradition of social thought about poverty and well being to be full of contradictions They argue that the root cause is the impoverished idea of the human person inherited through two centuries of intellectual history and that two principles the idea of the solipsist self and the idea of objectivity cause most of the contradictions Douglas and Ney state that Economic Man from its semitechnical niche in eighteenth century economic theory has taken over the realms of psychology consumption public assistance political science and philosophy They say that by distorting the statistical data presented for policy analysis the ideas of the solipsist self and objectivity indeed often protect a political bias The authors propose to correct this by revising the current model of the person Taking cultural bias into account and giving full play to political dissent they restore the persons who have been missing from the social science debates Drawing from anthropology economics political science and sociology the authors set forth a fundamental critique of the social sciences Their book will find a wide audience among social scientists and will also interest anyone engaged in current discussions of poverty This book is a copublication with the Russell Sage Foundation
