Mr. Collier's Letter Racks Dror Wahrman,2012-08-29 Three hundred years ago an unprecedented explosion in inexpensive disposable print newspapers pamphlets informational publications artistic prints ushered in a media revolution that forever changed our relationship to information One unusually perceptive man an obscure Dutch British still life painter named Edward Collier understood the full significance of these momentous changes and embedded in his work secret warnings about the inescapable slippages between author and print meaning and text viewer and canvas perception and reality Working around 1700 Collier has been neglected even forgotten precisely because his secret messages have never been noticed let alone understood Until now In Mr Collier s Letter Racks Dror Wahrman recovers the tale of an extraordinary illusionist artist who engaged in a wholly original way with a major transformation of his generation Wahrman shows how Collier developed a hidden language within his illusionist paintings replete with minutely coded messages witty games intricate allusions and private jokes to draw attention to the potential and the pitfalls of this new information age A remarkably shrewd and prescient commentator on the changes unfolding around him not least the advent of a new kind of politics following the Glorious Revolution Collier performed a post modernist critique of modernity long before the modern age His trompe l'oeil paintings are filled with seemingly disconnected enigmatic objects letters seals texts of speeches magnifying glasses title pages and with teasingly significant details that require the viewer to lean in and peer closely Wahrman does just that taking on the role of detective cultural historian to unravel the layers of deceptions contained within Collier's extraordinary paintings Written with passionate enthusiasm and including more than 70 color illustrations Mr Collier's Letter Racks is a spell binding feat of cultural history illuminating not only the work of an eccentric genius but the media revolution of his period the birth of modern politics and the nature of art itself

Nothing If Not Critical Robert Hughes, 2012-02-22 From Holbein to Hockney from Norman Rockwell to Pablo Picasso from sixteenth century Rome to 1980s SoHo Robert Hughes looks with love loathing warmth wit and authority at a wide range of art and artists good bad past and present As art critic for Time magazine internationally acclaimed for his study of modern art The Shock of the New he is perhaps America's most widely read and admired writer on art In this book nearly a hundred of his finest essays on the subject For the realism of Thomas Eakins to the Soviet satirists Komar and Melamid from Watteau to Willem de Kooning to Susan Rothenberg here is Hughes astute vivid and uninhibited on dozens of famous and not so famous artists He observes that Caravaggio was one of the hinges of art history there was art before him and art after him and they were not the same he remarks that Julian Schnabel's work is to painting what Stallone's is to acting he calls John Constable's Wivenhoe Park almost the last word on Eden as Property he notes how distorted traces of Jackson Pollock lie like genes in art world careers that one might have thought had nothing to do with his He knows how Norman Rockwell made a chicken stand still long enough to be painted and what Degas said about success some kinds are indistinguishable from panic Phrasemaker par excellence Hughes is at the same time an incisive and profound critic not only of particular artists but also of the social context in which art exists and is traded His fresh perceptions of such figures as Andy Warhol and the French writer Jean Baudrillard are matched in brilliance by his pungent discussions of the art market its inflated prices and reputations its damage to the public domain of culture There is a superb essay on Bernard Berenson and another on the strange tangled case of the Mark Rothko estate And as a finale Hughes gives us The SoHoiad the mock epic satire that so amused and annoyed the art world in the mid 1980s A meteor of a book that enlightens startles stimulates and entertains

the document as both primary and secondary object and the significance of conceptually oriented performance work for the intersection of photography and the human body in contemporary art Buskirk explores how artists active in the 1980s and 1990s have recombined strategies of the art of the 1960s and 1970s She also shows how the mechanisms through which art is presented shape not only readings of the work but the work itself She uses her discussion of the readymade and conceptual art to explore broader issues of authorship reproduction context and temporality 1635: The Dreeson
