Moving The Language:

Language Smugglers Arianne Des Rochers, 2023-08-10 Translation is commonly understood as the rendering of a text from one language to another a border crossing activity where the border is a linguistic one But what if the text one is translating is not written in one language indeed what if no text is ever written in a single language In recent years many books of fiction and poetry published in so called Canada especially by queer racialized and Indigenous writers have challenged the structural notions of linguistic autonomy and singularity that underlie not only the formation of the nation state but the bulk of Western translation theory and the field of comparative literature Language Smugglers argues that the postnational cartographies of language found in minoritized Canadian literary works force a radical redefinition of the activity of translation altogether Canada is revealed as an especially rich site for this study with its official bilingualism and multiculturalism policies its robust translation industry and practitioners and the strong challenges to its national narratives and accompanying language politics presented by Indigenous people the province of Qu bec and high levels of immigration

Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 1995 Handbook of Language and Mobility Alfonso Del Percio, 2025-07-21 The Handbook of Language and Mobility challenges the assumption that mobility is a new norm It maps new developments in language and mobility scholarship tracing how the mobility of language people and knowledge intersects with multiplicity infrastructures historicity new political formations and processes of world making By decentering mobility this handbook questions which processes come to be recognized as mobile and how mobility is historically shaped regulated valued and stigmatized By recentring mobility it explores its productive dimensions how it sustains and aligns with celebratory ideologies of globalization technology and agency creates value and contributes to the management and legitimation of difference and inequality Mobility here is not just about movement it shapes time space subjectivities power and systems of accumulation

Contact Talk Zane Goebel, Deborah Cole, Howard Manns, 2019-11-13 Written by a wide range of highly regarded scholars and exciting junior ones this book critiques and operationalizes contemporary thinking in the rapidly expanding field of linguistic anthropology It does so using case studies of actual everyday language practices from an extremely understudied yet incredibly important area of the Global South Indonesia In doing so it provides a rich set of studies that model and explain complex linguistic anthropological analysis in engaging and easily understood ways As a book that is both accessible for undergraduate students and enlightening for graduate students through to senior professors this book problematizes a wide range of assumptions The diversity of settings and methodologies used in this book surpass many recent collections that attempt to address issues surrounding contemporary processes of diversification given rapid ongoing social change In focusing on the trees so to speak the collection as a whole also enables readers to see the forest This approach provides a rare insight into relationships between everyday language practices social change and the ever present and ongoing processes of nation building

Ten Lectures on Cognitive Linguistics and the Unification of Spoken and

Signed Languages Sherman Wilcox, 2017-11-06 In Ten Lectures on Cognitive Linguistics and the Unification of Spoken and Signed Languages Sherman Wilcox suggests that rather than abstracting away from the material substance of language linguists can discover the deep connections between signed and spoken languages by taking an embodied view This embodied solution reveals the patterns and principles that unite languages across modalities Using a multidisciplinary approach Wilcox explores such issues as the how to apply cognitive grammar to the study of signed languages the pervasive conceptual iconicity present throughout the lexicon and grammar of signed languages the relation of language and gesture the grammaticization of signs the significance of motion for understanding language as a dynamic system and the integration of cognitive neuroscience and cognitive linguistics Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2002 Language Teachers' Stories from their Professional Knowledge Landscapes Lesley Harbon, Robyn Moloney, 2017-06-23 Language Teachers Professional Knowledge Landscapes is a collection of fourteen narratives from teachers of different languages at different school levels in different contexts across Australia This volume brings together not simply language teacher stories but also more political stories of the problems associated with school programs and contexts Highlighted through these stories are some of the major political issues in schools that impact language teachers work and their students success in sustained language study The book is conceptually framed by the work of Clandinin and Connelly 1996 and their notion of levels of stories told by teachers about their classrooms the secret the sacred and the cover stories The term professional knowledge landscape is used to indicate how teachers can critically situate their work and thereby understand it better The collection includes the stories of two outstanding primary language educators and a story of mixed success in a rural program in teaching the local Aboriginal language Ngarrabul There are stories of frustration with policy failures particularly in supporting the learning of Asian languages Many of the teacher narrators ask the confronting question What blocks language learning in Australia They offer the strategies which they have developed that they see making a difference Other narratives offer autoethnographic tracking of careers for example as a teacher of Latin and Classics Japanese French Spanish Russian and of teachers ongoing vigour and creativity in advocacy A number of teachers examine their own identity story for the intercultural learning which they then offer and extend in student learning Consistently expressed there is the need for teachers to take up individual responsibility while still being strongly supported by their professional community It is us who make the difference one teacher concludes Supported by a strong Foreword by Canadian scholar F Michael Connelly this ground breaking collection of narratives represents a form of social research in providing critical illustrations of the issues needing attention for national language education enhancement It is the only extended inquiry into language teaching in the context of an active policy initiative environment and the first volume to address the language education landscape through the voices of active language teachers Electrodynamics of Moving Media National Research Council (U.S.). Swann, John Torrence Tate, Harry Bateman, 1922 Seeing in the Dark Pauline Butling, 2006-01-01 Poet Phyllis Webb initiated new ways of seeing into the cultural dark of Western thought By blurring the axis between light and dark she redefined in positive terms women's subjectivity and sexuality which are traditionally assigned dark negative values Seeing in the Dark includes perceptive discussions on a number of Webb's collections specifically Naked Poems Wilson's Bowl Water and Light and Hanging Fire Butling shows how Webb uses strategies of subversion reversal and re-vision of prevailing traditions and tropes to facilitate seeing in the dark She also provides a fascinating analysis of Webb criticism tracing it over the past thirty years and revealing a shift in critical paradigms A chapter on biography includes intriguing archival material Pauline Butling offers important new ways of reading one of Canada's finest poets Seeing in the Dark is essential introductory material for the general reader and provides provocative penetrating analysis for literary scholars Systemic Functional Language Description J.R. Martin, Y.J. Doran, Giacomo Figueredo, 2019-10-08 This volume showcases previously unpublished research on theoretical descriptive and methodological innovations for understanding language patterns grounded in a Systemic Functional Linguistic perspective Featuring contributions from an international range of scholars the book demonstrates how advances in SFL have developed to reflect the breadth of variation in language and how descriptive methodologies for language have evolved in turn Taken together the volume offers a comprehensive account of Systemic Functional Language description providing a foundation for practice and further research for students and scholars in descriptive linguistics SFL and theoretical linguistics California. Court of Appeal (2nd Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State)., Education and Conversation David Bakhurst, Paul Fairfield, 2016-05-19 Since Michael Oakeshott spoke of education as initiation into the conversation of mankind more than fifty years ago the idea has inspired a diverse array of thinkers and continues to be invoked today by those seeking to resist the influence of managerialism and narrow instrumentalism in educational policy and practice Education and Conversation draws together papers written by scholars from both the analytic and continental philosophical traditions to offer a variety of perspectives on the implications of Oakeshott's educational ideas The metaphor of the conversation of mankind is explored together with the roots of Oakeshott's thinking in his early philosophical work the relevance of his ideas to the concept of Bildung and the significance of his political conservatism in evaluating the seemingly progressive potential of his educational ideas In addition concepts prominent in Oakeshott's thought are taken up and brought to bear on contemporary philosophical discussions about education learning and development including the nature of initiation the phenomenology of listening and the value of the liberal arts tradition Education and Conversation shows how the idea of conversation illuminates both the character and the ends of education yielding insight into the scope and limits of the philosophy of education and the character of philosophical inquiry more generally Discourse-Related Features and Functional Projections Silvio Cruschina, 2011 In this volume Silvio Cruschina uses a comparative analysis to determine the syntax of the functional projections associated with discourse related features and to account for the marked word orders found in Romance particularly in the fronting phenomena Several language specific analyses of discourse related phenomena have been proposed in the literature including studies on the notions of topic and focus in Romance but the lack of a uniform definition of these notions together with different assumptions in relation to the triggering features has led to the perception that the Romance languages show many distinct and heterogeneous properties with respect to dislocation and fronting constructions This volume is intended to complement the existing literature by integrating recent work on the topic and by emphasizing original and unifying reflections that combine and coordinate diverse elements Cruschina s investigations clarify fundamental notions such as topic focus and contrast drawing on new data from Sicilian Sardinian and other Romance varieties About Time Mark Currie,2006-10-20 Why have theorists approached narrative primarily as a form of retrospect Mark Currie argues that anticipation and other forms of projection into the future are vital for an understanding of narrative and its effects in the world In a series of arguments and readings he offers an account of narrative as both anticipation and retrospection linking fictional time experiments in Ali Smith Ian McEwan Martin Amis and Graham Swift to exhilarating philosophical themes about presence and futurity This is an argument that shows that narrative lies at the heart of modern experiences of time structuring the present whether personal or collective as the object of a future memory as much as it records the past California Quarterly of Secondary Education ,1927 E. E. Cummings' Modernism and the Classics J. Alison

Rosenblitt,2016-09-22 This volume is a major ground breaking study of the modernist E E Cummings engagement with the classics With his experimental form and syntax his irreverence and his rejection of the highbrow there are probably few current readers who would name Cummings if asked to identify 20th century Anglophone poets in the Classical tradition But for most of his life and even for ten or twenty years after his death this is how many readers and critics did see Cummings He specialised in the study of classical literature as an undergraduate at Harvard and his contemporaries saw him as a pagan poet or a Juvenalian satirist with an Aristophanic sense of humour In E E Cummings Modernism and the Classics Alison Rosenblitt aims to recover for the contemporary reader this lost understanding of Cummings as a classicizing poet The book also includes an edition of previously unpublished work by Cummings himself unearthed from archival research For the first time the reader has access to the full scope of Cummings translations from Horace Homer and Greek drama as well as two short pieces of classically related prose a short Alcaics and a previously unknown and classicizing parody of T S Eliot s The Waste Land This new work is exciting in its own right and essential to understanding Cummings development as a poet

Negotiating Lingua Francas Dr. Shahinaz Bukhari, 2020-08-05 This work was originally written as a PhD thesis at University of Southampton It is inspired by The Butterfly Effect Theories to investigate lingua franca phenomena as complex adaptive systems within other complex adaptive systems It focuses on English as a lingua franca and highlights Arabic as a lingua franca as well This study's large scale surveys and interviews are aimed to explore users in tolerance towards misalignment with standard and native language usages and how their positions relate to their reported language practices beliefs attitudes motives identity management ideologies religions context and time As a butterfly flapping its wings may cause a hurricane this work shows how any small change in any small part especially in contextual and temporal dimensions has the power to set off a string of escalating changes in lingua franca and transcultural interactions

Applied Linguistics and Materials Development Brian Tomlinson, 2012-12-06 Focuses for the first time on materials development and applications of current research and theory for the main areas of applied linguistics e.g. second language acquisition pragmatics vocabulary studies There are many books on applied linguistic theory and research and there are now a number of books on the principled development of materials for language learning but this book takes a new approach by connecting the two concerns Each of its chapters first of all presents relevant theories and research conclusions for its area and then considers practical applications for materials development The chapters achieve these applications by reporting and commenting on current theory and research by analysing the match between current published materials and current theory and by suggesting and exemplifying applications of current theory to materials development This will be an essential resource both for those studying or teaching materials development and for those studying or teaching applied linguistics
