Observing Elections the Commonwealth's Way Carl W. Dundas,2007 The Commonwealth of Nations comprises 54 nations bound by a common thread of inherited democratic principles that have been deepened and expanded over time In this work author Carl Dundas a key player in election observation reviews the work of Commonwealth election observers and identifies some of the lessons to be learnt from the experiences of several observation missions The period 1990 2000 covering 32 missions is examined and the collective experience of flawed election processes valued and weighed against the impact of local conditions to allow citizens the opportunity to exercise their franchise freely Of particular interest is the commentary on the one party military or apartheid regimes that were transformed into multiparty democracies The trials faced by the management bodies of transitional elections in creating a level playing field for the contesting political parties and keeping the election process transparent were significant and particularly challenging Observing Elections is a special edition of the Integrationist and a useful text for anyone interested in development politics and Commonwealth studies      Analysis of Mozambique's Wildlife Policies and Laws Didi Wamukoya, Valerio A. Macandza, PhD, Rodrigo Munguambe, 2017-10-18 Mozambique has developed comprehensive policies and laws for the protection conservation and sustainable use of wildlife resources with engagement of a wide range of stakeholders including local communities and the private sector During the last 15 years the main legislation governing wildlife and conservation areas management is the Forest and Wildlife Law<sup>1</sup> and its regulation However this law is inadequate to combat wildlife crimes Offenses against iconic and protected wildlife species are punishable only by fines which are not high enough to discourage the crime Additionally the enforcement of the law is constrained by limited number of enforcement agents limited patrolling equipment limited incentives and widespread corruption The increasing level of organized crime is also threatening the survival of protected wildlife species The Conservation Areas Law<sup>2</sup> was enacted in 2014 and offers a great opportunity to combat wildlife crime as it provides for heavy fines and imprisonment of up to 12 years for offenses against protected wildlife species However the enforcement of this law is constrained by the lack of its regulations Mozambique has ratified the most relevant international conventions for the conservation of wildlife and their habitats and has to a large extent adapted domestic legislation to incorporate the provisions of the conventions However weak enforcement of domestic legislation undermines the fulfilment of the obligations of the country associated with the ratification of the conventions      The Limits of Peacekeeping: Volume 4, The Official History of Australian Peacekeeping, Humanitarian and Post-Cold War Operations Jean Bou, Bob Breen, David Horner, Garth Pratten, Miesje de Vogel, 2018-10-10 The Limits of Peacekeeping highlights the Australian government's peacekeeping efforts in Africa and the Americas from 1992 to 2005 Changing world power structures and increased international cooperation saw a boom in Australia's peacekeeping operations between 1991 and 1995 The initial optimism of this period proved to be misplaced as the limits of the United Nations and the international community to resolve deep seated problems became clear There were also limits on how many missions a middle sized country like Australia could support Restricted by the size of the armed forces and financial and geographic constraints peacekeeping was always a secondary task to ensuring the defence of Australia Faith in the effectiveness of peacekeeping reduced significantly and the election of the Howard Coalition Government in 1996 confined peacekeeping missions to the near region from 1996 2001 This volume is an authoritative and compelling history of Australia's changing attitudes towards peacekeeping      Rights and the Politics of Recognition in Africa Harri Englund, Francis B.
