Mr. Midshipman Easy Frederick Marryat,2016-02-03 CHAPTER I Which the reader will find very easy to read Mr Nicodemus Easy was a gentleman who lived down in Hampshire he was a married man and in very easy circumstances Most couples find it very easy to have a family but not always quite so easy to maintain them Mr Easy was not at all uneasy on the latter score as he had no children but he was anxious to have them as most people covet what they cannot obtain After ten years Mr Easy gave it up as a bad job Philosophy is said to console a man under disappointment although Shakespeare asserts that it is no remedy for toothache so Mr Easy turned philosopher the very best profession a man can take up when he is fit for nothing else he must be a very incapable person indeed who cannot talk nonsense For some time Mr Easy could not decide upon what description his nonsense should consist of at last he fixed upon the rights of man equality and all that how every person was born to inherit his share of the earth a right at present only admitted to a certain length that is about six feet for we all inherit our graves and are allowed to take possession without dispute But no one would listen to Mr Easy s philosophy The women would not acknowledge the rights of men whom they declared always to be in the wrong and as the gentlemen who visited Mr Easy were all men of property they could not perceive the advantages of sharing with those who had none However they allowed him to discuss the question while they discussed his port wine The wine was good if the arguments were not and we must take things as we find them in this world
