of social political administrative and psychological dimensions The Russian Revolution and Civil War 1917-1921 Jonathan Smele, 2006-04-15 The Russian Revolution and Civil War in the years 1917 to 1921 is one of the most widely studied periods in history It is also somewhat inevitably one that has generated a huge flow of literature in the decades that have passed since the events themselves However until now historians of the revolution have had no dedicated bibliography of the period and little claim to bibliographical control over the literature The Russian Revolution and Civil War 1917 1921 offers for the first time a comprehensive bibliographical guide to this crucial and fascinating period of history The Bibliography focuses on the key years of 1917 to 1921 starting with the February Revolution of 1917 and concluding with the 10th Party Congress of March 1921 and covers all the key events of the intervening years As such it identifies these crucial years as something more than simply the creation of a communist state The Bolsheviks and the Russian Empire Liliana Riga, 2012-11-12 This comparative historical sociology of the Bolshevik revolutionaries offers a reinterpretation of political radicalization in the last years of the Russian Empire Finding that two thirds of the Bolshevik leadership were ethnic minorities Ukrainians Latvians Georgians Jews and others this book examines the shared experiences of assimilation and socioethnic exclusion that underlay their class universalism It suggests that imperial policies toward the Empire's diversity radicalized class and ethnicity as intersectional experiences creating an assimilated but excluded elite lower class Russians and middle class minorities universalized particular exclusions as they disproportionately sustained the economic and political burdens of maintaining the multiethnic Russian Empire The Bolsheviks social identities and routes to revolutionary radicalism show especially how a class universalist politics was appealing to those seeking secularism in response to religious tensions a universalist politics where ethnic and geopolitical insecurities were exclusionary and a tolerant imperial imaginary where Russification and illiberal repressions were most keenly felt The Annual American Catalogue ,1901 Journeys of Hope Alison Marshall, 2025-09-28 The first hand story of two people's emigration journey told through their original letters It draws parallels between this couple's situation in the 1920s and that of their parents grandparents and other relatives who emigrated in previous times and to different countries Who are the Slavs? Paul Rankov Radosavljevich, 1919 The Chinese Translation of Russian Literature Mark Gamsa, 2008 Focusing on the translation and translators of Boris Savinkov Mikhail Artsybashev and Leonid Andreev this book explores the processes of the translation transmission and interpretation of Russian literature in China during the first half of the 20th century A Companion to the Russian Revolution Daniel Orlovsky, 2020-10-19 A compendium of original essays and contemporary viewpoints on the 1917 Revolution The Russian revolution of 1917 reverberated throughout an empire that covered one sixth of the world It altered the geo political landscape of not only Eurasia but of the entire globe The impact of this immense event is still felt in the present day The historiography of the last two decades has challenged conceptions of the 1917 revolution as a monolithic entity the causes and meanings of revolution are many as is reflected in contemporary scholarship on the subject A Companion to the Russian
