Russian Oil Supply:

Russian Oil Supply John D. Grace, 2005 Russian Oil Supply traces the development of the Russian oil industry from its inception in the 1870s through the present. The fundamental geology of the two main producing basins Volga Ural and West Siberia is presented along with a review of key production technologies. The technical, economic and policy aspects of achieving the 1987-88 peak production are described as well as the mechanics of the production collapse that followed and since 1999 the recovery of Russian output. The performance of Russia's major oil companies, independents and joint ventures is analyzed and conclusions drawn on the future course of production and exports. Russia's Foreign Energy Policy Kenan Aslanli, 2023-08-31 This book examines Russia's multidimensional foreign energy policy and the emerging and ongoing conflicts with energy consuming and transit countries. Russia's Foreign Energy Policy examines whether the interdependence patterns shaped through various channels such as foreign trade, investment, finance, technology and social interactions between Russia and energy importing countries could prevent energy based conflict. Drawing on semi structured expert interviews, Kenan Aslanli challenges the one sided conventional wisdom that focusses on foreign policy ambitions and overlooks the peculiarities of the energy dimension. Instead, Aslanli highlights the complexity of contemporary energy affairs using a holistic approach that goes beyond geopolitics. He examines various energy types such as crude oil, natural gas and nuclear and considers a diverse range of actors which include energy companies and international organizations. Using examples from Europe, Asia and the Middle East, Aslanli demonstrates how the Russian strategy of using energy resources as a tool or energy weapon for foreign policy goals has a diminishing return in the long run. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of energy policy, foreign policy and Russian studies more broadly. Eurasia's Ascent in Energy and Geopolitics Robert E. Bedeski, Niklas Swanström, 2012 The Sino Russian relationship has experienced several permutations in recent decades as both states have undergone radical domestic changes including the end of Soviet communism and the abandonment of Maoism. This volume brings together scholars to address the current status of Sino Russian relations in the political, military, energy and trade sectors. In this comprehensive new volume, authors offer a detailed account on both the historical context and current status of relations between Russia and China and the geo political realignments in Eurasia. This analysis of the evolving relationship addresses global strategy, energy politics, national security, human security and Central Asian links. Individual chapters examine key issues such as China's economic ascendancy, military relations, the geostrategic position of Mongolia, Japan's views and historical background. With authors representing a broad range of current active experts and researchers working in Europe, the US, Central Asia, China and Japan, this book offers a long term and in depth analysis of the relations and potential developments in both bilateral and international relations. This work will be of great interest to scholars of international relations, Asian security and the Eurasian region. The EU-Russian Energy Dialogue Professor Pami Aalto, 2013-03-28 EU Russian energy dialogue represents a policy issue that forces us to take a serious look at several crucial questions related to the present and future of Europe such as how can the EU area ensure its future energy security when it is running out of its own energy resources and at the same time incorporating new members who are also dependent on energy imports This book not only outlines the overall characteristics of the energy dialogue but also illustrates the involved policy implementation challenges by paying special attention to the regional context of northern Europe The study contributes to diverse fields such as international relations and political science European studies studies on energy politics international political economy post Soviet politics and literature on regionalization and regionalisms with a special reference to northern Europe
