Rustle Of Language:

The Rustle of Language Roland Barthes, 1989-01-18 The Rustle of Language is a collection of forty five essays written between 1967 and 1980 on language literature and teaching the pleasure of the text in an authoritative translation by Richard Howard

The Three Paradoxes of Roland Barthes Patrizia Lombardo, 2013-07-01 Revolution must of necessity borrow from what it wants to destroy the very image of what it wants to possess Roland Barthes In the field of contemporary literary studies Roland Barthes remains an inestimably influential figure perhaps more influential in America than in his native France The Three Paradoxes of Roland Barthes proposes a new method of viewing Barthes s critical enterprise Patrizia Lombardo who studied with Barthes rejects an absolutist or developmental assessment of his career Insisting that his world can best be understood in terms of the paradoxes he perceived in the very activity of writing Lombardo similarly sees in Barthes the crucial ambiguity that determines the modern writer an irresistible attraction for something new different breaking with the past yet also an unavoidable scorn for the contemporary world Lombardo demonstrates that her mentor s critical endeavor was not a linear progression of thought but was as Barthes described his work a romance a dance with a pen

Contemporary British Theatre V. Sounds John Mowitt, 2015-06-09 This is not a book about sound It is a study of sounds that aims to write the resonance and response they call for John Mowitt seeks to critique existing models in the expanding field of sound studies and draw attention to sound as an object of study that solicits a humanistic approach encompassing many types of sounds not just readily classified examples such as speech music industrial sounds or codified signals Mowitt is particularly interested in the fact that beyond hearing and listening we audit sounds and do so by drawing on paradigms of thought not easily accommodated within the concept of sound studies To draw attention to the ways in which sounds often are not perceived for the social and political functions they serve each chapter presents a culturally resonant sound including a whistle an echo a gasp and silence to show how sounds enable critical social and political concepts such as dialogue privacy memory social order and art making Sounds The Ambient Humanities significantly engages provokes and contributes to the dynamic field and inquiry of sound studies

The Maximalist Novel Stefano Ercolino, 2014-06-19 The Maximalist Novel sets out to define a new genre of contemporary fiction that developed in the United States from the early 1970s and then gained popularity in Europe in the early twenty first century The maximalist novel has a very strong symbolic and morphological identity Ercolino sets out ten particular elements which define and structure it as a complex literary form length an encyclopedic mode dissonant chorality diegetic exuberance completeness narratorial omniscience paranoid imagination inter semiotic ethical commitment and hybrid realism These ten characteristics are common to all of the seven works that centre his discussion Gravity's Rainbow by Thomas Pynchon Infinite Jest by David Foster Wallace Underworld by Don DeLillo White Teeth by Zadie Smith The Corrections by Jonathan Franzen 2666 by Roberto Bolaño and 2005 dopo Cristo by the Babette Factory Though the ten features are not all present in the same way or form in every single text they are all decisive in defining the genre of the maximalist novel insofar as they are systematically co present Taken singularly they can be easily found both in modernist and postmodern novels which are not maximalist Nevertheless it is precisely their co presence as well as their reciprocal articulation which make them fundamental in demarcating the maximalist novel as a genre

On History and Memory in Arab Literature and Western Poetics Bootheina Majoul, Yosra Amraoui, 2020-10-06 Texts act like receptacles for an ever present remembered past or what the French philosopher Paul Ricœur calls the present representation of an absent thing They might embody an efficient remedy to forgetting but could also become a vivid testimony for exorcised traumas This volume focuses on Ricœur's phenomenology of memory epistemology of history and hermeneutics of forgetting A special emphasis is laid on the dissension between individual and collective institutional memory

The Power of

Parables ,2023-11-07 The Power of Parables documents the surprising ways in which Jewish and Christian parables bridge religion with daily life This 2019 conference volume rediscovers the original power of parables to shock and affect their audience which has since been reduced by centuries of preaching and repetition Not only do parables enhance the perspective on Scripture or the kingdom of heaven they also change the sensory regime of the audience in perceiving the outer world The theological differences in their applications appear secondary in view of their powerful rhetoric and suggest a shared genre Roland Barthes and Film Patrick Ffrench,2019-10-31 Suspicious of what he called the spectator's sticky adherence to the screen Roland Barthes had a cautious attitude towards cinema Falling into a hypnotic trance the philosopher warned an audience can become susceptible to ideology and myth In this book Patrick Ffrench explains that although Barthes was wary of film he engaged deeply with it Barthes thought was Ffrench argues punctuated by the experience of watching films and likewise his philosophy of photography culture semiotics ethics and theatricality have been immensely important in film theory Focusing particularly on the essays The Third Meaning and On Leaving the Cinema and the acclaimed book Camera Lucida Ffrench examines Barthes writing and traces a persistent interest in films and directors from Fellini and Antonioni to Eisenstein the Marx Brothers and Hitchcock Ffrench explains that although Barthes found pleasure in leaving the cinema disconnecting from its dangerous allure by a literal exit or by forcefully breaking the trance he found value in returning to the screen anew Barthes delved beneath the pull of progressing narrative and the moving image by becoming attentive to space and material aesthetics This book presents an invaluable reassessment of one of the most original and subtle thinkers of the twentieth century a figure indebted to the movies Roland Barthes' Cinema Philip Watts,2016 Roland Barthes Cinema offers the first systematic English language critical treatment of Barthes writing on cinema reassessing the relevance of his work for a new generation of readers and filmgoers Dreaming of Cinema Adam Lowenstein,2014-11-11 Video games YouTube channels Blu ray discs and other forms of new media have made theatrical cinema seem old A sense of cinema lost has accompanied the ascent of digital media and many worry film's capacity to record the real is fundamentally changing Yet the Surrealist movement never treated cinema as a realist medium and understood our perceptions of the real itself to be a mirage Returning to their interpretation of film's aesthetics and function this book reads the writing films and art of Luis Buñuel Salvador Dalí Man Ray André Breton André Bazin Roland Barthes Georges Bataille Roger Caillois and Joseph Cornell and recognizes their significance for the films of David Cronenberg Nakata Hideo and Atom Egoyan the American remake of the Japanese Ring 1998 and a YouTube channel devoted to Rock Hudson Offering a positive alternative to cinema's perceived crisis of realism this innovative study enriches the meaning of cinematic spectatorship in the twenty first century Voices of the Survivors Liria Evangelista,2013-05-13 By blending personal memoir and critical analysis Voices of the Survivors explores cultural and human responses to the violence of political repression and social disintegration perpetrated in Argentina during the so called Dirty War of the late 70s and early

80s Central to the theoretical and critical corpus is the work of scholars writing in response to the historical trauma of the Holocaust Adorno La Capra Shoshana Felman which posed questions regarding social trauma the links between mourning and memory and the role of artistic creation and its value as testimony The book traces shifts in discursive formations and social practices critical to understanding the origin and impact of the Process of National Reorganization as it was known by the military government through analysis of a broad range of sources including poetry fiction memoirs and testimonies popular music and journalism These texts explore the persistence of issues of memory and mourning within the particular conditions of Argentine culture in the aftermath of the dictatorship This significant new work will be essential reading for scholars interested in issues of violence political and cultural disruption memory and historical consciousness Discourses of Mourning in Dante, Petrarch, and Proust Jennifer Rushworth, 2016-11-24 This book brings together in a novel and exciting combination three authors who have written movingly about mourning two medieval Italian poets Dante Alighieri and Francesco Petrarca and one early twentieth century French novelist Marcel Proust Each of these authors through their respective narratives of bereavement grapples with the challenge of how to write adequately about the deeply personal and painful experience of grief In Jennifer Rushworth's analysis discourses of mourning emerge as caught between the twin conflicting demands of a comforting readable shared generality and a silent solitary respect for the uniqueness of any and every experience of loss Rushworth explores a variety of major questions in the book including what type of language is appropriate to mourning What effect does mourning have on language Why and how has the Orpheus myth been so influential on discourses of mourning across different time periods and languages Might the form of mourning described in a text and the form of closure achieved by that same text be mutually formative and sustaining In this way discussion of the literary representation of mourning extends to embrace topics such as the medieval sin of acedia the proper name memory literary epiphanies the image of the book and the concept of writing as promise In addition to the three primary authors Rushworth draws extensively on the writings of Sigmund Freud Julia Kristeva Jacques Derrida and Roland Barthes These rich and diverse psychoanalytical and French theoretical traditions provide terminological nuance and frameworks for comparison particularly in relation to the complex term melancholia Roland Barthes Andrew James Stafford, 2015-09-15 In this cogent accessible biography Andy Stafford offers a new picture of the man and his work one that helps us to understand him even as it acknowledges the complexity presented by his restless interests and unorthodox career Stafford argues that Barthes is best classified as a journalist essayist and critic and he emphasizes the social preoccupations in his work how Barthes continually worked to analyze the self and society as well as the self in society In doing so Stafford paints a fascinating picture not just of Barthes but of the entire intellectual scene of postwar France As Barthes continues to find new readers today this book will make the perfect introduction even as it offers new avenues of thought for specialists Mary Wollstonecraft and Mary Shelley Helen M. Buss, D. L. Macdonald, Anne McWhir, 2006-01-01 Pioneers in life writing Mary

Wollstonecraft author of A Vindication of the Rights of Woman 1792 and Mary Shelley author of Frankenstein 1818 are now widely regarded as two of the leading writers of the Romantic period. They are both responsible for opening up new possibilities for women in genres traditionally dominated by men. This volume brings together essays on Wollstonecraft's and Shelley's life writing by some of the most prominent scholars in Canada, Australia, and the United States. It also includes a full-length play by award-winning Canadian playwright Rose Scollard. Together the essays and the play explore the connections between mother and daughter, between writing and life, and between criticism and creation. They offer a new understanding of two important writers of a literary period and of emergent modes of life writing. Essayists include Judith Barbour, Betty T. Bennett, Anne K. Mellor, Charles E. Robinson, Eleanor Ty, and Lisa Vargo. Among the works discussed are Wollstonecraft's Vindication, Letters from Norway, and Maria; or The Wrongs of Woman; William Godwin's Memoirs of Wollstonecraft; and Shelley's Frankenstein, The Last Man, Lodore, and Rambles in Germany and Italy. Barthes Tiphaine Samoyault, 2017-01-13

Roland Barthes (1915–1980) was a central figure in the thought of his time, but he was also something of an outsider. His father died in the First World War; he enjoyed his mother's unfailing love; he spent long years in the sanatorium; and he was aware of his homosexuality from an early age. All this soon gave him a sense of his own difference. He experienced the great events of contemporary history from a distance. However, his life was caught up in the violent, intense sweep of the twentieth century, a century that he helped to make intelligible. This major new biography of Barthes, based on unpublished material never before explored, archives, journals, and notebooks, sheds new light on his intellectual positions, his political commitments, and his ideas, beliefs, and desires. It details the many themes he discussed, the authors he defended, the myths he castigated, the polemics that made him famous, and his acute ear for the languages of his day. It also underscores his remarkable ability to see which way the wind was blowing, and he is still a compelling author to read in part because his path-breaking explorations uncovered themes that continue to preoccupy us today. Barthes's life story gives substance and cohesion to his career, which was guided by desire, perspicacity, and an extreme sensitivity to the material from which the world is shaped, as well as a powerful refusal to accept any authoritarian discourse. By allowing thought to be based on imagination, he turned thinking into both an art and an adventure. This remarkable biography enables the reader to enter into Barthes's life and grasp the shape of his existence, and thus understand the kind of writer he became and how he turned literature into life itself. The Birth of Intertextuality Scarlett Baron, 2019-11-01

Why was the term intertextuality coined? Why did its first theorists feel the need to replace or complement those terms of quotation, allusion, echo, reference, influence, imitation, parody, pastiche, among others, which had previously seemed adequate and sufficient to the description of literary relations? Why, especially in view of the fact that it is still met with resistance, did the new concept achieve such popularity so fast? Why has it retained its currency in spite of its inherent paradoxes? Since 1966, when Kristeva defined every text as a mosaic of quotations, intertextuality has become an all-pervasive catchword in literature and other humanities departments, yet the notion as commonly used remains nebulous to the point of meaninglessness This book seeks to shed light on this thought provoking but treacherously polyvalent concept by tracing the theory's core ideas and emblematic images to paradigm shifts in the fields of science philosophy psychoanalysis and linguistics focusing on the shaping roles of Darwin Nietzsche Freud Saussure and Bakhtin In so doing it elucidates the meaning of one of the most frequently used terms in contemporary criticism thereby providing a much needed foundation for clearer discussions of literary relations across the discipline and beyond

Nonmodern Practices Elisabeth Arnould-Bloomfield, Claire Chi-ah Lyu, 2020-10-01 This collection of essays responds to the urgent call in the humanities to go beyond the act of negative critique which so far has been the dominant form of intellectual inquiry in academia The contributors take their inspiration from Bruno Latour's pragmatic relational approach and his philosophy of hybrid world where culture is immanent to nature and knowledge is tied to the things it co creates In such a world nature society and discourse relate to rather than negate each other The 11 essays ranging from early modern humanism and modern theorization of literature to contemporary political ecology and animal studies propose new productive ways of thinking reading and writing with not against the world In carrying out concrete practices that are inclusive rather than exclusive contributors strive to exemplify a form of scholarship that might be better attuned to the concerns of our post humanist era

Hayden White Herman Paul, 2011-08-08 This new book offers a clear and accessible exposition of Hayden White's thought In an engaging and wide ranging analysis Herman Paul discusses White's core ideas and traces the development of these ideas from the mid 1950s to the present Starting with White's medievalist research and youthful fascination for French existentialism Paul shows how White became increasingly convinced that historical writing is a moral activity He goes on to argue that the critical concepts that have secured White's fame trope plot discourse figural realism all stem from his desire to explicate the moral claims and perceptions underlying historical writing White emerges as a passionate thinker a restless rebel against scientism and a defender of existentialist humanist values This innovative introduction will appeal to students and scholars across the humanities and help develop a critical understanding of an increasingly important thinker

Writing Histories of Rhetoric Victor J. Vitanza, 2013-11-01 This collection of essays edited by Victor J Vitanza is a historiography of rhetoric summarizing what has recently been accomplished in the revision of traditional histories of rhetoric and discussing what might be accomplished in the future Featuring a variety of approaches classical revisionary and avant garde it includes articles by Janet M Atwill James A Berlin William A Covino Sharon Crowley Hans Kellner John Poulakos Takis Poulakos John Schilb Jane Sutton Kathleen Ethel Welch Lynn Worsham and Victor J Vitanza In the first essay Sharon Crowley identifies the major players and primary issues in a chronological narrative of the debate about the writing of the history of rhetoric that has arisen between traditionalists essentialists and revisionists constructionists In recent years traditionalists have demanded a more complete and accurate history while revisionists have sought a critical understanding of the various epistemological ideological grounds upon which a history of rhetoric had been and could be constructed Revisionists in their search for multiple contestatory histories have begun to critique one another breaking into two general groups one favoring a political social program the other resisting and disrupting such an approach Vitanza echoes Crowley s review of this ongoing debate by asking a crucial question What exactly does it mean to be a revisionist historian By combining the disintegration of various revisionist and subversive positions into a communal we he asks an additional question Who is the we writing histories of rhetoric The essays that follow give a rich answer to Vitanza s questions They bring the writing of histories of rhetoric into the larger area of postmodern theory raising neglected issues of race gender and class Written with a variety of intentions some of the essays are expository and highly argumentative while others are manifestos innovative and far reaching in tone Still others are summaries and background studies providing useful information to both the novice student and the experienced scholar This book situated at a juncture between two disciplines composition studies and speech will be a landmark collection for many years
