Fifty Years of Religious Studies in Canada Harold Coward,2014-11-07 In Canadian universities in the early 1960s no courses were offered on Hinduism Buddhism or Islam Only the study of Christianity was available usually in a theology program in a church college or seminary Today almost every university in North America has a religious studies department that offers courses on Western and Eastern religions as well as religion in general Harold Coward addresses this change in this memoir of his forty five year career in the development of religious studies as a new academic field in Canada He also addresses the shift from theology classes in seminaries to non sectarian religious studies faculties of arts and humanities the birth and growth of departments across Canada from the 1960s to the present the contribution of McMaster University to religious studies in Canada and Coward s Ph D experience there the Centre for Studies in Religion and Society at the University of Victoria and the future of religious studies as a truly interdisciplinary enterprise Coward s retrospective while not a history as such documents information from his varied experience and wide network of colleagues that is essential for a future formal history of the discipline His story is both personally engaging and richly informative about the development of the field

Canonical Texts: Bearers of Absolute Authority - Bible, Koran, Veda, Tipiaka Rein Fernhout,2023-12-28 This book introduces a new approach to the comparative study of sacred texts here the Christian Bible the Islamic Koran the Hindu Veda and the Buddhist Tipiaka The author demonstrates that in spite of their great differences these works show a fundamental analogy Considered as canonical within their own religious context each text possesses absolute authority in comparison with other authoritative texts from their respective religious traditions This fundamental analogy allows one to describe the growth and history of these canons step by step as a process that takes place in analogous phases that are clearly distinguishable The author follows a strictly phenomenological method he tries to understand the development of these canons in terms of a potential that lies within the phenomena themselves i e the texts while refraining in any way from assessing their claim to absolute authority In part I the author describes the development from the revelation of the texts to a climax with respect to reflection on the canons This climax has been reached in all four cases Part II investigates the crisis that these canons are currently undergoing as a consequence of the modern intellectual climate Can we expect that this crisis will be overcome by the canons And if so will they be in a position of mutual exclusion or will they form a sort of unity such as for example the Old and New Testament in the Christian Bible Finally the author traces what the religions themselves have postulated about the future of their respective canons The result is surprising the current crisis is only faint reflection of what according to age old predictions awaits the canons in the future

Religious Therapeutics Gregory P. Fields, 2002-01-01 Religious therapeutics explores the relationship between psychophysical health and spiritual and health presents a model for interpreting connections between religion and medicine in world traditions This model emerges from the work s investigation of health and religiousness in classical yoga Ayurveda and Tantra Three Hindu traditions note worthy for the central role they accord the body Author gregory P Fields compares Anglo European and Indian philosophies of body and health and uses fifteen determinants of health excavated from texts of ancient hindu medicine to show that health concerns the person not the body or body mind alone

Hindu Ethics Harold Coward, Julius Lipner, Katherine K. Young, 1989-01-01 Modern Western approaches to India often have focused on metaphysics at the expense of ethics leading many to see Hinduism as only concerned with the esoteric and the otherworldly The chapters of this book offer case study explorations that are selected and presented to invite comparisons with the modern West Such comparisons will help to remove the apparent otherworldly nature of Hindu thought from the minds of Western readers as well as give depth and new significance to Indian ideas in the areas of medical ethics social ethics and human rights The case studies demonstrate that Indian thought has not ignored deep reflection on ethical problems that are presenting serious challenges to the modern world They demonstrate that Hinduism has a firm grounding in ethics even when the most difficult questions are raised

Aztec Religion and Art of Writing Isabel Laack, 2019-03-27 Winner of the 2020 Award for Excellence in the Study of Religion Historical Studies In her groundbreaking investigation from the perspective of the aesthetics of religion Isabel Laack explores the religion and art of writing of the pre Hispanic Aztecs of Mexico Inspired by postcolonial approaches she reveals Eurocentric biases in academic representations of Aztec cosmovision ontology epistemology ritual aesthetics and the writing system to provide a powerful interpretation of the Nahua sense of reality Laack transcends the concept of sacred scripture traditionally employed in religions studies in order

Indian Asceticism Carl Olson, 2015 Throughout the history of Indian religions the ascetic figure is most closely identified with power A by product of the ascetic path power is displayed in the ability to fly walk on water or through dense objects read minds discern the former lives of others see into the future harm others or simply levitate one's body These tales give rise to questions about how power and violence are related to the phenomenon of play Indian Asceticism focuses on the powers exhibited by ascetics of India from ancient to modern time Carl Olson discusses the erotic the demonic the comic and the miraculous forms of play and their connections to power and violence He focuses on Hinduism but evidence is also presented from Buddhism and Jainism suggesting that the subject matter of this book pervades India's major indigenous religious traditions The book includes a look at the extent to which findings in cognitive science can add to our understanding of these various powers Olson argues that violence is built into the practice of the ascetic Indian Asceticism culminates with an attempt to rethink the nature of power in a way that does justice to the literary evidence from Hindu Buddhist and Jain sources
