Sacrificed Lives Kristeva On Women And Violence:

Sacrificed Lives Martha J. Reineke, 1997-10-22 Why did medieval women mystics starve themselves What caused the European witch hunts and why were its victims tortured and killed Why has the Christian West regularly found maternal figures threatening To answer these questions Martha Reineke advances a theory of sacrifice inspired by Julia Kristeva and Rene Girard that attempts to account for violence in Western culture the human proclivity for bodily mutilation and abuse and women's special vulnerability to violence A challenging and controversial book Sacrificed Lives constructs an important bridge between esoteric postmodern theory and ordinary human life as it furthers a vital philosophical debate on the question of violence

The Cruellest of All Mothers Mary Dunn, 2015-10-01 In 1631 Marie Guyart stepped over the threshold of the Ursuline convent in Tours leaving behind her eleven year old son Claude against the wishes of her family and her own misgivings Marie concluded God was dearer to me than all that Leaving him therefore in His hands I bid adieu to him joyfully Claude organized a band of schoolboys to storm the convent begging for his mother's return Eight years later Marie made her way to Quebec where over the course of the next thirty three years she opened the first school for Native American girls translated catechisms into indigenous languages and served some eighteen years as superior of the first Ursuline convent in the New World She would also maintain over this same period an extensive and intimate correspondence with the son she had abandoned to serve God The Cruellest of All Mothers is fundamentally an explanation of Marie de l'Incarnation's decision to abandon Claude for religious life Complicating Marie's own explication of the abandonment as a sacrifice carried out in imitation of Christ and in submission to God's will the book situates the event against the background of early modern French family life the marginalization of motherhood in the Christian tradition and seventeenth century French Catholic spirituality Deeply grounded in a set of rich primary sources The Cruellest of All Mothers offers a rich and complex analysis of the abandonment

Teaching Religion and Violence Brian K. Pennington, 2012-05-24 Teaching Religion and Violence is designed to help instructors to equip students to think critically about religious violence particularly in the multicultural classroom

Women, Ideology and Violence Cheryl Anderson, 2006-01-01 Cheryl Anderson examines the laws relating to women that are found in the Book of the Covenant and the Deuteronomic law She argues that the laws can be divided into those that treat women similarly to men defined as inclusive laws and those that treat women differently exclusive laws She then suggests that the exclusive laws which construct gender as male dominance female subordination do not just describe violence against women but are inherently violent toward women As a non historical critique of ideology critical theory is used to offer analytical insights that have significant implications for understanding gender constructions in both ancient and contemporary settings

Kristeva's Fiction Benigno Trigo, 2013-09-17 With published work spanning more than forty years Julia Kristeva's influence in psychoanalysis and literary theory is difficult to overstate In addition to this scholarship Kristeva has written several novels however this portion of her oeuvre has received comparatively scant attention In this book

Kristeva scholars from a number of disciplines analyze her novels in relation to her work in psychoanalysis interrogating the relationships between fiction and theory The essays explore questions including what is the value of experimental writing that escapes easy definition and classification putting ideas at the same level as character pacing plot suspense form and style And how might such fiction help its readers overcome the psychological maladies that affect contemporary society The contributors make a compelling case for understanding Kristeva's fiction as a crucial influence to her wider psychoanalytic project

Theorizing Sexual Violence Renée J. Heberle, Victoria Grace, 2009-09-11 Examining sexual violence the authors of this volume take up questions about the relationship between sex sexuality and violence to better understand the terms on which women's sexual suffering is perpetuated thereby undermining their capacity for personhood and autonomy

Nationbuilding, Gender and War Crimes in South Asia Bina D'Costa, 2012-07-26 This book gives a detailed political analysis of nationbuilding processes and how these are closely linked to statebuilding and to issues of war crime gender and sexuality and marginalization of minority groups With a focus on the Indian subcontinent the author demonstrates how the state itself is involved in the construction of a gendered identity and how control of women and their sexuality is central to the nationbuilding project She applies a critical feminist approach to two major conflicts in the Indian subcontinent the Partition of India in 1947 and the Liberation War of Bangladesh in 1971 and offers suggestions for addressing historical injustices and war crimes in the context of modern Bangladesh Addressing how the social and political elites were able to construct and legitimize a history of the state that ignored these issues the author suggests a critical re examination of the national narrative of the creation of Bangladesh which takes into account the rise of Islamic rights and their alleged involvement in war crimes Looking at the impact that notions of nation state and nationalism have on women from a critical feminist perspective the book will be an important addition to the literature on gender studies international relations and South Asian politics

Ana-María Rizzuto and the Psychoanalysis of Religion Martha J. Reineke, David M. Goodman, 2017-08-24 Ana Mar a Rizzuto s groundbreaking explorations of the formation of God representations in early childhood and their elaboration throughout the life cycle have made their mark enriching the practice of psychoanalysis and psychotherapy as well as scholarship within the psychoanalytic study of religion Accompanied by illuminating commentaries by Rizzuto the authors of this edited collection essays in this volume underscore Rizzuto s most important contribution to clinical practice rather than assert that psychoanalysis is incompatible with religious beliefs and practices or with spiritual concerns that patients may bring to a therapeutic context Rizzuto makes room for the coexistence of psychoanalysis and religion in the therapeutic setting Demonstrating how Rizzuto s work has enhanced connections within and among psychoanalytic theories of religion established pathways for new developments in psychotherapy and facilitated interdisciplinary conversations this volume showcases the compelling power of Rizzuto s work and its ongoing influence

Abjectly Boundless Professor Dave Holmes, Professor Trudy Rudge, 2012-12-28 Within a variety of practice environments health professionals often experience feelings of disgust and repulsion towards the presence of an abject object Cadaverous sick disabled bodies troubled minds wounds vomit and so forth are all part of health and care work and threaten the clean and proper bodies of those who undertake it yet this unclean side of health work is rarely accounted for in academic literature This volume employs the work of Julia Kristeva through a range of case studies drawn from care and nursing settings around the world It brings together work from researchers and practitioners within the social and health sciences the caring professions and psychotherapy to expose and highlight the important impact of the concept of abjection which historically has been silenced in the health sciences
