Complete sculpture of Barbara Hepworth 1960 - 1969 (the). A. Bowness,1971 The Complete Sculpture of Barbara Hepworth 1960-1969 Alan Bowness,1971 The Complete Sculpture of Barbara Hepworth 1960-1969 Alan Bowness,1971 The Complete Sculpture of Barbara Hepworth, 1960-69 Barbara Hepworth,1971 Public Sculpture of Staffordshire and the Black Country George Thomas Noszlopy,Fiona Waterhouse,2005-01-01 The Black Country is an area historically known as the cradle of the Industrial Revolution a thriving regioin built around deep coal seams conjuring up images of fiery red furnaces by night and black sooty citadels by day Yet today the resource rich region also features many striking public sculptures This volume provides a comprehensive catalog to all of the historic sculptures and public monuments in Staffordshire and the Black Country George Noszlopy and Fiona Waterhouse catalog each individual sculpture in detail including information about the sculptor the sculpture s historical and artistic significance the commissioning agent and the date of installation The volume also features 350 black and white photographs that document the diverse and rich beauty of the region s public monuments The ninth volume in the widely acclaimed award winning Public Sculpture of Britain series Public Sculpture of Staffordshire and the Black Country is an invaluable resource for British historians art scholars and travelers alike The Romantic Age in Britain Boris Ford,1992 This is a comprehensive survey for students specialists and general readers of all major branches of the arts in 16th century Britain It also reveals the cultural and social setting in which writers musicians architects and other artists of the period worked Catalogue of the Sculpture Collection Helen Foresman Spencer Museum of Art,1981 The Architecture of Error Francesca Hughes,2014-11-07 Why the rise of redundant precision in architecture and the accompanying fear of error are key to understanding the discipline s needs anxieties and desires When architects draw even brick walls to six decimal places with software designed to cut lenses it is clear that the logic that once organized relations between precision and material error in construction has unraveled Precision already a promiscuous term seems now to have been uncoupled from its contract with truthfulness Meanwhile error and the always political space of its dissent has reconfigured itself In The Architecture of Error Francesca Hughes argues that behind the architect s acute fetishization of redundant precision lies a special fear of physical error What if we were to consider the pivotal cultural and technological transformations of modernism to have been driven not so much by the causes its narratives declare she asks as by an unspoken horror of loss of control over error material life and everything that matter stands for Hughes traces the rising intolerance of material vagaries from the removal of ornament to digitalized fabrication that produced the blind rejection of organic materials the proliferation of material testing and the rhetorical obstacles that blighted cybernetics Why is it she asks that the more we cornered physical error the more we feared it Hughes s analysis of redundant precision exposes an architecture of fear whose politics must be called into question Proposing error as a new category for architectural thought Hughes draws on other disciplines and practices that have interrogated precision and failure citing the work of scientists Nancy Cartwright and Evelyn Fox Keller and visual artists Gordon Matta Clark Barbara Hepworth Rachel Whiteread and others These non architect practitioners she argues show that error need not be excluded and precision can be made accountable Barbara Hepworth Sally Festing,1995 Biografie van de Engelse beeldhouwster 1903 1975 Art Books Wolfgang M. Freitag,2013-10-28 First published in 1997 For this second edition of Art Books A Basic Bibliography of Monographs on Artists the vast number of new books published since 1985 was surveyed and evaluated This has resulted in the selection of 3 395 additional titles These selections reflective of the increase in the monographic literature on artists during the last ten years are evidence of the activities of a larger number of art historians in more countries worldwide of the increasingly diverse and ambitious exhibition programs of museums whose number has also increased dramatically and also of a lively international art market and the attendant gallery activities The selections of the first edition have been reviewed errors have been corrected and important new editions and reprints have been noted The second edition contains 278 names of artists not represented in the first edition Barbara Hepworth Reconsidered ,1996 Aspects Of Enlightenment Thomas Osbourne,2005-10-05 This is an introductory account of social theory and the central role of enlightenment within it Tom Osbourne argues that contemporary social theory can only fail when viewed as a science of society and rather than focusing upon the question of society or even modernity should focus on the question of human nature The most immediate and central topic of such a social theory should be the question of enlightenment However the book departs from traditional accounts locating the vocation of social theory in the system of values established in the original Enlightenment by the French philosophers and others Rather it makes a strong argument for the ethical status of enlightenment going on to analyze particular regimes of enlightenment in modernity namely those associated with the social ethics of science expertise intellect and art Handbook of the Collection Mount Holyoke College.
