Sculpture West East Two Traditions:

Horizontal Art History and Beyond Agata Jakubowska, Magdalena Radomska, 2022-07-08 This book is devoted to the concept of horizontal art history a proposal of a paradigm shift formulated by the Polish art historian Piotr Piotrowski 1952 2015 that aims at undermining the hegemony of the discourse of art history created in the Western world The concept of horizontal art history is one of many ideas on how to conduct nonhierarchical art historical analysis that have been developed in different geopolitical locations since at least the 1970s parallel to the ongoing process of decolonization This book is a critical examination of horizontal art history which provokes a discussion on the original concept of horizontal art history and possible methods to extend it This is an edited volume written by international scholars who acknowledge the importance of the concept share its basic assumptions and are aware both of its advantages and limitations The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history art historiography and postcolonial studies Art and the Higher Life Kathleen

Pyne, 2010-07-22 Late in the nineteenth century many Americans were troubled by the theories of Charles Darwin which contradicted both traditional Christian teachings and the idea of human supremacy over nature and by an influx of foreign immigrants who challenged the supremacy of the old Anglo Saxon elite In response many people drew comfort from the theories of philosopher Herbert Spencer who held that human society inevitably develops towards higher and more spiritual forms In this illuminating study Kathleen Pyne explores how Spencer's theories influenced a generation of American artists She shows how the painters of the 1880s and 1890s particularly John La Farge James McNeill Whistler Thomas Dewing and the Boston school and the impressionist painters of the Ten developed an art dedicated to social refinement and spiritual ideals and to defending the Anglo Saxon elite of which they were members This linking of visual culture to the problematic conditions of American life radically reinterprets the most important trends in late nineteenth century American painting

The Vienna School of Art History Matthew Rampley, 2015-06-26 Matthew Rampley's The Vienna School of Art History is the first book in over seventy five years to study in depth and in context the practices of art history from 1847 the year the first teaching position in the discipline was created to 1918 the collapse of Austria Hungary It traces the emergence of art history as a discipline the establishment of norms of scholarly inquiry and the involvement of art historians in wider debates about the cultural and political identity of the monarchy The so called Vienna School plays the central role in the study but Rampley also examines the formation of art history elsewhere in Austria Hungary Located in the Habsburg imperial capital Vienna art historians frequently became entangled in debates that were of importance to art historians elsewhere in the Empire and Rampley pays particular attention to these areas of overlapping interest He also analyzes the methodological innovations for which the Vienna School was well known Rampley focuses most fully however on the larger political and ideological context of the practice of art history particularly the way in which art historical debates served as proxies for wider arguments over the political social and cultural life of the Habsburg Empire State Construction and Art in East

Central Europe, 1918-2018 Agnieszka Chmielewska, Irena Kossowska, Marcin Lachowski, 2022-09-19 This volume offers a comprehensive perspective on the relationship between the art scene and agencies of the state in countries of the region throughout four consecutive yet highly diverse historical periods from the period of state integration after World War I through the communist era post 1945 and the time of political transformation after 1989 to the present day globalisation including counter reactions to westernisation and cultural homogenisation With twenty three theoretically and or empirically oriented articles by authors from sixteen countries East Central Europe and beyond including the United States and Australia the book discusses interconnections between state policies and artistic institutions trends and the art market from diverse research perspectives The contributors explore subjects such as the impact of war on the formation of national identities the role of artists in image building for the new national states emerging after 1918 the impact of political systems on artists attitudes the discourses of art history museum studies monument conservation and exhibition practices The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history cultural politics cultural history and East Central European studies and history

Undergraduate Catalog University of Michigan--Dearborn, 2011 Art and Material Culture in the Byzantine and Islamic Worlds Evanthia Baboula, Lesley Jessop, 2021-04-19 Dedicated to Erica Cruikshank Dodd Art and Material Culture in the Byzantine and Islamic Worlds offers new perspectives on the Christian and Muslim communities of the east Mediterranean from medieval to contemporary times The contributors examine how people from diverse religious backgrounds adapted to their changing political landscapes and show that artistic patronage consumption and practices are interwoven with constructed narratives The essays consider material and textual evidence for painted media architecture and the creative process in Byzantium Crusader era politics the Ottoman empire and the modern Middle East thus demonstrating the importance of the past in understanding the present Contributors Evanthia Baboula Lesley Jessop Anthony Cutler Jaroslav Folda John Osborne Glenn Peers Annemarie Weyl Carr Mat Immerzeel Bas Snelders Angela Andersen May Farhat Marcus Milwright Rico Franses Chinese Landscape Painting as Western Art History James Elkins, 2010-06-01 This is a provocative essay of reflections on traditional mainstream scholarship on Chinese art as done by towering figures in the field such as James Cahill and Wen Fong James Elkins offers an engaging and accessible survey of his personal journey encountering and interpreting Chinese art through Western scholars writings He argues that the search for optimal comparisons is itself a modern Western interest and that art history as a discipline is inherently Western in several identifiable senses Although he concentrates on art history in this book and on Chinese painting in particular these issues bear implications for Sinology in general and for wider questions about humanistic inquiry and historical writing Jennifer Purtle s Foreword provides a useful counterpoint from the perspective of a Chinese art specialist anticipating and responding to other specialists likely reactions to Elkins s hypotheses Collecting Asian Art Markéta Hánová, Yuka Kadoi, Simone Wille, 2024-02-29 Rather than centering on the well known collections in Western European and North American museums

Collecting Asian Art turns to museum collections of Asian art in Central Europe which emerged from the late 19th century onwards Highlighting the dimensions of Central European connectedness this volume explores how these collections evolved and changed under changing cultural and political conditions from the pre World War I to the post World War II periods With a primary focus on collections of East Asian South Asian and West Asian art in Vienna Prague Berlin Warsaw Krak w Budapest and Ljubljana it outlines the transregional connections and networks that gradually developed Collecting Asian Art locates Asian art across the twentieth century in Central Europe via discourse and ideology and discusses key collections and the way individual collectors built their networks It thus explores transregional connections that developed through collecting activities and strategies in the prewar interwar and postwar eras Contributors also examine the personal connections between a group of Indologists from postwar Prague and modernist Indian artists from the early 1950s to the 1980s and also discuss the systematic archiving of East Asian art collections in Slovenia A concluding conversation looks at colonisation and decolonisation from a broader perspective by approaching it through recent art historical discussions on the global dimensions of modernism By defining the region through its external relationships and its entanglements with regions across Asia rather than as a self contained unit the contributions in this volume outline how these transregional connections and networks evolved and changed over time thus highlighting their singularity in comparison to developments in Western Europe Based on recent research Collecting Asian Art reveals neglected sources while reinterpreting well known ones

Making Art History in Europe After 1945 Noemi de Haro García, Patricia Mayayo, Jesús Carrillo, 2020-02-24 This book analyses the intermeshing of state power and art history in Europe since 1945 and up to the present from a critical de centered perspective Devoting special attention to European peripheries and to under researched transnational cultural political initiatives related to the arts implemented after the end of the Second World War the contributors explore the ways in which this relationship crystallised in specific moments places discourses and practices They make the historic hegemonic centres of the discipline converse with Europe s Southern and Eastern peripheries from Portugal to Estonia to Greece By stressing the margins point of view this volume rethinks the ideological grounds on which art history and the European Union have been constructed as well as the role played by art and culture in the very concept of Europe Atlas of World

Art John Onians, 2004 Combines a survey of world art with maps showing the associations and dissemination of culture across the globe Isamu Noguchi S Modernism Amy Lyford, 2013-06-08 In a study that combines archival research a firm grounding in the historical context biographical analysis and sustained attention to specific works of art Amy Lyford provides an account of Isamu Noguchi s work between 1930 and 1950 and situates him among other artists who found it necessary to negotiate the issues of race and national identity In particular Lyford explores Noguchi s sense of his art as a form of social activism and a means of struggling against stereotypes of race ethnicity and national identity Ultimately the aesthetics and rhetoric of American modernism in this period both energized Noguchi s artistic production and constrained his public reputation Undergraduate Announcement University of Michigan--Dearborn,1985 A General History of Chinese Art Xifan Li,2022-10-03 This volume examines the progress of Chinese art during the time period of the Five Dynasties Northern and Southern Song Liao Western Xia Jin Dynasties as well as the Yuan Dynasty A special focus lies on the analysis of cultural policies adopted during the reign of the respective dynasties and their effects on the development of dance court music and drama A General History of Chinese Art comprises six volumes with a total of nine parts spanning from the Prehistoric Era until the 3rd year of Xuantong during the Qing Dynasty 1911 The work provides a comprehensive compilation of in depth studies of the development of art throughout the subsequent reign of Chinese dynasties and explores the emergence of a wide range of artistic categories such as but not limited to music dance acrobatics singing story telling painting calligraphy sculpture architecture and crafts Unlike previous reference books A General History of Chinese Art offers a broader overview of the notion of Chinese art by asserting a more diverse and less material understanding of arts as has often been the case in Western scholarship Artistic and Intellectual Practices in Contemporary China Carol Yinghua Lu,2025-01-20 This edited volume is the first internationally available English translation of key lectures and essays delivered at Beijing's Inside Out Art Museum over the past decade The book elevates a chorus of voices from domestic and international intellectuals artists curators and historians in a dialogue that reframes Chinese art from 1949 to the present Part I offers critical academic complications of the story of Chinese art from the 1950s to the present as one singularly defined and stifled by political revolution It traces important continuities and early examples of contemporary art practice to the Party's birth and consolidation of power from the 1920s onwards It relates the formation of contemporary art to the historical course of intellectual practice in China from 1949 Part II proposes China as an issue requiring historical interrogation rather than an inviolable entity It questions the efficacy of Asia as a term presents case studies of independent publishers that challenged tightly crafted historical narratives and wraps up with incisive reflections on the challenges confronting creatives and historians in China today With chapters ranging from peer reviewed scholarship to cuttngly humorous personal anecdotes its contributing authors give rare first hand accounts of navigating pertinent historical and current situations including censorship China's ill liberalism and COVID 19 This book offers readers an ear to heretofore closed door conversations in leading modern and contemporary art spaces Chinese Art in the XX Century , Issues of Contemporary Art and Aesthetics in Chinese Context Eva Kit Wah Man,2015-08-17 This book discusses how China's transformations in the last century have shaped its arts and its philosophical aesthetics For instance how have political economic and cultural changes shaped its aesthetic developments Further how have its long standing beliefs and traditions clashed with modernizing desires and forces and how have these changes materialized in artistic manifestations In addition to answering these questions this book also brings Chinese philosophical concepts on aesthetics into dialogue with those of the West making an important contribution to the fields of art comparative aesthetics and philosophy
