nature Court artists sought to represent magic as an expression of the Stuart Kings divine right and later of their policy of Absolutism through masques sermons heraldry gardens architecture and processions As such magic of the kind enshrined in Neoplatonic philosophy and the court art which expressed its cosmology played their part in the complex causes of the Civil War and the destruction of the Stuart image which followed in its wake The King's Artists : The Royal Academy of Arts and the Politics of British Culture 1760-1840 Holger Hock,2003-11-13 This is the story of the forging of a national cultural institution in late eighteenth and early nineteenth century Britain The Royal Academy of Arts was the dominant art school and exhibition society in London and a model for art societies across the British Isles and North America This is the first study of its early years re evaluating the Academy s significance in national cultural life and its profile in an international context Holger Hock reassesses royal and state patronage of the arts and explores the concepts and practices of cultural patriotism and the politicization of art during the American and French Revolutions By demonstrating how the Academy shaped the notions of an English and British school of art and influenced the emergence of the British cultural state he illuminates the politics of national culture and the character of British public life in an age of war revolution and reform
