Modern Rhetoric in Culture, Arts, and Media Joachim Knape, 2012-12-19 The goal of this book is to formulate a modern theoretical approach for rhetorical studies in a variety of disciplines in the humanities media research and other cultural studies The discipline of rhetoric originally concerned itself with linguistic forms of communication and its basic theory was developed with such cases in mind With respect to this ancient tradition there are numerous books that provide a historical overview of the field There is also a wide array of introductory works and research contributions that deal with the practice of political rhetoric On the other hand only a few 20th century academics have attempted to theoretically rehabilitate rhetoric after its decline as an academic discipline in Europe in the 18th and 19th centuries and to give rhetorical theory a modern new and further reaching perspective Two notable examples have been Kenneth Burke and Brian Vickers The book begins with the assumption that rhetoric is not merely limited to linguistic action but rather is present everywhere in the communicative world Against this background this work develops a modern theory of rhetoric and demonstrates in twelve chapters how methodical rhetorical analysis can be done in selected practical fields of application Literature Music Images and Film

Knowledge, Control and Critical Thinking in Singapore Leonel Lim, 2015-09-07 This book examines how critical thinking is regulated in Singapore through the process of what the influential sociologist of education Basil Bernstein termed pedagogic recontextualization The ability of critical thinking to speak to alternative possibilities and individual autonomy as well as its assumptions of a liberal arrangement of society is problematized in Singapore's socio-political climate. By examining how such curricular discourses are taken up and enacted in the classrooms of two schools that cater to very different groups in society, the book foregrounds the role of traditional high status knowledge in the elaboration of class formation and develops a critical understanding of post-developmental state initiatives linked to the parable of modernization in Singapore. Knowledge Control and Critical Thinking in Singapore offers chapters on Critical Thinking and the Singapore State, Meritocracy, Illiberalism and Neoliberalism, Sacred Knowledge and Elite Dispositions, Recontextualizing Critical Thinking in an Elite School, Power, Knowledge and Symbolic Control, Official Pedagogic Identities and the Politics of Recontextualization. This book will appeal to scholars in comparative education, curriculum studies and education reform. It will also interest scholars engaged in Asian studies who are struggling to understand issues of education policy formation and implementation, particularly in the areas of critical thinking and other knowledge skills. The Cumulative Book Index, 1998. Contemporary Rhetoric Howard Kahane, Nancy Cavender, 1998. Asianism and the Politics of Regional Consciousness in Singapore Leong Yew, 2013-11-20. Over the last two decades, Singapore has undergone a substantial degree of Asianization. Apart from participating in the Asian values debate of the 1990s, re-visioning itself as New Asia and a global Asian hub, and establishing Asian identities for the commodities it consumes and produces, Singapore has also repurposed its modernity cultures and ethos along similar regionalist precepts. However, even in recent times, Singapore continues to vacillate ambivalently between identifying with and differentiating itself from Asia. Responding to the challenges Singapore faces in coming to terms with its Asian identity, this book examines the complex cultural, social and political underpinnings that have shaped Singapore's mainstream discourse on Asia. Indeed, it argues that its legacy as a colonial port city, the exigencies of managing the post-independence nation-state and the larger forces of imperialism and capitalism all contribute to its politics of Asianism. Taking a thoroughly interdisciplinary approach that spans history, cultural studies, postcolonialism and cultural geography, Leong Yew reveals how Asia has been used to narrate Singapore's beginnings, revalidate Singaporean ethnic culture and to consolidate its practices of consumption and commodification. This book will be welcomed by students and scholars working across a range of fields including Asian culture and society, Asian politics, cultural theory and postcolonial studies. Singapore, a Modern Asian City-state Brigitte Sie Kok Hwa, 1997. Logic and Contemporary Rhetoric : The Use of Reason in Everyday Life Ch. Kahane, 1976. Proselytizing and the Limits of Religious Pluralism in Contemporary Asia Juliana Finucane, R. Michael Feener, 2013-10-21. This volume brings together a range of critical studies that explore diverse ways in which processes of globalization pose new challenges and offer new opportunities for religious groups to propagate their beliefs in contemporary Asian contexts. Proselytizing tests the limits of religious pluralism as it is a practice that exists on the border of tolerance and intolerance The practice of proselytizing presupposes not only that people are freely choosing agents and that religion itself is an issue of individual preference At the same time however it also raises fraught questions about belonging to particular communities and heightens the moral stakes involved in such choices In many contemporary Asian societies questions about the limits of acceptable proselytic behavior have taken on added urgency in the current era of globalization Recognizing this the studies brought together here serve to develop our understandings of current developments as it critically explores the complex ways in which contemporary contexts of religious pluralism in Asia both enable and are threatened by projects of proselytization
