The Streaming of Hill House Kevin J. Wetmore, Jr., 2020-04-13 Netflix s The Haunting of Hill House has received both critical acclaim and heaps of contempt for its reimaging of Shirley Jackson s seminal horror novel Some found Mike Flanagan s series inventive respectful and terrifying Others believed it denigrated and diminished its source material with some even calling it a betrayal of Jackson Though the novel has produced a great deal of scholarship this is the first critical collection to look at the television series Featuring all new essays from noted scholars and award winning horror authors this collection goes beyond comparing the novel and the Netflix adaptation to look at the series through the lenses of gender architecture education hauntology addiction and trauma studies including analysis of the show in the context of 9 11 and Me Too Specific essays compare the series with other texts from Flanagan s other films and other adaptations of Jackson s novel to the television series Supernatural Toni Morrison s Beloved and the 2018 film Hereditary Together this collection probes a terrifying television series about how scary reality can truly be usually because of what it says about our lives in America today     Desistance, Resistance, and Normalcy Tea Fredriksson, Robin Gålnander, 2025-03-26 This book provides a nuanced critical analysis of desistance from crime particularly through the lens of women's experiences. It develops desistance theory by interrogating the concept of normalcy highlighting how normative societal expectations cause harms on desistance journeys. Through this lens the book uncovers tensions between desistance as a journey towards societal reintegration and the resistance desisters experience when encountering state institutions and social norms. Being no longer part of the old life and not yet part of the new desisters face both familiar and unfamiliar harms. A key conceptual contribution is the book's critique of normalcy as both an aspirational and oppressive goal. The work illustrates how the pursuit of mainstream inclusion can expose desisters to both new and continuous harms. These include surveillance and stigma social and literal death gendered violence and economic precarity. By engaging with feminist and temporal criminological theories the book sheds light on how desisters' experiences reveal the dark side of normalcy calling into question whether its pursuit is wholly desirable. With its focus on the intersections of gender stigma and social control this work advances academic debates on desistance proposing a rethinking of how criminal justice systems and support frameworks engage with those transitioning out of criminalized lifestyles. It will appeal to students and scholars of criminology desistance gender studies recovery from addiction and to practitioners and policy makers in these fields.

Youth Futures Jennifer Gidley, Sohail Inayatullah, 2002-08-30 How do young people see the future? Are they optimistic or pessimistic? Do their views vary from culture to culture? Are young people actively engaged in creating their desired futures or are they passively receiving the future? What effect has globalization on youth culture? How is the future taught in schools? These and many other questions are dealt with in this volume of comparative empirical research from around the world on how youth see the future. Generally youth are considered immature irresponsible toward the future cliquish impressionistic and dangerous toward self and others. They are considered as a mass market two billion strong the passive recipients of globalization. Most recently in OECD nations youth have become fodder for political speeches they are the problem that reflects both the failure of the welfare state dependence on the state the failure of globalization unemployment and postmodernism loss of meaning and the crisis of the spirit. In the Third World youth are seen not only as the problem but equally as the force that can topple a regime as in Yugoslavia. However youth can also be seen as carriers of a new worldview a new ideology. These and other views concerning youth are examined in this volume of comparative empirical research. Studies from around the world provide intriguing answers to questions about how youth see the future and their future roles. This book will be of particular interest to scholars students researchers and policymakers involved with youth issues and future studies.

The Rise and Fall of the Future Gordon Arnold, 2020-08-04 Mid 20th century America envisioned a wondrous future of comfort convenience and technological advancement. Popular culture including World's Fairs science fiction and advertising fed high hopes even when war and hardship threatened American ingenuity and consumer culture.

promised to deliver flying cars undersea cities household robots and space travel By the 1960s political assassinations the civil rights and women s movements the Vietnam War and the generation gap eroded that optimism refocusing attention on the issues of the present The nation s utopian dream was brief but revealing Based on a wide range of sources this book takes a fresh look at America s precipitous fall from futurism to disillusionment

Untold Futures J. K. Barret, 2016-08-30 No detailed description available for Untold Futures

Visions of the Future in Roman Frontier Kingdoms 100 BCE-100 CE Richard Teverson, 2024-09-03 This is the first book length exploration of the ways art from the edges of the Roman Empire represented the future examining visual representations of time and the role of artwork in Roman imperial systems This book focuses on four kingdoms from across the empire Cottius s Alpine kingdom in the north King Juba II s Mauretania in the south west Herodian Judea in the east and

Kommagene to the north east Art from the imperial frontier is rarely considered through the lens of the aesthetics of time and Roman provincial art and the monuments of allied rulers are typically interpreted as evidence of the interaction between Roman and local identities In this interdisciplinary study which explores statues wall paintings coins monuments and inscriptions readers learn that these artworks served as something more they were created to represent the futures that allied rulers and their people foresaw The pressure of Roman imperialism drove patrons and artists on the empire s borders to imbue their creations with increasingly sophisticated ideas about the future as they wrestled with consequential decisions made under periods of intense political pressure Comprehensively illustrated and providing an important new approach to Roman material culture at the edge of empire Visions of the Future in Roman Frontier Kingdoms 100 BCE 100 CE is suitable for students and scholars working on Rome and its frontiers as well as Roman material culture more broadly and those studying the aesthetics of time in art and art history The Times and Temporalities of International Human Rights

Law Kathryn McNeilly, Ben Warwick, 2022-02-24 This collection brings together a range of international contributors to stimulate discussions on time and international human rights law a topic that has been given little attention to date The book explores how time and its diverse forms can be understood to operate on and in this area of law how time manifests in the theory and practice of human rights law internationally and how specific areas of human rights can be understood via temporal analyses A range of temporal ideas and their connection to this area of law are investigated These include collective memory ideas of past present and future emergency time the times of environmental change linearity and non linearity multiplicitous time and the connections between time and space or materiality Rather than a purely abstract or theoretical endeavour this dedicated attention to the times and temporalities of international human rights law will assist in better understanding this law its development and its operation in the present What emerges from the collection is a future or more precisely futures for time as a vehicle of analysis for those working within human rights law internationally Negative Aesthetics and Political Collapse in Eastern European and Balkan Cinema Zoran Samardzija, 2025-07-18 Negative Aesthetics and Political Collapse in Eastern European and Balkan Cinema examines the theme of political collapse in select contemporary Eastern European and Balkan art cinema and documentaries from the late eighties to the present Engaging with debates in Marxism and contemporary film theory about political aesthetics the book centers around the question of whether we can imagine possible futures through negative aesthetics which are skeptical of cinema s ability to reproduce reality in a comprehensive and unmediated manner In particular it analyzes examples of ambiguous art cinema and related hybrid documentary modes in order to invite spectators to rethink how we understand and represent the unique experiences of living through the collapse of authoritarian communism and the transition to neoliberal capitalism Negative Aesthetics and Political Collapse ultimately argues that the skepticism about political change and representing history found in these films forms an original mode of utopian thinking In other words their negativity about their own artistic autonomy is the very thing that allows them to hint at possible futures that are unrepresentable because they exist outside of the frameworks of contemporary geopolitics and our dominant understandings of cinematic aesthetics Redefining how we understand the intersections between geopolitics art cinema aesthetics and film theory the book presents a unique synthesis of film and political theory that attempts a new understanding of cinematic aesthetics As such it will interest scholars of film theory global art cinema aesthetics regional studies of Eastern Europe and the Balkans and political science Nostalgia, Religion and Popular Culture Chris Deacy, 2025-01-09 Drawing on the event of Queen Elizabeth II's death in 2022 as a central case study this book explores the way we navigate the relationship between nostalgia and religion Focusing on the lived experiences of ordinary people and in tandem with the turn to the self discourse Deacy suggests that our relationship with nostalgia illustrates the shift from objective and transcendent value systems towards the domain of everyday experience love and loss This book revisits the way we understand religion and the secular using the medium of popular culture such as radio film TV and music to interrogate the nostalgia as religion narrative The interpersonal and social elements of nostalgia are explored such as through the way radio fostered virtual communities and played a key role regarding national religious and cultural memory during the mourning of the Queen Attention is given to how nostalgia has evolved over time and how it can be understood as a religious process which transforms our lives at a time of loss and contributes to an eschatological future

Folklore and Nation in Britain and Ireland Matthew Cheeseman, Carina Hart, 2021-08-30 This collection explores folklore and folkloristics within the diverse and contested national discourses of Britain and Ireland examining their role in shaping the islands constituent nations from the eighteenth century to our contemporary moment of uncertainty and change This book is concerned with understanding folklore particularly through its intersections with the narratives of nation entwined within art literature disciplinary practice and lived experience By following these ideas throughout history into the twenty first century the authors show how notions of the folk have inspired and informed varied points from the Brothers Grimm to Brexit They also examine how folklore has been adapting to the real and imagined changes of recent political events acquiring newfound global and local rhetorical power This collection asks why when and how folklore has been deployed enacted and considered in the context of national ideologies and ideas of nationhood in Britain and Ireland Editors Cheeseman and Hart have crafted a thoughtful and timely collection ideal for students and scholars of folklore history literature anthropology sociology and media studies Reviving Citizen Engagement Larry N. Gerston, 2014-12-11 Whereas our nation was once united in purpose today it is bitterly divided Why Racial discrimination diminishing educational opportunities poor economic mobility greedy corporations and an unresponsive federal government have combined to create two Americas Presented in Gerston's characteristic no holds barred style of wit and candor Revi
