A History of Women's Writing in Russia Adele Marie Barker, Jehanne M. Gheith, 2002-07-11 A History of Women's Writing in Russia offers a comprehensive account of the lives and works of Russia's women writers Based on original and archival research this volume forces a re-examination of many of the traditionally held assumptions about Russian literature and women's role in the tradition In setting about the process of reintegrating women writers into the history of Russian literature contributors have addressed the often surprising contexts within which women's writing has been produced Chapters reveal a flourishing literary tradition where none was thought to exist They redraw the map defining Russia's literary periods they look at how Russia's women writers articulated their own experience and they reassess their relationship to the dominant male tradition The volume is supported by extensive reference features including a bibliography and guide to writers and their works

Voices from the Void Sally Dalton-Brown, 2000 Liiumilla Petrushevskaja is one of the best known writers in Russia today recognized for her versatility as a dramatist scriptwriter and author of harrowing contemporary stories and even fairy tales Acclaimed for her shocking portraits of the pain and loss that distinguish the life of women in Russia and the old Soviet Union Petrushevskaja has also created texts notable for their scandalous humor and vibrant plasticity of form This study analyses her use of genres within the context of an overall description of her oeuvre Her texts deal with stories struggling to be told even in today's Russia Her characters are all storytellers but the truths they attempt to express are often too terrible to be voiced aloud and their tales are ultimately told from within a vast silence that threatens to engulf the narrative

Women and Gender in Central and Eastern Europe, Russia, and Eurasia Mary Zirin, Irina Livezeanu, Christine D. Worobec, June Pachuta Farris, 2015-03-26 This is the first comprehensive multidisciplinary and multilingual bibliography on Women and Gender in East Central Europe and the Balkans Vol 1 and The Lands of the Former Soviet Union Vol 2 over the past millennium The coverage encompasses the relevant territories of the Russian Hapsburg and Ottoman empires Germany and Greece and the Jewish and Roma diasporas Topics range from legal status and marital customs to economic participation and gender roles plus unparalleled documentation of women writers and artists and autobiographical works of all kinds The volumes include approximately 30 000 bibliographic entries on works published through the end of 2000 as well as web sites and unpublished dissertations Many of the individual entries are annotated with brief descriptions of major works and the tables of contents for collections and anthologies The entries are cross referenced and each volume includes indexes

New Women's Writing in Russia, Central and Eastern Europe Rosalind Marsh, 2020-12-07 Since the late 1980s there has been an explosion of women's writing in Russia Central and Eastern Europe greater than in any other cultural period This book which contains contributions by scholars and writers from many different countries aims to address the gap in literature and debate that exists in relation to this subject We investigate why women's writing has become so prominent in post socialist countries and enquire whether writers regard their gender as a burden or on the contrary as empowering We explore the relationship in contemporary women s writing between gender class and nationality as well as issues of ethnicity and post colonialism A Tradition of Infringement Carol Adlam,2017-12-02 The Russian literary world was shaken by the wide reaching reforms of the late Soviet period 1985 91 and the Soviet Union s subsequent collapse During this time the phenomenon of alternative literature emerged characterized by an emphasis on thematic structural and linguistic transgression of both Soviet era values and the enduring Russian tradition of civic engagement and moral edification through literature Through close textual analysis Adlam examines the relationship of this literary phenomenon to issues of gender and creative authority providing detailed discussion of several of the most significant women writers of the period among them Valeriia Narbikova Liudmila Petrushevskaia and Nina Sadur
