The Time Machines Mike Ashley, 2000-12-01
Originally conceived as a trilogy this is the first of five volumes that chart the history of the science fiction magazine from the earliest days to the present This first volume looks at the exuberant years of the pulp magazines It traces the growth and development of the science fiction magazines from when Hugo Gernsback launched the very first Amazing Stories in 1926 through to the birth of the atomic age and the death of the pulps in the early 1950s These were the days of the youth of science fiction when it was brash raw and exciting the days of the first great space operas by Edward Elmer Smith and Edmond Hamilton through the cosmic thought variants by Murray Leinster Jack Williamson and others to the early 1940s when John W Campbell at Astounding did his best to nurture the infant genre into adulthood Under him such major names as Robert A Heinlein Isaac Asimov A E van Vogt and Theodore Sturgeon emerged who along with other such new talents as Ray Bradbury and Arthur C Clarke helped create modern science fiction For over forty years magazines were at the heart of science fiction and this book considers how the magazines and their publishers editors and authors influenced the growth and perception of this fascinating genre

A Trip to the Country Henriette-Julie de Castelnau, 2011-09-15
Translates an important example of late seventeenth century French hybrid experimental fiction that provided the primary literary backdrop for the first French fairy tales Popular with the worldly aristocracy late seventeenth century experimental novels like the Countess de Murat's Voyage de campagne A Trip to the Country were published in small format widely circulated and reprinted more frequently than any other type of fiction both in France and abroad Murat's hybrid work built around a humorous frame narrative details a trip to a pristine country estate taken by seven Parisian aristocrats and contains interpolated examples of the period's most popular literary forms including seven ghost stories seven autobiographical anecdotes one literary fairy tale one rondeau two gallant poems two love letters and eleven proverb comedies In this translation of A Trip to the Country editors Perry Gethner and Allison Stedman present the entire work in the English language for the first time The editors follow the original 1699 edition as closely as possible to preserve the syntax word choice and other lively readable qualities that were appreciated by the novel's first readers Modern readers will value the editors' extensive footnotes to the text that offer additional definitions historical referents and notes on form and structure An extensive introduction by Allison Stedman also draws connections between the late seventeenth century experimental novel and the rise of the literary fairy tale genre in France to provide a valuable context for students and scholars of the field

Gethner and Stedman offer an accessible and informative translation of A Trip to the Country that will appeal to students and teachers of fairy tale studies and those interested in the history of French literature

Texas Road Trip Bryan Woolley, 2004 Texas road trip stories from across the great state and few personal reflections

Barrier Unknown John Glasby, A.J. Merak, 2015-04-30 The logical outcome of the space race and the preliminary step towards the Moo was the manned satellite the Big Wheel moving in a stable orbit about the Earth integrating the data necessary for a landing on the Moon and eventually acting as a fuelling station for the Lunar rockets After several failures the station is ready but even there danger exists unseen unheard invisible and terrible Forced to exist in the belt of cosmic radiation surrounding the planet men die within weeks from aplastic anemia Seeking a solution to the problem Doctor Paul Russell is sent up to the satellite and here learns of the two men from the previous crew who vanished without a trace after spotting an unidentified spaceship in orbit further out from Earth than themselves

Alien John Glasby, John E. Muller, 2014-12-22 They came out of the great abyss which lay around the Earth from the planet of a star so distant that it could not be seen with the naked eye Their purpose was survival and the conquest of Earth They were alien and possessed a mysterious force which lay at the very origin of human comprehension the ability to enter into a man's mind to make him think the thoughts they chose to make him hear and see and feel the things they wanted Against such a force there seemed no defence for who could say that the man or woman by his side was not motivated by one of these creatures Who could say that his own thoughts and senses belonged to him and not to some thing seated in some alien way inside his brain

Dark Andromeda John Glasby, A.J. Merak, 2015-09-30 Earth was threatened with attack from the huge space fleets of the Hundred Suns of Andromeda an attack that the Terran Fleet could not hope to defeat Only one chance remained to prevent Earth's destruction and that was the chance that a skilled and experienced saboteur might just have time strike his blow before the enemy could launch the attack It was Captain Blair whose mission this became and it was his ace saboteur who raced against death in planet after planet as the zero hour approached when Earth would face the attacking fleets of DARK ANDROMEDA

Black Abyss John Glasby, J.L. Powers, 2014-12-22 With the discovery of the hyperdrive mankind at last possessed the means of going out to the stars Four expeditions had already gone by the time the fifth starship left Pluto for Vega Carrying its complement of scientists and military personnel they arrived at the solar system of Vega to find one planet sufficiently like Earth to allow them to land Here they discovered mystery The ruins of great cities built on the shattered remains of still earlier fortresses showing that some great race of conquerors had passed that way sometime in the past thirty thousand years No life now remained on this planet and speeding to the next sun they found a civilisation which possessed powers so utterly strange to them that one native almost succeeded in destroying them and taking over the ship And still the mystery remained for the legends of the planet spoke of a race of gods who had come down from the stars twenty thousand years before It was not until they reached the planet of a red giant sun that they ran into a race of creatures so fantastically alien that there was no defence against them and they learned the real identity of the race which had conquered the stars millennia before

Zero Point John Glasby,Rand Le Page,2015-03-31 Over the long years ships of the Interplanetary Confederation had scoured the empty wastes surrounding Sol searching desperately for a sister planet a companion for the isolated worlds of the Solar System Of the ships that were sent out many returned But always the answer was the same There were no planets The worlds of Sol were alone in the Great Dark that swirled across the boundless heavens It was not until Steve Rane and Nick Brodine in the Exploratory Ship Vega reached across the yawning gulf of light years to Sirius that they found the strange planet that rotated in its complicated orbit around the twin sun It was an event transcending all others A discovery that plunged the planets of Sol into the greatest race of all time For whoever controlled the alien planet controlled the Solar System And away from the watchful eye of the IPC it would be possible to build the greatest space armada in history and attack the Interplanetary Confederation without warning To Steve Rane the order came from Earth Central Zero Point has been set for three months hence The ship of Jupiter must not reach the new planet first

Zenith-D John Glasby,Paul Lorraine,2015-06-30 To the crew of the Exploratory Ship Canopus outward bound on the first intergalactic voyage to the flaring suns of mighty Andromeda the evil whisperings that spilled out from the nebula into deep space came as a warning This was something far beyond their previous experience Nor were they the only ones to come under the malignant influence of the alien intelligence In the empty murmuring void virtually half way between the two galaxies of stars a solitary sun streaked away from Andromeda dragging its lonely ammonia laden planet with it And it was here that the explorers first gained their glimpse of the black horror that lay straddled across the intergalactic darkness Something that had being Something that existed where it seemed impossible that anything could It fell on Klau Telph the only non Terran on board the Canopus to finally track down and destroy the inhuman monster that threatened to drive the inhabitants of a trillion planets over the red edge of madness Not until it was done did he find that the hidden reason behind the insidious whisperings was not what it seemed In fact it was something that even he with his strange double mind had never thought possible

This Second Earth John Glasby,R.L. Bowers,2015-09-30 The world that Man has known for close on twenty thousand years had been overthrown in a holocaust of atomic fire and annihilation The immense and complex system of civilisation had been utterly destroyed almost overnight and only a scant handful of true humans remained Stretched out between the rivers of radioactive fire the cities were growing wildernesses of shattered stone and brick splintered glass and silent streets But here and there in quiet places sheltered from the deadly rains men waited for the fires to subside and hoped to rebuilt something a little like the civilisation which had existed before This is the stirring and sometimes terrible story of the supreme struggle for survival when the continued existence of the human race on Earth is uncertain after such a tremendous catastrophe and when all life is menaced by the wandering bands of mutants creatures spawned and tainted by the deadly radiation Edge of Eternity John Glasby, John E. Muller, 2014-12-22 These were the last weeks and days before the end of the world before total destruction overwhelmed Earth and every living thing on the surface of the planet No one knew exactly how long they had before the sun turned nova and destroyed not only Earth but all of the other planets in the Solar System For mankind the only escape lay in flight to the stars to Alpha Centauri more than four light years distant The hyperdrive capable of carrying them there at close to the speed of light had been developed but as yet had not been perfected In a world without a future the starships were the only salvation of mankind and they could save only a minute fraction of the population of Earth Panic is there but temporarily forgotten by most as the plans for a mass exodus are speeded up as the long hours of mounting tension draw to a close and Judgement Day when the world shall be destroyed by fire is no longer a hazy time in the far future but something very close and very terrible For those who remained behind there could be no escape death would come suddenly eight minutes after the nova explosion For those who fled the Solar System in the starships untried and working on principles only partially understood there was only the long terrible journey through the endless night not knowing what lay at the end of it The Bookman ,1892 Handbook of Russian Literature Victor Terras, 1985-01-01 Profiles the careers of Russian authors scholars and critics and discusses the history of the Russian treatment of literary genres such as drama fiction and essays
