Rebirth Of Value Meditations On Beauty Ecology Religion And Education:

Rebirth of Value Frederick Turner, 1991-01-30 Rebirth of Value takes as its starting point the emerging scientific view of the universe as a free unpredictable self ordering evolutionary process in which our own cultural history plays a leading part. It outlines some of the startling implications of this view for contemporary art literature theater ecological ethics human studies religion and education. Turner goes beyond the current fashions of postmodern eclecticism deconstructive critique and self consciousness about genre and ideology. Instead he seeks out the creative and positive forces in contemporary culture that underlie the surface features and identifies potent new themes and ideas that drive the trends. Among these are the recovery of a pan cultural human nature beauty as a real evolutionary tendency the efficacy and reality of values in general the reunion of the arts sciences and technology a new science including the theory of non linear and self organizing systems top down as well as bottom up causality and a broader conception of causality in general. Other themes and ideas discussed are a new environmental ethic in which humans can play a constructive and leading part in the evolution of nature a conception of history as driven by values cybernetic technology as a spiritual development a new religious consciousness including a rich syncretism and a renewal of ritual eternity as a more intense form of time and the essential unity coherence and fertility of knowledge.

Centering Educational Administration Robert J. Starratt, 2003-04-02 In this book Starratt enters the national conversation among educational administration scholars and practitioners about what constitutes the core of their knowledge and practice. In Part I he develops three main themes: cultivating meaning community and moral responsibility which he then positions against national themes about the core of educational administration: school improvement democratic community and social justice. Rather than focusing on the routine managerial tasks normally associated with school administration: budgeting personnel and legal problems time and resource management etc. this text asks aspiring school leaders to reflect first on the underlying philosophical and sociological perspectives that constitute the substance of administrative work in education. Centering Educational Administration provides A Unique Perspective on Leadership. The author views leadership as organically related to teaching and learning as concerned with internal capacity building in response to state imposed accountability pressures and as an existential process of writing one's autobiography through their day to day work. An Interdisciplinary View of Educational Administration Centering Educational Administration asks educational administrators to bring contemporary philosophical ethical and anthropological issues as well as learning theory social theory and political theory into their thinking about the daily operation of the school. A Unique Perspective on School Improvement. This text asserts that school improvement narrowly defined as improving results on high stakes tests can likewise place the nation at risk. An equally important agenda is teaching the young the basic satisfactions norms and potential of using their knowledge in the service of the community and of a wider humanity. Exercises in Reflective Practice. This book challenges the reader to use the ideas of each chapter to analyze the current practices in their school and to propose concrete changes to improve the teaching and learning environment of their school Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa Natural Religion Frederick Turner, 2017-07-12 There is widespread belief that the world's religions contradict each other It follows that if one religion is true the others must be false an assumption that implies and may actually create religious strife In Natural Religion acclaimed poet critic and essayist Frederick Turner sets out to show that the natural world offers grounds for stating that all religions are in some respect true Through the ages various ways have been proposed to resolve religious differences Some argue for the destruction of all religions but one's own Others substitute an abstract principle for the real ritual and moral practice of religion Still others doubt all religious truth and consequently all truth Others accept a kind of pluralistic relativism This book explores syncretism whereby all religions are seen as grasping the same strange and complex reality but by very different means and handles The idea that all religions are true raises a supervening question if so what must the real physical universe be like Turner approaches these questions in terms of scientific inquiry There is not enough room in space itself to fit in all theologies but there may be enough room in time if new scientific descriptions of time's nature are to be believed Turner argues that in the time models of contemporary cosmological and evolutionary science all times may be connected and time may be infinitely branched and causally looped so that both forward in time and backward in time factors may be in operation in the same event Thus the fundamental substance of the universe may be information rather than matter or energy The universe is more like a vast living organism than a vast machine Turner argues that all existing religions can be shown to fit into this model which in turn points to deeper implications of religious doctrines languages and practices There would be plenty of room in such a view of time for a tree of different yet linked religious w

Beyond Preservation A. Dwight Baldwin, Judith De Luce, Carl Pletsch, 1994 Placing Nature on the Borders of Religion, Philosophy and Ethics Dr Forrest Clingerman, Mr Mark H Dixon, 2013-06-28 The natural world has been humanized even areas thought to be wilderness bear the marks of human impact But this human impact is not simply physical At the emergence of the environmental movement the focus was on human effects on nature More recently however the complexity of the term nature has led to fruitful debates and the recognition of how human individuals and cultures interpret their environments This book furthers the dialogue on religion ethics and the environment by exploring three interrelated concepts to recreate to replace and to restore Through interdisciplinary dialogue the authors illuminate certain unique dimensions at the crossroads between finding value creating value and reflecting on one's place in the world Each of these terms has diverse religious ethical and scientific connotations Each converges on the ways in which humans both think about and act upon their surroundings And each radically questions the damaging conceptual divisions between nature and culture human and environment and scientific explanation and religious ethical understanding This book self consciously reflects on the intersections of environmental philosophy environmental theology and religion and ecology stressing the importance of how place interprets us and how we interpret place In addition to its contribution to environmental philosophy this work is a unique volume in its serious engagement with theology and religious studies on the issues of ecological restoration and the meaning of place

The Botany of Desire Michael Pollan, 2001-06-12 The book that helped make Michael Pollan the New York Times bestselling author of Cooked and The Omnivore s Dilemma one of the most trusted food experts in America In 1637 one Dutchman paid as much for a single tulip bulb as the going price of a town house in Amsterdam Three and a half centuries later Amsterdam is once again the mecca for people who care passionately about one particular plant though this time the obsessions revolves around the intoxicating effects of marijuana rather than the visual beauty of the tulip How could flowers of all things become such objects of desire that they can drive men to financial ruin In The Botany of Desire Michael Pollan argues that the answer lies at the heart of the intimately reciprocal relationship between people and plants In telling the stories of four familiar plant species that are deeply woven into the fabric of our lives Pollan illustrates how they evolved to satisfy humankind s most basic yearnings and by doing so made themselves indispensable For just as we ve benefited from these plants the plants in the grand co evolutionary scheme that Pollan evokes so brilliantly have done well by us The sweetness of apples for example induced the early Americans to spread the species giving the tree a whole new continent in which to blossom So who is really domesticating whom Weaving fascinating anecdotes and accessible science into gorgeous prose Pollan takes us on an absorbing journey that will change the way we think about our place in nature
