Postmodern Architecture in Socialist Poland Florian Urban, 2020-12-13 Garish churches gabled panel blocks neo historical tenements this book is about these and other architectural oddities that emerged in Poland between 1975 and 1989 a period characterised by the decline of the authoritarian socialist regime and waves of political protest During that period committed architects defied repressive politics and persistent shortages and designed houses and churches which adapted eclectic historical forms and geometric volumes and were based on traditional typologies These buildings show a very different background of postmodernism far removed from the debates over Robert Venturi Philip Johnson or Prince Charles in Western Europe and North America a context in which postmodern architecture stood not for world weary irony in an economically saturated society but for individualised counter propositions to a collectivist ideology for a yearning for truth and spiritual values and for a discourse on distinctiveness and national identity Postmodern Architecture in Socialist Poland argues that this new architecture marked the beginning of socio political transformation and at the same time showed postmodernism's reconciliatory potential In light of massive historical ruptures and wartime destruction these buildings successfully responded to the contradictory desires for historical continuity and acknowledgment of rupture and loss Next to international ideas the architects took up domestic traditions such as the ideas of the Polish school of historic conservation and long standing national patriotic narratives They thus contributed to the creation of a built environment and intellectual climate that have been influential to date This book will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in postmodern architecture and urban design as well as in the socio cultural background and transformative potential of architecture under socialism

Psychoanalytic Foundations Mark Leffert,2011-01-19 Past scholars have tried to classify psychoanalysis as an intrinsically positivist science with varying degrees of success Their critics have fared little better with narrow applications of postmodern thought which focus on smaller areas within psychoanalysis and as a result neglect the evolution of the discipline as a whole In an effort to provide a ground for current psychoanalytic thought Mark Leffert creates an interreferential schema which balances the influences of postmodernism complexity theory and neuroscience as its key factors Using the heterogeneity of postmodern thought as a starting point he traces its impact on and implications for the development of the discipline leading into the realm of complexity theory which is relatively new to the psychoanalytic literature and how it informs as well as constrains certain psychoanalytic assumptions The book then turns to neuroscience the hard scientific study of the complexities of the brain and how recent research informs psychoanalytic theory and may shed light on aspects of memory the conscious and the unconscious Taken together these three elements create a firm basis for the current trends in psychoanalysis and the direction of its development in the years to come Foundations of Assessment Joseph D. Levy, Natasha A. Jankowski, 2025-08-18 This book unpacks the philosophies and theories behind assessment and builds upon that foundation with practical how to guidance for effective practice Renowned assessment experts Levy and Jankowski thoughtfully explore assessment across both academic and student affairs highlighting equitable strategies throughout to demonstrate the transformative potential of assessment to enhance student learning outcomes support institutional decision making and ensure continuous quality improvement in higher education With insights drawn from extensive research and work with over 300 institutions this text prepares graduate students and practitioners to make informed choices around assessment My Almost for His Highest John Barber, 2010-08-01 The book you hold in your hands says that our churches and our nation are in desperate need of biblical awakening and revival It begins with the churches In stark opposition to the quest to give our utmost for God s glory as a whole the modern evangelical movement has settled for a compromised form of Christianity The book exposes the roots of this compromise analyzes key areas of church life where we have abandoned the biblical record and offers a roadmap for revival and reformation Dialogical Planning In A Fragmented Society Thomas L. Harper, Stanley M. Stein, The culmination of a critical study of neo pragmatism philosophy and its application to planning Dialogical Planning in a Fragmented Society begins with philosopher Stanley M Stein s examination of neo pragmatism and his thoughts on how it can be useful in the field of environmental design specifically how it can be applied to planning procedures and problems Neo pragmatism is an approach that has been in the past best expressed or implied in the writing of Hilary Putnam Richard Rorty and in particular Donald Davidson John Rawls and Ludwig Wittgenstein Thomas L Harper furthers this tradition by providing the context for this theoretical application from his academic background in economics and management as well as his practical experience with political decision making processes community planning and economic development The result is a fresh synthesis of ideas a new approach to thinking about planning theory and its implications for and relationship with practice Philosopher Michael Walzer has asserted that philosophy reflects and articulates the political culture of its time and politics presents and enacts the arguments of philosophy Similarly the authors view planning theory as planning reflected upon in tranquility away from the tumult of battle and planning practice as planning theory acted out in the confusion of the trenches Each changes the other in a dynamic way and the authors demonstrate the intimate and inextricable link between them ,
