Movie-Made Los Angeles John Trafton, 2023-10-17 Explores the proto cinematic visual culture of Los Angeles that set the scene for modern Hollywood Los Angeles was a cinematic city long before the rise of Hollywood By the dawn of the twentieth century photography painting and tourist promotion in Southern California provided early filmmakers with a template for building a myth making business and envisioning ideal moviegoers These art forms positioned California as a land of transformative experiences and catapulted the dusty backwater town of Los Angeles to the largest city on the west coast by 1915 Photography aided the Southern Pacific Railroad Company in opening the region to the rest of nation Painters gave traditions that were fading in Europe a new lease on life in the California sun with signature colors and techniques that would be adopted by L A real estate companies agribusiness and health retreats Tourism infused the iconography and signature styles of art with cultural mythology of the state s colonial past offering proto cinematic experiences to those who ventured west Author John Trafton explores how Hollywood an industry based on world building was the product of these art forms in the land of sunshine A more complete story of the American film industry s ascendancy in Los Angeles emerges when one considers how the City of Angels cultivated its self image through pre cinema narrative art Los Angeles Magazine ,2001-12 Los Angeles magazine is a regional magazine of national stature Our combination of award winning feature writing investigative reporting service journalism and design covers the people lifestyle culture entertainment fashion art and architecture and news that define Southern California Started in the spring of 1961 Los Angeles magazine has been addressing the needs and interests of our region for 48 years The magazine continues to be the definitive resource for an affluent population that is intensely interested in a lifestyle that is uniquely Southern Californian Painting the Towns Robin J. Farm was a collaborative art and design group eager to bring to its practice a revolutionary spirit more consistent with the times. Its vision encompassed creations for a nomadic lifestyle including inflatable structures and radical environments that culminated in projects such as the organically appointed House of the Century and the unrealized aquatic edifice The Dolphin Embassy. Ant Farm 1968-1978 explores the sweeping career of this inspired and inspiring visionary collective as its architectural projects broadened to embrace a range of undertakings that challenged the visual architecture of image icon and power. Constance Lewallen provides an in-depth anecdotally rich interview with founding members Chip Lord, Doug Michels, and Curtis Schreier. An essay by Michael Sorkin gives the multivalent cultural context for Ant Farm's radical architecture. Steve Seid takes a comprehensive look at Ant Farm's influential videotapes. Caroline Maniaque's Searching for Energy details the group's inflatable structures in relationship to contemporaneous architects working in a similar vein. The catalog also includes a substantial excerpt from Chip Lord's 1976 meditation on car culture with a new epilogue, a graphically playful timeline recounting Ant Farm's essential art projects, and a rich montage of images and ephemera capturing the humor, originality, and prescience of this feisty enterprise. A joint publication with the Berkeley Art Museum.
