Losing North Musings On Land Tongue And Self:

Losing North Nancy Huston, 2002 A brilliant series of essays examining the life and language of cultural exile Edward Said's Rhetoric of the Secular Mathieu E. Courville, 2011-10-20 Edward Said's Rhetoric of the Secular provides an important new reading of Edward W. Said's work emphasizing not only the distinction but also the fuzzy borders between representations of the religious and the secular found within and throughout his oeuvre and at the core of some of his most customary rhetorical strategies Mathieu Courville begins by examining Said's own reflections on his life before moving on to key debates about Said's work within Religious Studies and Middle Eastern Studies and his relationship to French critical theorists Through close attention to Said's use of the literal and the figurative when dealing with religious national and cultural matters Courville discerns a pattern that illuminates what Said means by secular Said's work shows that the secular is not the utter opposite of religion in the modern globalized world but may exist in a productive tension with it The

Routledge Handbook of Literary Translingualism Steven G. Cordingley,2013-01-17 Self Translation Brokering originality in hybrid culture provides critical historical and interdisciplinary analyses of self translators and their works It investigates the challenges which the bilingual oeuvre and the experience of the self translator pose to conventional definitions of translation and the problematic dichotomies of original and translation author and translator Canonical self translators such Samuel Beckett Vladimir Nabokov and Rabindranath Tagore are here discussed in the context of previously overlooked self translators from Japan to South Africa from the Basque Country to Scotland This book seeks therefore to offer a portrait of the diverse artistic and political objectives and priorities of self translators by investigating different cosmopolitan post colonial and indigenous practices Numerous contributions to this volume extend the scope of self translation to include the composition of a work out of a multilingual consciousness or society They demonstrate how production within hybrid contexts requires the negotiation of different languages within the self generating powerful experiences from crisis to liberation and texts that offer key insights into our increasingly globalized culture Authority, Gender and Emotions in Late Medieval and Early Modern England Susan Broomhall,2015-07-21 This collection explores how situations of authority governance and influence were practised through both gender ideologies and affective performances in medieval and early modern England Authority is inherently relational it must be asserted over someone who allows or is forced to accept this dominance The capacity to exercise authority is therefore a social and cultural act one that is shaped by social identities such as gender and by social practices that include emotions The contributions in this volume exploring case studies of women and men s letter writing political and ecclesiastical governance household rule exercise of law and order and creative agency investigate how gender and emotions shaped the ways different individuals could assert or maintain authority or indeed disrupt or provide alternatives to conventional practices of authority

Memory Speaks Julie Sedivy,2021-10-12 From an award winning writer and linguist a scientific and personal meditation on the phenomenon of language loss and the possibility of renewal As a child Julie Sedivy left Czechoslovakia for Canada and English soon took over her life By early adulthood she spoke Czech rarely and badly and when her father died unexpectedly she lost not only a beloved parent but also her firmest point of connection to her native language As Sedivy realized more is at stake here than the loss of language there is also the loss of identity Language is an important part of adaptation to a new culture and immigrants everywhere face pressure to assimilate Recognizing this tension Sedivy set out to understand the science of language loss and the potential for renewal In Memory Speaks she takes on the psychological and social world of multilingualism exploring the human brain's capacity to learn and forget languages at various stages of life But while studies of multilingual experience provide resources for the teaching and preservation of languages Sedivy finds that the challenges facing multilingual people are largely political Countering the widespread view that linguistic pluralism splinters loyalties and communities Sedivy argues that the struggle to remain connected to an ancestral language and culture is a site of common ground as people from all backgrounds can recognize the crucial role of language in forming a sense of self Distinctive and timely Memory Speaks combines a rich body of psychological research with a moving story at once personal and universally resonant As citizens debate the merits of bilingual education as the world's less dominant languages are driven to extinction and as many people confront the pain of language loss this is badly needed wisdom (M)Other

Tongues Juliane Prade, 2020-05-15 M Other Tongues Literary Reflexions on a Difficult Distinction examines a key problem of literary criticism the differentiation between languages is at the same time necessary and impossible It is indispensable in order to read a text yet literary texts are precisely those that question this distinction articulating the link between languages and cultures as well as the inherent strangeness of even one's own mother tongue M Other Tongues explores texts from the 16th century to the 21st century focusing on different aspects of one main feature of literary texts formally as well as semantically they transcend the rules and conventions of the language they speak Crossing cultural borders is commonly discussed in historical social linguistic and psychoanalytical terms whether it be as post colonialism exilic or diasporic identities creoles or the displaced other within the own M Other Tongues argues that rather than being mere evidence in the theoretical analysis of cultural transitions literary texts are a unique medium to reflect such processes as they challenge and modify the notion of language itself The book discusses texts written mainly in English French and German but also in Spanish and the complex formerly known as Yugoslavian M Other Tongues shows that such distinctions between languages are precise since they can be exemplified with an indefinite number of words and rules and still remain uncertain because they cannot be abstracted from these examples What separates the mother tongue from other tongues is indeed precise uncertainty

Bilingual François Grosjean, 2010-08-15 Whether in family life social interactions or business negotiations half the people in the world speak more than one language every day Yet many myths persist about bilingualism and bilinguals In a lively and entertaining book an international authority on bilingualism explores the many facets of life with two or more languages Comparative Literature for the New Century Giulia De Gasperi, Joseph Pivato, 2018-09-30

Since its beginning Comparative Literature has been characterized as a discipline in crisis But its shifting boundaries are its strength allowing for collaboration and growth and illuminating a path forward In Comparative Literature for the New Century a diverse group of scholars argue for a distinct North American approach to literary studies that includes the promotion of different languages Chapters by senior scholars such as George Elliott Clarke E D Blodgett and Sneja Gunew

are placed in dialogue with those by younger scholars including Dominique H tu Maria Cristina Seccia and Ndeye Fatou Ba The writers many of whom are multilingual discuss problems with translation identity and belonging the modern epic the role of tradition minority writing Francophone and Anglophone novels in Africa and politics in literature Engaging with theory history media studies psychology translation studies post colonial studies and gender studies chapters exemplify how the knowledge and tools offered by Comparative Literature can be applied in reading exploring and understanding not only literary productions but also the world at large Presenting some of the most current work being carried out by academics and scholars actively engaged in the field in Canada and abroad Comparative Literature for the New Century promotes the value of Comparative Literature as an interdisciplinary study and assesses future directions it might take Contributors include George Elliott Clarke University of Toronto Dominique H tu Alberta Montreal Monique Tschofen Ryerson Jolene Armstrong Athabasca E D Blodgett Alberta Ndeye Fatou Ba Ryerson Maria Cristina Seccia Hull Sneja Gunew UBC Deborah Saidero Udine Elizabeth Dahab CSULB Gaetano Rando Wollongong Anna Pia De Luca Udine Mark A McCutcheon Athabasca Giulia De Gasperi PEI and Joseph Pivato Athabasca

Worldwide Women Writers in Paris Alison Rice, 2021-12-16 Worldwide Women Writers in Paris examines a new literary phenomenon consisting of an unprecedented number of women from around the world who have come to Paris and become authors of written works in French It takes as its starting point a series of filmed interviews conducted in the French capital a set of recorded conversations motivated by a desire to pay homage to these discrete voices and images at a moment characterized by impressive diversity Their individual paths to France and to French are noteworthy and these authors of different generations and varying places of origin emphasize their singularity However the juxtaposition of their reflections reveals that many have faced similar difficulties when learning the French language adapting to life in France and many have encountered forms of prejudice in the publishing world related to their ethnicity or gender These challenges have led them each in an idiosyncratic manner to tackle tough topics in their work and to respond to adversity by finding effective creative expressions Taken together the innovations and interventions in oral and written form of these authors collectively contribute to significant change in the specialized score that is the Parisian literary landscape H l ne Cixous Algeria Zahia Rahmani Algeria Le la Sebbar Algeria Bessora Belgium Julia Kristeva Bulgaria Pia Petersen Denmark Maryse Cond Guadeloupe Eva Almassy Hungary Shumona Sinha India Chahdortt Djavann Iran Yumiko Seki Japan Evelyne Accad Lebanon Etel Adnan Lebanon Nathacha Appanah Mauritius Brina Svit Slovenia Eun Ja Kang South Korea Anna Mo Vietnam

Learner Identity and Learner Beliefs in EFL Writing Olga Majchrzak, 2017-12-21 This book focuses on the concept of learner writer identity in the context of foreign language writing The author demonstrates that the process of writing in a foreign language is much more complex and personal than many writing instructors may assume The book s theoretical chapters address such concepts as bilingualism the process of L2 writing and identity in L2 writing The book s empirical section discusses the students views on writing in L1 and in L2 the students writing processes in both languages and the students identities in L1 and L2 writing It is shown that writing in L2 poses problems of a linguistic nature however for the advanced EFL learners writing in L2 also creates opportunities they would never have when composing in their mother tongue Exiles, Travellers and Vagabonds ,2016-10-20 Travel writing migrant writing exile writing expatriate writing and even the fictional travelling protagonists that emerge in literary works from around the globe have historically tended to depict mobility as a masculine phenomenon The presence of such genres in women s writing however poses a rich and unique body of work This volume examines the texts of Francophone women who have experienced or reflected upon the experience of transnational movement Due to the particularity of their relationship to home and the consequent impact of this on their experience of displacement the study of women s mobility opens up new questions in our understanding of the movement from place to place and in our broader understanding of colonial and postcolonial worlds Addressing the proximities and overlaps that exist between the experiences of women exiles migrants expatriates and travellers the collected essays in this book seek to challenge the usefulness relevance or validity of such terms for conceptualising today s complex patterns of transnational mobility and the gendered identities produced therein Essays on Word/Music Adaptation and on Surveying the Field ,2008-01-01 The twelve essays presented in this volume are drawn from the Fifth International Conference on Word and Music Studies held at Santa Barbara CA in 2005 The conference was organized and sponsored by The International Association for Word and Music Studies WMA and in its central section explored the theme of Word Music Adaptation In these wide ranging papers a great variety of cases of intermedial transposition between music literature drama and film are examined The music of Berlioz Biber Chopin Carlisle Floyd Robert Franz Bernard Herrmann Liszt Richard Strauss Verdi and pop singer Kate Bush confronts and commingles with the writings of Emily Bront Goethe Nancy Huston George Sand and Shakespeare in these cutting edge adaptation studies In addition four films are discussed Wuthering Heights Fedora Otello and The Notebook The articles collected will be of interest not only to music and literary scholars but also to those engaged in the study of adaptation theory semiotics literary criticism narrative theory art history feminism or postmodernism Les Belles Étrangères Jane Koustas,2008-03-10 While translation history in Canada is well documented the history of the translation of Canadian fiction outside the nation remains obscure Les Belles trang res examines the translation of Canadian English language fiction in France This book considers the history of this practice the reasons for the move away from Quebec translators as well as the process and perils involved in this detour Within a theoretical framework and drawing on primary sources this study considers the historical theoretical and concrete aspects of this practice through the study of the translations of authors such as Robertson Davies Carol Shields Margaret Atwood Michael Ondaatje Ann Marie MacDonald and Alistair MacLeod The book also includes a comprehensive bibliography of English language novels poetry and plays published and translated in France over the past 240 years
