Enduring Loss in Early Modern Germany Lynne Tatlock, 2010 Cross disciplinary perspectives on responses to material and spiritual loss in early modern Germany trace how individuals and communities registered, coped with and made sense of deprivation through a spectrum of activities often turning loss into gain and acquiring agency Loss David L. Eng, David Kazanjian, 2003 If catastrophe is not representable according to the narrative explanations which would make sense of history then making sense of ourselves and charting the future are not impossible But we are as it were marked for life and that mark is insuperable irrecoverable It becomes the condition by which life is risked by which the question of whether one can move and with whom and in what way is framed and incited by the irreversibility of loss itself Judith Butler from the Afterword Loss is a wonderful volume powerful and important deeply moving and intellectually challenging at the same time ethical and not moralistic It is one of those rare collections that work as a multifaceted whole to map new areas for inquiry and pose new questions I found myself educated and provoked by the experience of participating in an ongoing dialogue Amy Kaplan author of The Anarchy of Empire in the Making of U S Culture The Short Story Anthology and Women's Writing Aleix Tura Vecino, 2025-08-14 Hundreds of anthologies of women's short stories have appeared in the literary market between the 1970s and now This publishing and cultural phenomenon is considered for the first time in this book which argues that during this period anthologies have become a literary technology used not only to make visible female short story writers but also to think about and mould ideas of womanhood Through creative and contextualised readings of the most important anthologies produced in this period this study shows that this literary form has contributed to and in some cases pioneered key developments in gender theory and feminist thought including questions of political combination among women which underlie contemporary global movements such as MeToo In doing so the book also develops the first book length conceptualisation of the features and meaning making mechanisms of the short story anthology as a literary form This book will benefit academics and students working in the fields of short fiction publishing and women's studies as well as feminist scholars and a growing number of specialists interested in the anthology as a literary form worldwide On Loss Erica Marchant, Joshua George, Melissa Schell, 2019-07-06 Loss like love deepens with living Defining loss travels beyond grief It is more than saying goodbye surviving destruction or facing deprivation Loss means letting go moving on and finding the light again Lost items lost people lost minds In them there's a silent hope With loss comes pain but with pain comes finding the good the happiness in renewing one's life and redeeming the irredeemable On Loss is a genre crossing collection of short stories poetry and flash fiction Each piece though vastly different is On Loss Narratives tragedies and tales from space travel time travel and a crime fighting superhero to war veterans insanity and a drive thru cemetery splash across the pages Whether losing a loved one memories innocence or the mind each one follows a different path of loss and its aftermath Every story unique each touched with inflection and speckled with despair Follow the authors of On Loss through the pain rolling above Obscures the peak of mount melancholy Surrounded by a rough sea of sadness Waves of woe crashing all over me Where is this place i have landed A castaway in a far off land Beaches of gloom and misery Great sorrow in each grain of sand I really need to escape here Build a raft from my dreams and hopes Leave unhappiness there on the shoreline And break free of these heavy heart ropes Depression is no laughing matter Dejection is not a great show But no blast of darkness can block out the light Just one match can make a room glow
