New Media Developments Special Issue Of Trends In Communication:

New Media, Development and Globalization: Making Connections in the Global South Don Slater, 2014-01-15

New media development and globalization are the key terms through which the future is being imagined and performed in governance development initiatives and public and political discourse Yet these authoritative terms have arisen within particular cultural and ideological contexts In using them we risk promoting over generalized and seemingly unchallengeable frameworks for action and knowledge production which can blind us to the complex global patterns and promise of social reality This compelling book forces us to look at these terms afresh Drawing on more than ten years of ethnographic fieldwork in Latin America West Africa and South Asia Don Slater seeks to challenge these terms as voicing specific northern narratives rather than universal truths and to see them from the perspective of southern people and communities who are equally concerned to understand new machines for communication new models of social change and new maps of social connection The central question the book poses is how we can democratize the ways we think and practise new media development and globalization opening these terms to dialogue and challenge within North South relations Rooted in sociological debates New Media Development and Globalization will also be a provocative contribution to media and cultural studies studies of digital culture development studies geography and anthropology Advancing Comparative Media and Communication Research Joseph M. Chan, Francis L. F. Lee, 2017-06-26 A comparative approach to media and communication research plays an important if not indispensable role in achieving a core mission of researchers to delimit the generality and specificity of media and communication theories enabling researchers to more readily identify the influence of social political and cultural contexts in shaping media and communication phenomena To de Westernize and internationalize media and communication studies has thus become the way forward for overcoming the parochialism of mainstream media and communication studies This volume reflects on what comparative media and communication research has achieved or failed to achieve the epistemological and theoretical challenges it is facing and the new directions in which it should be heading

The New Media Theory Reader Hassan, Robert, Thomas, Julian, 2006-09-01 The study of new media opens up some of the most fascinating issues in contemporary culture bringing together key readings on new media what it is where it came from how it affects our lives and how it is managed It encourages readers to pay attention to the new in new media as well as consider it as a historical phenomenon European Journalism Education Georgios Terzis, 2010-02-08 This book is the first comprehensive directory of the journalism education and training offered in thirty three European countries The volume organized by country discusses the history of journalism education and includes an analysis of all the current university programs and training provided by private media and professional organizations in each location In addition each section includes a thorough examination of the historical political economic and social framework of journalism in each country that looks towards the future of journalism education and media in Europe European Journalism Education will be an asset to
