

At the Tobis Theatre.

CSAK EGY EJSZAKARA, a dialogue film in Hungarian; directed by Istvan Szekely; a Patria production.

Russian general.....Gyula Csontos
His wife.....Anna Toekes
Hungarian officer.....Lajos Vertes

A Hungarian film with a scenario covering World War episodes is now at the little Tobis Theatre under the name of "Csak Egy Ejszaka" ("Only One Night").

While there are a few brief battle scenes on the Eastern front, most of the action is concerned with the fate of a young Magyar officer taken prisoner by the Russians, condemned to death as a spy and finally saved by the Russian general's attractive wife. This is a case of "heaping coals of fire on one's head," as the hero in the first few reels refuses to help her escape when she is left behind during a Russian retreat. But then she has fallen in love with him, which explains almost anything, especially on the screen.

The picture is well photographed and directed, and the actors are first rate. The music is pleasing.
