Joanna Baillie, Romantic Dramatist Thomas C. eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries The Selected Poems of Joanna Baillie, 1762-1851 Joanna Baillie, 1999 Joanna Baillie's poetry ranges from songs and lyrical ballads to dramatic monologues and realistic blank verse This edition of her work gives readers the opportunity to assess her significance and her craft The Cambridge Companion to Eighteenth-Century Poetry John Sitter, 2001-03-26 The Cambridge Companion to Eighteenth Century Poetry analyzes major premises preoccupations and practices of English poets writing from 1700 to the 1790s These specially commissioned essays avoid familiar categories and single author approaches to look at the century afresh Chapters consider such large poetic themes as nature the city political passions the relation of death to desire and dreams appeals to an imagined future and the meanings of sensibility Other chapters explore historical developments such as the connection between poetic couplets and conversation the conditions of publication changing theories of poetry and imagination growing numbers of women poets and readers the rise of a self consciously national tradition and the place of lyric poetry in thought and practice The essays are well supported by supplementary material including a chronology of the period and detailed guides to further reading Altogether the volume provides an invaluable resource for scholars and students The Broadview Anthology of Literature of the Revolutionary Period 1770-1832, 2010 Science, Politics, and Friendship in the Works of Thomas Lovell Beddoes Ute Berns, 2012 This study reevaluates the work of the scientist and radical poet and dramatist and English exile in Germany Thomas Lovell Beddoes 1803 1849 While his writing has elicited high praise from poets ranging from Robert Browning through Ezra Pound to John Ashbery scholars have frequently neglected it on grounds of its purportedly morbid and opaque eccentricity Countering this scholarly perception this book deftly relocates Beddoes's poetry drama and prose at the centre of Anglo German debates on aesthetics and life science politics and theatre in an early nineteenth century European context Aided by his letters from Germany the book re-creates the intercultural discursive universe in which Beddoes easily moves from Shakespeare's plays or the aesthetic experiments of Shelley and his circle to Goethe and to topics debated among Heinrich Heine and the Jungdeutschen from the most advanced contemporary scientific research to the post Napoleonic politics of the German radical students organisations and from Byron Baillie and London's illegitimate theatre to Schiller's and Tieck's highly charged reflections on male male friendship The study combines historicist strategies with theories of performance performativity and visuality as it focuses in particular on Beddoes's major and defining work Death's Jest Book first completed in 1829 and published posthumously after much revision in 1850 This study shows how Death's Jest Book as both drama and poetry devises complex perspectives on scientifically inspired notions of life and history how it forges a radical vision for post Napoleonic Europe and how it links this vision to a daring conception of desiring gendered selves The book pays close attention to the dialogue Beddoes's writing maintains with Early Modern literature and it highlights the proto modernist features that link his work to that of Bchner Grabbe and a European theatre avant garde This innovative study of Beddoes's work cutting across current investigations into politics gender and science in intercultural

British Romanticism and the Archive David Kerler, 2022-06-06 Taking its cue from Jacques Derrida's concept of le mal d'archive this study explores the interrelations between the experience of loss melancholia archives and their self destructive tendencies surfacing in different forms of spectrality in selected poetry of British Romanticism It argues that the British Romantics were highly influenced by the period's archival fever manifesting itself in various historical material technological and cultural aspects and implicitly reflected and engaged with these discourses and materialities medialities in their works This is scrutinized by focusing on two basal closely related facets the subject's feverish desire to archive and the archive's self destructive tendencies which may also surface in an ambivalent melancholic relishing in the archived object's presence within its absence Through this new theoretical perspective details and coherence previously gone unnoticed shall be laid bare ultimately contributing to a new and more profound understanding of British Romanticism's It will be shown that the various discursive and material manifestations of archives and archival practices not only echo the period's technological

Resurrection Songs: The Poetry of Thomas Lovell Beddoes Michael Bradshaw, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2001 Thomas Lovell Beddoes 1803-49 was a powerful poet of the English Romantic period who has been and is still strangely neglected by critics His macabre blank verse dramatic writings and his delicately balanced lyrics have both won ardent admirers such as Browning Gosse Pound and Christopher Ricks Yet there are formal and generic problems in Beddoes's writings which continue to marginalize him as merely an eccentric and the canon of Romanticism seems to have found no place for him

Lyric Generations G. Gabrielle Starr, 2015-11-01 Eighteenth century British literary history was long characterized by two central and seemingly discrete movements the emergence of the novel and the development of Romantic lyric poetry In fact recent scholarship reveals that these genres are inextricably bound constructions of interiority developed in novels changed ideas about what literature could mean and do encouraging the new focus on private experience and self perception developed in lyric poetry In Lyric Generations Gabrielle Starr rejects the genealogy of lyric poetry in which Romantic poets are thought to have built solely and directly upon the works of Chaucer Spenser Shakespeare and Milton She argues instead that novelists such as Richardson Haywood Behn and others while drawing upon earlier lyric conventions ushered in a new language of self expression and community which profoundly affected the aesthetic goals of lyric poets Examining the works of Cowper Smith Wordsworth

Coleridge and Keats in light of their competitive dialogue with the novel Starr advances a literary history that considers formal characteristics as products of historical change In a world increasingly defined by prose poets adapted the new forms characters and moral themes of the novel in order to reinvigorate poetic practice
