Off White Readings On Power Privilege And Resistance:

Off White Michelle Fine, 2004 In 1997 Off White first presented an analysis of the white racialization process In this new edition the focus is upon the material conditions of whiteness as a privilege the turns of whiteness produced when individuals collectives take up a challenge to contemporary racial formations Off White Michelle Fine, Lois Weis, Linda Powell Pruitt, April Burns, 2012-11-12 With a fascinating new introduction on the proliferation and development of the field of whiteness studies and updated essays throughout this much anticipated second edition continues to redefine our understanding of race and society Also includes three maps Taboo, 2006 Whiteness Fractured Cynthia Levine-Rasky, 2016-02-11 Whiteness Fractured examines the many ways in which whiteness is conceptualized today and how it is understood to operate and to effect social relationships Exploring the intersections between whiteness social class ethnicity and psychosocial phenomena this book is framed by the question of how whiteness works and what it does With attention to central concepts and the history of whiteness it explains the four ways in which whiteness works In its examination of the outward and inward fractures of whiteness the book sheds light on both its connections with social class and ethnicity and with the epistemology of ignorance and the psychoanalytic Representing the long career of whiteness on the one hand and investigating its expansion into new areas on the other Whiteness Fractured reflects the growing maturity of critical whiteness studies It undertakes a critical analysis of approaches to whiteness and proposes new directions for future action and enquiry As such it will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in race and ethnicity intersectionality colonialism and post colonialism and cultural studies Class Construction, The Way Class Works Lois Weis, 2009-09-10 Since the 1980s the relationship between social class and education has been overshadowed by scholarship more generally targeting issues of race gender and representation Today with the global economy deeply immersed in social inequalities there is pressing need for serious class based analyses of schooling family life and social structure The Way Class Works is a collection of twenty four groundbreaking essays on the material conditions of social class and the ways in which class is produced on the ground in educational institutions and families Written by the most visible and important scholars in education and the social sciences these timely essays explore the production of class in and through the economy family and school while simultaneously interrogating and challenging our understandings of social class as linked to race gender and nation With essays by distinguished scholars and questions for further reflection and discussion The Way Class Works will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars in education sociology and beyond Neo-Gothic Narratives Sarah E. Maier, Brenda Ayres, 2020-03-31 Neo Gothic Narratives defines and theorises what exactly qualifies as such a text what mobilises the employment of the Gothic to speak to our own times whether nostalgia plays a role and whether there is room for humour besides the sobriety and horror in these narratives across various media What attracts us to the Gothic that makes us want to resurrect reinvent echo it Why do we let the Gothic redefine us Why do we let it haunt us Does it speak to us through intertextuality self reflectivity metafiction immersion affect Are we reclaiming the history of women and other subalterns in the Gothic that had been denied in other forms of history Are we revisiting the trauma of English colonisation and seeking national identity Or are we simply tourists who enjoy cruising through the otherworld The essays in this volume investigate both the readerly experience of Neo Gothic narratives as well as their writerly pastiche Marking Whiteness Sonita Sarker, Jennifer Nesbit, 2025-09-01 The collection is divided into three parts to address the practices of Whiteness in modernist studies Aesthetics Intersectionality and Inter disciplinary Practice We begin with aesthetics because modernism is the aesthetic produced in dynamic relation to the cultural formations of modernity perceived rapid changes in labor transportation technology and perceptions of body mind and even character Essays in this section examine how the production of Whiteness is baked in as a positive value in assessing the value of cultural production The second section focuses on the embodiment of Whiteness primarily through the gendered and racialized female body as a deflective practice that unmarks Whiteness while making it central to cultural crises around morality national borders and futurity The third section considers the tacit prioritization of Whiteness as a positive value through institutional structures and pedagogical practice these case studies ruminate on the generative potential of isolating and marking these effects In each essay scholars examine the stakes of marking Whiteness as a category of analysis distinct from yet wholly imbricated with racial categorization given the potential for reification inherent in all strategies of marking Inequality in the Promised Land R. L'Heureux Lewis-McCoy, 2014-06-25 Nestled in neighborhoods of varying degrees of affluence suburban public schools are typically better resourced than their inner city peers and known for their extracurricular offerings and college preparatory programs Despite the glowing opportunities that many families associate with suburban schooling accessing a district's resources is not always straightforward particularly for black and poorer families Moving beyond class and race based explanations Inequality in the Promised Land focuses on the everyday interactions between parents students teachers and school administrators in order to understand why resources seldom trickle down to a district's racial and economic minorities Rolling Acres Public Schools RAPS is one of the many well appointed suburban school districts across the United States that has become increasingly racially and economically diverse over the last forty years Expanding on Charles Tilly's model of relational analysis and drawing on 100 in depth interviews as well participant observation and archival research R L'Heureux Lewis McCoy examines the pathways of resources in RAPS He discovers that due to structural factors social and class positions and past experiences resources are not valued equally among families and even when deemed valuable financial factors and issues of opportunity hoarding often prevent certain RAPS families from accessing that resource In addition to its fresh and incisive insights into educational inequality this groundbreaking book also presents valuable policy orientated solutions for administrators teachers activists and politicians Still Hanging Bryant Keith Alexander, Mary E. Weems, 2021-05-25 The current socio political climate in the United States sheds a critical glaring light on the racism and white supremacy which has been part of the fabric of this country since the seventeenth century Barack Obama's tenure as president resulted in a major increase in white hate groups hate crimes and unrelenting violence against innocent Black men and women by police In response people of different races ethnicities genders sexual orientations religions ages and classes have taken to the streets in protest and increased decades long efforts to organize against racism and for a more empathetic just democratic society Social change about racism must begin with acknowledgement followed by open focused critical dialogue Still Hanging Using Performance Texts to Deconstruct Racism referencing both the resilience of Black people in the face of institutionalized racism and systemic oppression and the fact that Black people continue to be literally and metaphorically lynched in 2020 is designed to use the power of lived experience specific performance texts as frames for engaging faculty students and others interested in beginning to deconstruct racism and construct an anti racist way of being

Racial Battle Fatigue Jennifer L. Martin, 2015-01-26 Covering equity issues of sex race class age sexual orientation and disability this work presents creative nontraditional narratives about performing social justice work acknowledging the contributions of previous generations describing current challenges and appealing to readers to join the struggle toward a better world Many would like to believe we are living as post racial America long past the days of discrimination and marginalization of people simply due to their race and minority status However editor Jennifer L Martin and a breadth of expert contributors show that prejudice and discrimination are still very much alive in the United States Sharing personal stories of challenges aggressions retaliations and finally racial battle fatigue these activists practitioners and scholars explain how they have been attacked in subtle shrouded and sometimes outright ways simply for whom and what they advocate social justice The stories within consist of discussions on the interconnections among equity issues sex race class age sexual orientation and disability Furthermore the work relates current events such as the banning of ethnic studies in Arizona and the shooting of Trayvon Martin to the battle for social justice Other topics addressed include the ongoing problems of white supremacist beliefs the challenges of teaching about the racist thinking that permeates our media and popular culture and the harms of aggressions faced by minorities and those possessing multiple minority status The unique narratives presented in this single volume work combine the various approaches to answering questions about not only the necessity of fighting for social justice but also the impact of the struggle on its champions Can Educators Make a Difference? Paul R.

Carr, Marc Pruyn, David Zyngier, 2012-07-01 As the title of this book suggests how we understand perceive and experience democracy may have a significant effect on how we actually engage in and with democracy Within the educational context this is a key concern and forms the basis of the research presented in this volume within a critical comparative analysis The Global Doing Democracy Research Project GDDRP which currently has some 70 scholars in over 20 countries examining how educators do democracy provides the framework in which diverse scholars explore a host of concerns related to democracy and democratic education including the impact of neoliberalism political literacy critical engagement teaching and learning for and about democracy social justice and the meaning of power power relations within the educational context Ultimately the contributors of this book collectively ask can there be democracy without a critically engaged education and importantly what role do educators play in this context and process Why many educators in diverse contexts believe that they are unable dissuaded and or prevented from doing thick democratic education is problematized in this book but the authors also seek to illustrate that despite the challenges barriers and concerns about doing democracy in education something can and should be done to develop cultivate and ingratiate schools and society with more meaningful democratic practices and processes This book breaks new ground by using a similar empirical methodology within a number of international contexts to gage the democratic sentiments and actions of educators which raises a host of questions about epistemology teacher education policy development pedagogy institutional cultures conscientization and the potential for transformational change in education

Teaching Bilingual/bicultural Children Lourdes Diaz Soto, Haroon Kharem, 2010 This edited volume is dedicated to contemporary teachers Its goal is to provide a practical book for in service and pre service teachers of bilingual bicultural children The authors each of whom is herself bilingual bicultural share personal wisdom garnered from working in classrooms with bilingual bicultural learners This book provides practical knowledge for teachers who are struggling to meet the needs of increasingly diverse classrooms

Perceptions of Ethnicity, Religion, and Radicalization among Second-Generation Pakistani-Canadians Saad Ahmad Khan, 2021-01-12 Why do they hate us The answer to a seemingly simple question made famous by U S President George W Bush in the wake of 9 11 has become more complex with the entrance of homegrown terrorists into many armed conflicts Why do they hate us so much that some of them try to kill us en masse even though they are born and raised with us go to school with us and work with us This book offers an in depth analysis to the phenomenon of radicalization of second generation Pakistani Canadians Based on interviews with second generation Pakistani Canadians from various backgrounds Saad Ahmad Khan argues that radicalization is a complex and layered process stemming from multiple sources ranging from childhood experiences to the role of Saudi Arabia in exporting its brand of Islam Individual social national and international factors need to be addressed holistically if radicalization of second generation individuals is to be pre empted and subsequent generations saved from the scourge of violence and terrorism

Racial Battle Fatigue in Higher Education Kenneth J. Fasching-Varner, Katrice A. Albert, Roland W. Mitchell, Chaunda Allen, 2014-12-23 Racial Battle Fatigue is described as the physical and psychological toll taken due to constant and unceasing discrimination microaggressions and stereotype threat The literature notes that individuals who work in environments with chronic exposure to discrimination and microaggressions are more likely to suffer from forms of generalized anxiety manifested by both physical and emotional symptoms This edited volume looks at RBF from the perspectives of graduate students middle level academics and chief diversity officers at major institutions of learning RBF takes up William A Smith s idea and extends it as a means of understanding how the academy or higher education operates

Through microaggressions stereotype threat underfunding and defunding of initiatives offices expansive commitments to diversity related strategic plans with restrictive power and action and departmental climates of exclusivity and inequity diversity workers faculty staff and administration of color along with white allies in like positions find themselves in a badlands where identity difference is used to promote institutional values while at the same time creating unimaginable work spaces for these workers

Contemporary Feminisms in Social Work Practice Sarah Wendt, Nicole Moulding, 2016-01-29

Contemporary Feminisms in Social Work Practice explores feminism as core to social work knowledge practice and ethics It demonstrates how gender neutral perspectives and practices obscure gender discourses and power relations It also shows feminist social work practice can transform areas of social work not specifically concerned with gender through its emphasis on relationships and power Within and outside feminism there is a growing assumption that equality has been won and is readily available to all women However women continue to dominate the ranks of the poor in developed and developing countries around the world male perpetrated violence against women and children has not reduced women outnumber men by up to three to one in the diagnosis of common mental health problems and women continue to be severely underrepresented in every realm of power decision making and wealth This worrying context draws attention to the ways gender relations structure most of the problems faced by the women men and children in the day to day worlds in which social work operates Drawing together key contemporary thinking about feminism and its place in social work this international collection looks at both core curriculum areas taught in social work programs and a wide range of practice fields that involve key challenges and opportunities for future feminist social work This book is suitable for all social work students and academics It examines the nuanced nature of power relationships in the everyday and areas such as working with cross cultural communities mental health interpersonal violence and abuse homelessness child protection ageing disability and sexuality

Indigenous Knowledge Production Marcus Woolombi Waters, 2018-05-16

Despite many scholars noting the interdisciplinary approach of Aboriginal knowledge production as a methodology within a broad range of subjects including quantum mathematics biodiversity sociology and the humanities the academic study of Indigenous knowledge and people is struggling to become interdisciplinary in its approach and move beyond its current label of Indigenous Studies Indigenous Knowledge Production specifically demonstrates the use of autobiographical ethnicity as a methodological approach where the writer draws on lived experience and ethnic background towards creative and academic writing Indeed in this insightful volume Marcus Woolombi Waters investigates the historical connection and continuity that have led to the present state of hostility witnessed in race relations around the world seeking to further one's understanding of the motives and methods that have led to a rise in white supremacy associated with ultra conservatism Above all Indigenous Knowledge Production aims to deconstruct the cultural lens applied within the West which denies the true reflection of Aboriginal and Black consciousness and leads to the open hostility witnessed across the world This monograph will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as postdoctoral researchers interested in fields such as Sociology of Knowledge Anthropology Cultural Studies Ethnography and Methodology Diversity and Multiculturalism Shirley R. Steinberg, 2009 This reader demands that we understand diversity and multiculturalism by identifying the ways in which curriculum has been written and taught and by redefining the field with an equitable lens freeing it from the dominant cultural curriculum The book problematizes the issue of whiteness for instance as not being the opposite of blackness or person of color but rather a meta description for our dominant culture Issues are also addressed that are usually left out of the discussion about diversity and multiculturalism this reader includes essays on physical diversity geographic diversity and difference in sexualities This is the quintessential collection of work by critical scholars committed to redefining the conversation on multiculturalism and diversity Culturing Interface Hsin-I Cheng, 2008 This book investigates the experiences of a Chinese and Taiwanese community on the U S Mexico border from a critical communication perspective Based on ethnographic material from El Paso Ju rez the book critically explores the processes of identity crafting in accordance with the global geopolitical landscape By examining the everyday communications within a group of transnational travelers and dwellers in between boundaries the book illustrates how cultural practices and identities are strategically accomplished through communication In tracing the forces behind these transnational movements and understanding the multiple worlds of travelers and dwellers Culturing Interface brings to light the previously unheard voices of the Chinese people on the U S Mexico border Handbook of Research on Writing Instruction Practices for Equitable and Effective Teaching Hodges, Tracey S., 2022-05-27 Writing is a critical component for teaching children about advocacy and empowering student voice as well as an essential tool for learning in many disciplines Yet writing instruction in schools often focuses on traditional methods such as the composition of five paragraph essays or the adherence to proper grammatical conventions While these are two components of writing instruction and preparation in education they only provide a small glimpse into the depth and breadth of writing As such writing instruction is increasingly complex and requires multiple perspectives and levels of skill among teachers The Handbook of Research on Writing Instruction Practices for Equitable and Effective Teaching serves as a comprehensive reference of issues related to writing instruction and leading research about perspectives methods and approaches for equitable and effective writing instruction It includes practices beyond K 12 including best writing practices at the college level as well as the development of future teachers Providing unique coverage on culturally relevant writing socio and racial linguistic justice and urgent writing pedagogies this major reference work is an indispensable resource for administrators and educators of both K 12 and higher education pre service teachers teacher educators libraries government officials researchers and academicians
