Re-Shaping Learning: A Critical Reader Anne Boddington, Jos Boys, 2012-01-01 Learning Spaces is an emerging field fuelled by a growing interest in the relationships between learning and spaces in which it takes place whether conceptual personal social physical and or virtual It is concerned with making learning spaces that can better meet the needs of 21st century learners academics and other related publics In post compulsory education this has opened up many interesting and important issues There remains a lack of any theoretical understanding as to how such spaces should be conceived or designed and hardly any critical discussion about effective frameworks for either the development of contemporary learning spaces or for assessing their impact on learning teaching and research At the same time there is much debate about what the purposes of post compulsory education should be as well as concerns about where and by whom it should be provided We therefore need to urgently improve our understanding of the interactions between learning and space It is essential that we not only share perspectives theories and methodologies but also critically reflect on our own different assumptions and work together to build better models for post compulsory education in the future To help in this process this book is designed as a critical reader that can enable researchers academics students and managers involved in Learning Spaces to share and engage with some key ideas issues and texts A central aim is to bring together some of the best research from across the many different disciplines concerned with learning spaces including education architecture anthropology human computer interaction estate planning and museum studies Reshaping Learning is thus intended for anyone interested in and wanting to think more about learning spaces whether as users clients or managers or who are want to better understand interactions between the social and the spatial Systems Thinking in Museums Yuha Jung,Ann Rowson Love,2017-10-06 Systems Thinking in Museums explores systems thinking and the practical implication of it using real life museum examples to illuminate various entry points and stages of implementation and their challenges and opportunities Its premise is that museums can be better off when they operate as open dynamic and learning systems as a whole as opposed to closed stagnant and status quo systems that are compartmentalized and hierarchical This book also suggests ways to incorporate systems thinking based on reflective questions and steps with hopes to encourage museum professionals to employ systems thinking in their own museum Few books explore theory in practice in meaningful and applicable ways this book offers to unravel complex theories as applied in everyday practice through examples from national and international museums

Place-Based Spaces for Networked Learning Lucila Carvalho,Peter Goodyear,Maarten de Laat,2016-07-01 With the boundaries of place softened and extended by digital communications technologies learning in a networked society necessitates new distributions of activity across time space media and people and this development is no longer exclusive to formally designated spaces such as school classrooms lecture halls or research laboratories Place based Spaces for Networked Learning explores how qualities of physical places make both formal and informal education in a networked society possible Through a series of investigations and case studies it illuminates the structural composition and functioning of complex learning environments This book offers a wealth of key design elements and attributes for productive learning that educational designers can reuse in multiple contexts The chapters examine how places are modified expanded or supplemented by networking technologies and practices in order to create spaces in which learners can collaboratively develop new understandings connections and capabilities Utilizing a range of diverse but complementary perspectives from anthropology archaeology architecture geography psychology sociology and urban studies Place based Spaces for Networked Learning addresses how material places and digital spaces are understood how sense can be made of new assemblages and configurations of tasks tools and people how the real time analysis of new flows of data can inform and entertain users of a space and how access to the digital realm changes our experiences with both places and other people Redisplaying Museum Collections Hannah Paddon,2016-04-08 This is the first book to examine in depth the multi million pound redisplay and reinterpretation process in British museums in the early twenty first century Acknowledging the importance of the Heritage Lottery Fund HLF as project catalyst Hannah Paddon explains and explores the complex process from the initial stages of project conceptualisation to the final stages of museum re opening and exhibition evaluation She also provides an in depth look using three case study museums at the factors which shape each museum redisplay project including topics such as museum architecture government agendas and the exhibition team Finally the book offers discussions and conclusions around pitfalls and successes and thoughts about the future of collection redisplay Inside the Freud Museums Joanne Morra,2017-12-11 Sigmund Freud spent the final year of his life at 20 Maresfield Gardens London surrounded by all his possessions in exile from the Nazis The long term home and workspace he left behind in Berggasse 19 Vienna is a seemingly empty space devoid of the great psychoanalyst s objects and artefacts Now museums both of these spaces resonate powerfully Since 1989 the Freud Museum London has held over 70 exhibitions by a distinctive range of artists including Louise Bourgeois Sophie Calle Mat Collishaw Susan Hiller Sarah Lucas and Tim Noble and Sue Webster The Sigmund Freud Museum Vienna houses a small but impressive contemporary art collection with work by John Baldessari Joseph Kosuth Jenny Holzer Franz West and Ilya Kabakov In this remarkable book Joanne Morra offers a nuanced analysis of these historical museums and their unique relationships to contemporary art Taking us on a journey through the site responsive artworks exhibitions and curatorial practices that intervene in the objects spaces and memories of these museums Joanne Morra offers a fresh experience of the history and practice of psychoanalysis of museums and contemporary art Re-shaping Cities Michael Guggenheim,Ola Söderström,2009-12-04 This original collection examines how architectural ideas social models and building forms circulate round the world and become mediated and adapted to local conditions The book shows how types such as skyscrapers mosques or living history museums are imported adapted and contested in different societies and how urban landscapes are reshaped by the global circulation of models drawn from elsewhere Written by scholars from different disciplinary backgrounds architecture anthropology geography linguistics science studies and sociology the book draws its inspiration from a series of different approaches and offers both original theoretical reflection and carefully crafted case studies The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2005 Urban Design-reshaping Our Cities Wayne Attoe,1995 Reshaping College Mathematics Mathematical Association of America. Committee on the Undergraduate Program in Mathematics,1989 Reshaping the World for the 21st Century Virginia Smith,2002 Concerns the future of relations between rich and poor countries in the coming century Museums and Communities Ivan Karp,Christine Mullen Kreamer,Steven Lavine,1992 Papers presented at a conference at the Smithsonian Institution International Center March 21 23 1990 Vernacular Architecture Newsletter ,2006 From Periphery to Center Pat Villeneuve,2007 This book examines museum education from the perspective of 33 authors from the field resulting in a collective vision elevating the function of education within museums A variety of perspectives offered throughout the collection of essays push further thinking and encourage robust debate Both museum practitioners and university level students will find the contents of this book useful as it delves into theory but it also informs on exemplary models of practice Museum education has developed much over the past 20 years yet there remains an opportunity to advance its position within art museums with effective practice and the creation of successful programs Institutionalization in Action Rhiannon Lorraine Crain,2009

Exhibiting Maori Conal McCarthy,2007-03-01 This title cannot be sold by Berg to customers in Australia and New Zealand Customers in these countries can purchase this title from Te Papa Museum Press in New Zealand This richly illustrated book presents a comprehensive assessment of the display of Maori culture from the nineteenth century to today In doing so Exhibiting Maori traces the long journey from curio to specimen artefact art and taonga treasure Drawing on extensive and groundbreaking research Exhibiting Maori reveals for the first time the remarkable story of Maori resistance to involvement in and eventual capture of the display of their culture Ranging across museums world fairs fine art and tourism Exhibiting Maori fuses museum studies anthropology and visual and material culture to uncover a history of active Maori engagement with the colonial culture of display Material Culture in America Helen Sheumaker,2008 You can tell a lot about people by looking at their stuff the things they make process and value That is the idea that drives the field of material culture in which scholars explore the meaning of objects of a given society This book is the first encyclopedia to look at the study of material culture and what it reveals about life in the United States Jacket Frederick Kiesler Shirley Haines-Cooke,2009 The material for this book has been taken from the 2006 thesis Frederick Kiesler TM s Art of This Century in New York 1942 1947 in the Context of the Twentieth Century Art Museum The prime objective was to establish why so few people remember Art of This Century which Kiesler designed for Peggy Guggenheim in 1942 and she ruthlessly closed in 1947 A second aim was to investigate why there has been so research carried out on the Gallery when it was acknowledged as a work of art in its own right at the time of opening Indeed in 2004 Thomas Krens the Guggenheim Foundation TM s director expressed concern that due to the lack of research it might slip into oblivion Such a statement raises questions as to why it has taken the Guggenheim Foundation over half a century to resurrect Art of This Century in the form of two exhibitions held in Frankfurt and Venice or instigate its own research The book opens with an historical account of the development of the modern art museum as well as an overview of Kiesler TM s life and multidisciplinary oeuvre His association with selected contemporary architectural theorists and architects is looked at to establish whether they had any influence on his eclectic thinking This is followed by a summary of Kiesler TM s manifesto On Correalism and Biotechnique A Definition of a New Approach to Building Design 1937 1939 The main body of the work is a detailed description of Art of This Century The notion that Kiesler TM s innovative theories and designs might be better understood in a twenty first century architectural context is finally explored This book finally restores Frederick Kiesler to his rightful place in the history of twentieth century art and architecture By a careful analysis of his sometimes fraught collaboration with the mercurial Peggy Guggenheim Haines Cooke uncovers the fascinating story of Kiesler TM s ground breaking new vision for the display of abstract art rendered all the more poignant by its significant yet largely subliminal influence on much of the best in recent museum and gallery architecture Dr Jonathan Hale University of Nottingham
