Real Life Homeschooling The Stories Of 21 Families Who Teach Their Children At Home:

Real-Life Homeschooling Rhonda Barfield,2002-05-18 The book that shows homeschooling in action What does it really mean when parents say they homeschool their child or children For Rhonda Barfield a homeschooler for the past 10 years the definition is as diverse as the 21 families she studies in this eye opening book Real Life Homeschooling From the city to the country apartments to split levels you ll enter each household and see education in action Discover the challenges and rewards of tailoring instruction to each child s needs while catering to his or her inquisitiveness and curiosity See why the number of children being taught by their parents is growing nationwide at home there are no overcrowded classrooms no unknown dangers lurking in the halls and no doubts as to the quality of the education Whether you are just contemplating homeschooling or are a veteran seeking fresh ideas and help in overcoming obstacles look no further Real life

Homeschooling shows just how practical and rewarding it is to educate children and provide them with what they need most you Real-Life Homeschooling Rhonda Barfield,2002-04 Recounts the experiences of twenty one families who homeschooled their children exploring the various teaching strategies that were used and discussing why some worked and others didn t Homeschooling the Challenging Child Christine Field,2005-02-01 Often families will choose homeschooling because they have children who cannot cope or thrive within traditional educational environments due to special physical or emotional needs Homeschooling the Challenging Child addresses these special education issues offering potential and current homeschooling families qualified and expert advice Experienced homeschool mom and author Christine Field will offer hope and direction for those seeking to offer their children the best educational opportunities available Serving

Homeschooled Teens and Their Parents Maureen T. Lerch,Janet Welch,2004-05-30 Today more than a million students are being educated at home and that figure increases at a rate of 7 14% annually Homeschooling is a growing trend in our society and public librarians are being called upon with increasing frequency to serve the needs of homeschooled students So just what are the needs of the homeschooled teen and how can you and your library meet those needs A former young adult librarian and a homeschool parent have joined forces to create this insightful guide and answer that question After reviewing the developmental and social needs of teens the authors demonstrate how those needs may be met in the public library setting You ll find a wealth of ideas for adapting every facet of your library service for this growing population from developing a homeschool collection to expanding services and creating special programs You ll also find suggestions on how to market what your library has to offer to homeschoolers You may even discover some new ways to employ the talents and time of these students and their families Extensive resource lists conclude the volume they will help you better serve home educated teens and their parents Living Simply with Children Marie Sherlock,2010-05-26 Raising children ranks as one of life s most rewarding adventures Yet between Mom and Dad working full time jobs endless carpooling of overscheduled youngsters and the never ending pressures to buy and consume family life can be incredibly needlessly complex What if you could find a way to spend more time with your children replace unnecessary activities with meaningful ones and teach your children an invaluable life lesson in the process Living Simply with Children offers a realistic blueprint for zeroing in on the pleasures of family life How and why to live simply and find more time to be with your children Activities and rituals that bring out the best in every family member Realistic ways to reclaim your children from corporate America Helping children of any age deal with peer pressure Raising kids who care about people and the planet How to focus on the good stuff with less stuff Including sections on limiting television environmentally friendly practices celebrating the holidays and tapping into the growing community of families who embrace simplicity this inspiring guide will show you how to raise children according to your own values and not those of the consumer culture as you enjoy both quality and quantity time with your family

Home Schooling In Full View Bruce S. Cooper, 2006-06-01 This book is a reader that describes discusses and analyzes homeschooling from an array of different and international perspectives We portray the energy of this movement looking at the history of education writ large in a larger social political and religious context Like most movements in education this one is both a reaction to the problems and inadequacies of existing schools and a new direction in schooling that stands on its own This book grew out of the efforts of Associates for Research on Private Education ARPE an international organization of scholars and practitioners affiliated with the American Education Research Association AERA which has spurred interest and research on private schools for over 30 years ARPE publishes quarterly the Private School MONITOR as a means for highlighting the newest developments in the field of private education
