Creative Evolution Henri Bergson, 2022-12-01 First published in French in 1907 Henri Bergson's Evolution creative is a scintillating and radical work by one of the great French philosophers of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries This outstanding new translation the first for over a hundred years brings one of Bergson's most important and ambitious works to a new generation of readers A sympathetic though critical reader of Darwin Bergson argues in Creative Evolution against a mechanistic reductionist view of evolution For Bergson all life emerges from a creative shared impulse which he famously terms élan vital and which passes like a current through different organisms and generations over time Whilst this impulse remains as forms of life diverge and multiply human life is characterized by a distinctive form of consciousness or intellect Yet as Bergson brilliantly shows the intellect's fragmentary and action oriented nature which he likens to the cinematograph means it alone cannot grasp nature's creativity and invention over time A major task of Creative Evolution is to reconcile these two elements For Bergson the answer famously lies in intuition which brings instinct and intellect together and takes us into the very interior of life A work of great rigour and imaginative richness that contributed to Bergson winning the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1927 Creative Evolution played an important and controversial role in the trajectory of twentieth century philosophy and continues to create significant discussion and debate The philosopher and psychologist William James who admired Bergson's work was writing an introduction to the first English translation of the book before his death in 1910 This new translation includes a foreword by Elizabeth Grosz and a helpful translator's introduction by Donald Landes Also translated for the first time are additional notes articles reviews and letters on the reception of Creative Evolution in biology mathematics and theology This edition includes fascinating commentaries by philosophers Maurice Merleau Ponty Georges Canguilhem and Gilles Deleuze

Baudelaire and the Aesthetics of Bad Faith Susan Blood,1997-04-01 This is a study of Baudelaire s canonization in the critical debates of the twentieth century focusing particularly on his role in the development of a modernist consciousness Much recent work on Baudelaire assumes his modernism by emphasizing his relationship to current critical preoccupations by sounding him out on issues of race and gender for example or by correcting his politics The author begins from the premise that this updating of Baudelaire mistakenly takes him for our contemporary Instead she attempts to treat modernism as a historical problem by seeing Baudelaire as engaged in a more difficult dialogue with twentieth century critics The book concentrates on two key moments in the literary history of the twentieth century the periods following each world war At these junctures French intellectuals intensely reconsidered their cultural patrimony and articulated something like a modernist consciousness Baudelaire stood at the center of this process becoming a sacred figure of modernism and his poetry contributed to a radical reorienting of aesthetic sensibilities For the post World War I period the author focuses on Paul Val ry s essay Baudelaire s Situation for post World War II on the virulent debate between Jean Paul Sartre and Georges Bataille over the question of Baudelaire s bad faith She argues that Sartre s resistance to the sacralization of Baudelaire and to the continuing formulation of a modernist ideology actually suggests a valuable way of rethinking Baudelaire s poetry and critiquing the modern consciousness She attempts to show that something like an aesthetics of bad faith exists and that it is a useful concept for understanding modernism in relationship to its own history Throughout Baudelaire's poetry is examined in detail with a focus on its relationship to his writings on caricature on the problem of the secret architecture and on the place of allegory in a symbolist poetics In the closing chapter the author analyzes Baudelaire's denunciation of photography which reveals the various tensions or bad faith implicit in the modernist consciousness De la fabrication additive à

Nancy, Blanchot Leslie Hill, 2018-09-30 The concept of community is one of the most frequently used and abused of recent philosophical or socio-political concepts In the 1980s faced with the imminent collapse of communism and the unchecked supremacy of free market capitalism the philosopher Jean-Luc Nancy in The Inoperative Community and the writer Maurice Blanchot in The Unavowable Community both thought it essential to rethink the fundamental basis of community as such More recently Nancy has renewed the debate by unexpectedly attacking Blanchot's account of community claiming that it embodies a dangerously nostalgic desire for mythic and religious communion This book examines the history and implications of this controversy It analyses in forensic detail Nancy's and Blanchot's contrasting interpretations of German Romanticism and the work of Heidegger Bataille and Marguerite Duras and examines closely their divergent approaches to the contradictory legacy of Christianity At a time when politics are increasingly inseparable from a deep-seated sense of crisis it provides an incisive account of what in the concept of community is thought yet crucially still remains unthought Numerical Control: Applications Jack Moorhead, 1980 Explores investigations of successful applications of NC in machining cutting pressworking other manufacturing processes
