Recent Portuguese Immigrants to Fall River, Massachusetts Dorothy Ann Gilbert, 1977 Recent Portuguese Immigrants to Fall River, Massachusetts Dorothy Ann Gilbert, 1989 Recent Portuguese Immigrants to Fall River, Massachusetts Dorothy Ann Gilbert, 1977 Minority and Cross-Cultural Aspects of Neuropsychological Assessment F. Richard Ferraro, 2015-07-16

Minority and cross cultural psychology is more relevant now than ever in our diverse world. Given the dramatic local and global changes occurring daily with regard to demographics, population changes, and immigration issues, minority and cross cultural psychology is fast becoming a respected and critical area of scientific study. Pair that with the fact that people of all cultures and racial groups are living longer and experiencing age related diseases and disorders, one can easily see the need for additional work on issues related to neuropsychological assessment. This new edition brings to the forefront recent developments by seasoned experts in the field. They offer up their newest projects in minority and cross cultural aspects of neuropsychological assessment and are joined by new up and coming professionals across a wide array of disciplines including psychology, medicine, and neuropsychology. Like the first edition, this updated collection sheds light on the ever growing need for adequate neuropsychological assessment to a wider subset of individuals crossing many cultural and minority barriers in the process. Continuously pushing the boundaries of neuropsychological assessment, this collection is essential reading for cognitive and clinical psychologists and neuropsychologists and a model text for advanced courses dealing with minority and cross cultural issues.

Manufacturing Catastrophe Shaun S. Nichols, 2024-01-12

American economic history has traditionally been told as a narrative of industrialization and affluence collapsing into globalization and industrial decay. Offering a reappraisal of this pattern, Manufacturing Catastrophe traces the successive rise and fall of the whaling, textile, garment, electronics, and high tech industries in Massachusetts over the past two hundred years. It shows how business, labor, and political leaders repeatedly mobilized the lure of crisis, cheap labor, low taxes, and generous manufacturing subsidies to pull and push both capital and workers across the continents, repeatedly remaking the pioneering industrial cities of Fall River and New Bedford. Workers ranging from migrating Azorean seamen to British weavers to Quebecois farmers and capitalists, including mobile manufacturers, globetrotting whalers, and multinational conglomerators participated in the creation of regional growth, and with it, American industrial ascendancy. Exploring the paradoxical and recurring coexistence of high unemployment and labor shortages in these cities, this book explains why recovery and growth have not necessarily translated into long term prosperity. In doing so, it illuminates how economic catastrophe was ironically a critical ingredient in the making of America's industrial hegemony.
