Reception Study From Literary Theory To Cultural Studies:

Reception Study James L. Machor, Philip Goldstein, 2001 First Published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Reception Study James L. Machor, Philip Goldstein, 2001 Reception study is an important tool for understanding how readers encounter texts and absorb information This up to date selection of the most important published work lays out the principles of reception study and its major theoreticians and goes on to show how the method is being widely used in areas as varied as cultural studies African American studies and the burgeoning field called the history of the book This volume presents the only complete account of reception study today

Communities of Cultural Value Philip Goldstein, 2001-01-01 Philip Goldstein is fast establishing himself as the doyen of reception study a discipline that assumes that the reader's interpretive practices explain a text's import In his latest work Communities of Cultural Value Goldstein delves again into the realm of literary criticism painting an absorbing picture of the changing nature of a growing more diversified readership and its challenge to professional literary study Goldstein's PostMarxist approach investigates how interpretive communities govern the reader's practices through lucid case studies that analyze the reception of texts and authors ranging from Jane Austen to John Le Carré

Communities of Cultural Values is an important addition to the continuing debate over art's aesthetic autonomy and the role of literary criticism in the 1990s and it will be most valuable to readers seeking to chart the changing socio-historical condition of literary study

The Theory and Practice of Reception Study Philip Goldstein, 2022-04-21 This book examines novels of Faulkner and Morrison as well as Mark Twain and Ralph Ellison in order to show that their works forcefully undermine the racial and sexual divisions characterizing both the South and contemporary culture in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Moreover the book discusses theories of reader response and reception study and elaborates a theory of reception study based on the historical or archeological methods of Michel Foucault As a consequence unlike most studies of American literature which discuss its historical contexts or prescribe its readers' responses this book explains the reception of these works including the academic criticism and reviews and because the internet exerts immense influence in the twenty-first century the on-line responses of ordinary readers Unlike most reception studies this book examines the institutional contexts of the readers' responses

Reading for History in the Damascus Document Maxine L. Grossman, 2018-12-24 Scholars tend to view the

Damascus Document as a historical source but a reading of the text in light of contemporary audience oriented literary criticism finds its emphasis in the ideological construction of history and communal identity rather than in the preservation of a historical record An introduction to contemporary literary criticism is followed by a series of thematic readings focusing on historical narrative priestly imagery and gender in the covenant community Each theme is examined in terms of its potential for multiple sometimes contradictory interpretations and for its place in the larger sectarian discourse This study offers an alternative approach to the historiography of ancient Jewish sectarianism acknowledging the presence of competing claims to shared traditions and the potential for changes in textual interpretation over time or among diverse communities

Theories of Reading Karin Littau, 2006-12-04 Bringing insights from book history to bear on literary history and theory this book points to a split between literary study that regards reading as a reducibly mental activity and a tradition reaching back to antiquity which assumed that reading was not only about sense making but also about sensation Envisioning Landscapes, Making Worlds Stephen Daniels, Dydia DeLyser, J. Nicholas Entrikin, Doug Richardson, 2012-03-15 The past decade has witnessed a remarkable resurgence in the intellectual interplay between geography and the humanities in both academic and public circles The metaphors and concepts of geography now permeate literature philosophy and the arts Concepts such as space place landscape mapping and territory have become pervasive as conceptual frameworks and core metaphors in recent publications by humanities scholars and well known writers Envisioning Landscapes Making Worlds contains over twenty five contributions from leading scholars who have engaged this vital intellectual project from various perspectives both inside and outside of the field of geography The book is divided into four sections representing different modes of examining the depth and complexity of human meaning invested in maps attached to landscapes and embedded in the spaces and places of modern life The topics covered range widely and include interpretations of space place and landscape in literature and the visual arts philosophical reflections on geographical knowledge cultural imagination in scientific exploration and travel accounts and expanded geographical understanding through digital and participatory methodologies The clashing and blending of cultures caused by globalization and the new technologies that profoundly alter human environmental experience suggest new geographical narratives and representations that are explored here by a multidisciplinary group of authors This book is essential reading for students scholars and interested general readers seeking to understand the new synergies and creative interplay emerging from this broad intellectual engagement with meaning and geographic experience Shelley's German Afterlives S. Schmid, 2007-04-16 Schmid shows how reception processes work across linguistic national and cultural boundaries taking the English Romantic poet Shelley's German reception as a case study It also highlights Anglo German literary and cultural relations of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and supplies a theoretical framework for further analysis Receptions of Antiquity, Constructions of Gender in European Art, 1300-1600, 2015-06-24 Receptions of Antiquity Constructions of Gender in European Art 1300 1600 presents scholarship in classical reception at its nexus with art history and gender studies It considers the ways that artists patrons collectors and viewers in late medieval and early modern Europe used ancient Greek and Roman art texts myths and history to interact with and shape notions of gender The essays examine Giotto s Arena Chapel frescoes Michelangelo s Medici Chapel personifications Giulio Romano s decoration of the Palazzo del Te and other famous and lesser known sculptures paintings engravings book illustrations and domestic objects as well as displays of ancient art Visual responses to antiquity in this era the volume demonstrates bore a complex and significant relationship to the construction of and challenges to contemporary gender norms
