Relationships Rights and Legal Pluralism Mateusz Stępień, Anna Juzaszek, 2024-08-01 This interdisciplinary book brings together leading social and legal scholars to tackle the incompatibility of marriage laws with contemporary social reality in Europe Their critique is based on the assumption that individuals should be able to choose how they organise their close relationships The contributors emphasise the importance of pluralism of beliefs values cultures and lifestyles and the consequent need for legal recognition to make individuals private choices valid and respected The first part of the book establishes the foundation for the subsequent chapters by exploring the advantages and challenges of focusing on values while accommodating relationship design plurality the impact of the European Court of Human Rights on the issue and the transformation of the institution of marriage The second part presents different legal responses to non state marriages particularly religious marriages among Muslim communities and proposals for reform The third part of the book features empirical research on the marital experiences of two communities Muslims and migrants The chapters concentrate on polygyny among female converts to Islam the importance of religious knowledge for practising Muslim women in securing rights in their marital relationships transnational and interreligious marriages and the impact of acculturative orientation and position in the dual labour market on the choice of life partner among Polish migrant women The book will be of interest to academics researchers and policymakers working in the areas of human rights law family law legal anthropology law and religion socio legal studies feminism and queer studies and sociology of family

Making Place for Muslims in Contemporary India Kalyani Devaki Menon, 2022-05-15 Making Place for Muslims in Contemporary India looks at how religion provides an arena to make place and challenge the majoritarian exclusionary and introverted tendencies of contemporary India Places do not simply exist They are made and remade by the acts of individuals and communities at particular historical moments In India today the place for Muslims is shrinking as the revanchist Hindu Right increasingly realizes its vision of a Hindu nation Religion enables Muslims to re envision India as a different kind of place one to which they unquestionably belong Analyzing the religious narratives practices and constructions of religious subjectivity of diverse groups of Muslims in Old Delhi Kalyani Devaki Menon reveals the ways in which Muslims variously contest the insular and singular understandings of nation that dominate the sociopolitical landscape of the country and make place for themselves Menon shows how religion is concerned not just with the divine and transcendental but also with the anxieties and aspirations of people living amid violence exclusion and differential citizenship Ultimately Making Place for Muslims in Contemporary India allows us to understand religious acts narratives and constructions of self and belonging as material forces as forms of the political that can make room for individuals communities and alternative imaginings in a world besieged by increasingly xenophobic understandings of nation and place
