The water is depicted with various shades of blue, white, and grey, showing turbulent flow and white water rapids as it cascades over dark, jagged rocks. The banks are covered in lush green grass and some small plants. In the upper portion of the image, there is a semi-transparent green rectangular box containing the title text in a white, elegant script font.

Wild Waters Richard Nairn, 2023-04-27 I often sit by the bank of the small river that flows through our farm in County Wicklow fascinated by its many moods Getting to know a river is like reading the story of a person's life from its young energetic stages in the hills to the slower moving mature river through to the tranquil water of lakes and finally to its resting place in the sea Richard Nairn is an ecologist who has been visiting waterways around Ireland for over half a century fascinated by how they sustain and enrich our lives Here he sets out on a year long adventure to explore every stretch and tributary of the Avonmore River which runs through Co Wicklow From source to sea he immerses himself in the wildlife archaeology history and people connected to the river Travelling to explore more of Ireland's rivers lakes wet woodlands ponds and canals Richard details encounters with dragonflies crayfish otters and great flocks of migratory waterbirds and finds himself awestruck by the sense of a lost wilderness they convey With our waterways now under serious threat this is a love letter to Ireland's rivers and lakes and a reminder of what we stand to lose Opens the window into a watery world Personal yet panoramic Colin Stafford Johnson filmmaker
