Robert L Vann Of The Pittsburgh Courier Politics And Black Journalism:

Robert L. Vann of the Pittsburgh Courier: Politics and Black Journalism Andrew Bunie, 1974 Prologue, 1979

From Jack Johnson to LeBron James Chris Lamb, 2016 The campaign for racial equality in sports has both reflected and affected the campaign for racial equality in the United States Some of the most significant and publicized stories in this campaign in the twentieth century have happened in sports including of course Jackie Robinson in baseball Jesse Owens Tommie Smith and John Carlos in track Arthur Ashe in tennis and Jack Johnson Joe Louis and Muhammad Ali in boxing Long after the full integration of college and professional athletics race continues to play a major role in sports Not long ago sportswriters and sportscasters ignored racial issues They now contribute to the public's evolving racial attitudes on issues both on and off the field ranging from integration to self-determination to masculinity From Jack Johnson to LeBron James examines the intersection of sports race and the media in the twentieth century and beyond The essays are linked by a number of questions including How did the black and white media differ in content and context in their reporting of these stories How did the media acknowledge race in their stories Did the media recognize these stories as historically significant Considering how media coverage has evolved over the years the essays begin with the racially charged reporting of Jack Johnson's reign as heavyweight champion and carry up to the present covering the media narratives surrounding the Michael Vick dogfighting case in a supposedly post-racial era and the media's handling of LeBron James's announcement to leave Cleveland for Miami

Jim Crow Nikki Brown, Barry M. Stentiford, 2014-10-28 This one-volume reference work examines a broad range of topics related to the establishment, maintenance, and eventual dismantling of the discriminatory system known as Jim Crow Many Americans imagine that African Americans' struggle to achieve equal rights has advanced in a linear fashion from the end of slavery until the present In reality for more than six decades African Americans had their civil rights and basic human rights systematically denied in much of the nation Jim Crow A Historical Encyclopedia of the American Mosaic sheds new light on how the systematic denigration of African Americans after slavery known collectively as Jim Crow was established, maintained, and eventually dismantled Written in a manner appropriate for high school and junior high students as well as undergraduate readers this book examines the period of Jim Crow after slavery that is often overlooked in American history curricula An introductory essay frames the work and explains the significance and scope of this regrettable period in American history Written by experts in their fields the accessible entries will enable readers to understand the long hard road before the inception of the Civil Rights Movement in the 20th century while also gaining a better understanding of the experiences of minorities in the United States African Americans in particular

Black Pulp Brooks E. Hefner, 2021-12-21 A deep dive into mid-century African American newspapers exploring how Black pulp fiction reassembled genre formulas in the service of racial justice In recent years Jordan Peele's Get Out, Marvel's Black Panther, and HBO's Watchmen have been lauded for the innovative ways they repurpose genre conventions to criticize white supremacy celebrate Black resistance and imagine a more racially just world important progressive messages widely spread precisely because they are packaged in popular genres But it turns out such generic retooling for antiracist purposes is nothing new As Brooks E Hefner's Black Pulp shows this tradition of antiracist genre revision begins even earlier than recent studies of Black superhero comics of the 1960s have revealed Hefner traces it back to a phenomenon that began in the 1920s to serialized and sometimes syndicated genre stories written by Black authors in Black newspapers with large circulations among middle and working class Black readers From the pages of the Pittsburgh Courier and the Baltimore Afro American Hefner recovers a rich archive of African American genre fiction from the 1920s through the mid 1950s spanning everything from romance hero adventure and crime stories to westerns and science fiction Reading these stories Hefner explores how their authors deployed critiqued and reassembled genre formulas and the pleasures they offer to readers in the service of racial justice to criticize Jim Crow segregation racial capitalism and the sexual exploitation of Black women to imagine successful interracial romance and collective sociopolitical progress and to cheer Black agency even retributive violence in the face of white supremacy These popular stories differ significantly from contemporaneous now canonized African American protest novels that tend to represent Jim Crow America as a deterministic machine and its Black inhabitants as doomed victims Widely consumed but since forgotten these genre stories and Hefner's incisive analysis of them offer a more vibrant understanding of African American literary history

A Different Mirror for Young People Ronald Takaki, 2012-10-16 A longtime professor of Ethnic Studies at the University of California at Berkeley Ronald Takaki was recognized as one of the foremost scholars of American ethnic history and diversity When the first edition of A Different Mirror was published in 1993 Publishers Weekly called it a brilliant revisionist history of America that is likely to become a classic of multicultural studies and named it one of the ten best books of the year Now Rebecca Stefoff who adapted Howard Zinn's best selling A People's History of the United States for younger readers turns the updated 2008 edition of Takaki's multicultural masterwork into A Different Mirror for Young People Drawing on Takaki's vast array of primary sources and staying true to his own words whenever possible A Different Mirror for Young People brings ethnic history alive through the words of people including teenagers who recorded their experiences in letters diaries and poems Like Zinn's A People's History Takaki's A Different Mirror offers a rich and rewarding people's view perspective on the American story

People, Poverty, and Politics Thomas H. Coode, John F. Bauman, 1981 This book examines the impact of the Great Depression on Pennsylvania covering in addition to politics such topics as social and physical deprivation black housing labor conflict relief and the revival of the United Mine Workers of America Illustrated

Madison Avenue and the Color Line Jason Chambers, 2008 Until now most works on the history of African Americans in advertising have focused on the depiction of blacks in advertisements Madison Avenue and the Color Line breaks new ground by examining the history of black advertising agency employees and agency owners

The African American Newspaper Patrick S. Washburn, Medill School of Journalism, 2006-12-21 Winner 2007 Tankard

Award In March of 1827 the nation's first black newspaper appeared in New York City to counter attacks on blacks by the city's other papers From this signal event The African American Newspaper traces the evolution of the black newspaper and its ultimate decline for more than 160 years until the end of the twentieth century The book chronicles the growth of the black press into a powerful and effective national voice for African Americans during the period from 1910 to 1950 a period that proved critical to the formation and gathering strength of the civil rights movement that emerged so forcefully in the following decades In particular author Patrick S Washburn explores how the Pittsburgh Courier and the Chicago Defender led the way as the two most influential black newspapers in U S history effectively setting the stage for the civil rights movement's successes Washburn also examines the numerous reasons for the enormous decline of black newspapers in influence and circulation in the decades immediately following World War II His book documents as never before how the press's singular accomplishments provide a unique record of all areas of black history and a significant and shaping affect on the black experience in America The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America
