Berns, 2022-04-12

After their expulsion from Spain in 1492 Sephardi Jews such as Isaac Abravanel Abraham Saba and Isaac Arama wrote biblical commentaries that stressed the significance of land They interpreted Judaism as a tradition whose best expression and ultimate fulfillment took place away from cities and in rural settings Iberian Jewish authors rooted their moral teachings in an ethical treatment of the natural world elucidating ancient agricultural laws and scrutinizing the physical context and built environments of Bible stories The Land Is Mine asks what inspired this and suggests that the answer lies not in timeless exegetical or theological trends but in the material realities of late medieval and early modern Iberia during a period of drastic changes in land use The book uses a highly traditional source base in a decidedly untraditional way In Jewish Studies Andrew D Berns observes biblical commentary is typically studied as an intramural activity Though scholars have conceded that Jewish scriptural exegesis welcomes material and ideas from other fields and traditions little to no work treats premodern Hebrew Bible commentary as also drawing upon Classical and Christian sources as well as contemporary writings on land management and political economy Abravanel Saba and Arama were engaged with questions that had broad resonance during their lives the proper way to treat the land the best occupations to pursue and the ideal setting for human community Scriptural commentary was the forum in which they addressed these problems and posed solutions to them A work of intellectual history The Land Is Mine demonstrates that it is impossible to understand Jewish culture without considering the physical realities on which it depended

The Jubilee from Leviticus to Qumran John Bergsma, 2007-03-31 The observation of the Jubilee Year 2000 by many Christian groups worldwide generated renewed interest in the theological historical and socio economic aspects of the biblical jubilee This book begins with an analysis of the historical origins of the jubilee institution in ancient Israel and then traces the reinterpretation of the jubilee and the text of Leviticus 25 through the Old Testament the Second Temple literature and the Qumran documents It demonstrates that with the passage of time the socio economic implementation of the jubilee is increasingly de emphasized in favor of an eschatological interpretation in which the jubilee itself functions as a type of the final age and cycles of jubilee years are employed to calculate when this age will arrive

Year Book of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, 1921      Christian Hebraism in the Reformation Era (1500-1660) Stephen G. Burnett, 2012-01-06 Christian Hebraism in early modern Europe has traditionally been interpreted as the pursuit of a few exceptional scholars but in the sixteenth century it became an intellectual movement involving hundreds of authors and printers and thousands of readers The Reformation transformed Christian Hebrew scholarship into an academic discipline supported by both Catholics and Protestants This book places Christian Hebraism in a larger context by discussing authors and their books as mediators of Jewish learning printers and booksellers as its transmitters and the impact of press controls in shaping the public discussion of Hebrew and Jewish texts Both Jews and Jewish converts played an important role in creating this new and unprecedented form of Jewish learning
