Shen Pao-chen and China's Modernization in the Nineteenth Century David Pong, 1994-01-28 A look at the life of Shen Pao chen who devoted his life to building China s first modern naval dockyard and academy His successes and failures shed new light on the story of China s efforts at modernisation The Cambridge Economic History of China Debin

Ma, Richard von Glahn, 2022-02-24 A comprehensive survey of Chinese economic history from 1800 to the present from an international team of leading experts Western Technology and China's Industrial Development Hsien-ch'un

Wang, 2022-04-22 This book explores how steam engine technology was transferred into nineteenth century China in the second half of the nineteenth century by focusing on the transmission of knowledge and skills It takes on the long term problem in historiography that puts too much emphasis on politics but ignores the techno scientific and institutional requirements for launching such an endeavor It examines how translations broke linguistic and conceptual barriers and brought new a understanding of heat to the Chinese readership It also explores how the Fuzhou Navy Yard s shipbuilding and training program trained China s first generation of shipbuilding workers and engineers It argues that conservatism against technology was not to blame for China s slow development in steamship building Rather it was government officials failure to realize the scale of institutional and techno scientific changes required in importing and disperse new knowledge and skills Science In China, 1600-1900: Essays By Benjamin A Elman Benjamin A Elman, 2015-05-07 Distinguished historian Benjamin A Elman s collective volume on the history of science in imperial China brings together over 30 years of historical literature on the subject With updates to the literature and new material including transcripts of podcasts and translated interview articles Science in China takes the reader on a journey starting in the early 17th century with the missionary efforts of the Jesuits in China and ending with the Protestant missions in the 19th century These two milestone encounters brought Western sciences to local Chinese scholars with great success in shaping modern Chinese science Elman studies the interaction between Western and Chinese sciences through philological research and evidence and treats the two encounters not as separate events but as a continuum of creative exchange of scientific knowledge and discourse Robert

Hart and Sino-Foreign Disputes in Qing China, 1863-1908 Yorgos Moraitis, 2025-07-17 This book investigates the role of Sir Robert Hart in China s early engagement with Western international law covering the period from Hart s earliest days as Inspector General of the foreign dominated Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs CIMC to his final years in China 1863 1908 Drawing on Hart s personal records particularly his diaries and correspondence with CIMC officials and various political figures as well as Customs Service official publications records of the British Foreign Office Chinese official papers newspapers and other contemporary publications the book focuses on Sino foreign jurisdictional disputes in which Hart was involved They are used as case studies to examine his role and more broadly that of the CIMC in influencing contemporary perceptions in the West about China s status vis vis Western nation states Going beyond portraying Hart as a mere broker

the book delves into his complex and multi faceted character It examines his idiosyncratic approach to Qing engagement with the West particularly focusing on his proposals for dealing with international institutions While these proposals had the potential to strengthen China they sought to do so largely on Western terms ultimately undermining China s ability to function as an independent state By analysing Hart s character and his engagement with Western international law the author aims to provide a nuanced understanding of the complexities surrounding Qing China s interaction with the West It highlights the ambivalence exhibited by both Qing and Western officials emphasising the challenges and opportunities in negotiations based on Western legal principles Contributing to discussion on whether international structures could be utilised to bolster Qing sovereignty this book will provide insights for those researching Chinese history diplomatic history and international relations and international law

Manslaughter, Markets, and Moral Economy Thomas M. Buoye, 2006-11-02 In this book Thomas Buoye examines the impact of large scale economic change on social conflict in eighteenth century China He draws upon a large body of actual documented homicide cases originating in property disputes to recreate the social tensions of rural China during the Qianlong reign 1736 1795 The development of property rights a process that had begun in the Ming dynasty was accompanied by other changes that fostered disruption and conflict including an explosion in the population growth and the increasing strain on land and resources and increasing commercialization in agriculture Buoye challenges the markets and moral economy theories of economic behaviour Applying the theories of Douglass North for the first time to this subject he uses an institutional framework to explain seemingly irrational economic choices Buoye examines demographic and technological factors ideology and political and economic institutions in rural China to understand the link between economic and social change
