Shifting Time Social Policy And The Future Of Work:

Social Transformation in Rural Canada John R. Parkins, Maureen G. Reed, 2012-12-06 The rapidly changing nature of life in Canadian rural communities is more than a simple response to economic conditions People living in rural places are part of a new social agenda characterized by transformation of livelihoods landscapes and social relations these profound changes invite us to reconsider the meanings of community culture and citizenship Social Transformation in Rural Canada presents the work of researchers from a variety of fields who explore the dynamics of social transformation in rural settlements across several regions and sectors of the Canadian landscape This volume provides a nuanced portrait of how local forms of action adaptation identity and imagination are reshaping aboriginal and non aboriginal communities in rural Canada Unlike many previous studies this work looks at rural communities not simply as places affected by external forces but as incubators of change and social units with agency and purpose many of which provide exemplary models for other communities facing challenges of transition

Ibss: Political Science: 1994 British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics, 1995-12-08 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences

The Emergence of Social Security in Canada Dennis Guest, 1997 This third edition of Dennis Guest's book provides the most complete and up to date history of social welfare in this country Yet it also offers insights into the nuts and bolts of policy creation and explodes recent myths that underlie the current residual approach to social policy such as death by deficit and the inevitable demise of the Canada Pension Plan The Emergence of Social Security in Canada is both an important historical resource and an engrossing tale in its own right and it will be of great interest to anyone concerned about Canadian social policy

Cutting Edge Jim Davis, Thomas Hirschl, Michael Stack, 1997 The rapid expansion of laborless production systems creates enormous instability Money previously paid in wages is spent on technology Workers lose jobs to robotic intelligence and therefore have no money to buy the goods produced by the technology CUTTING EDGE provides an up to the minute analysis of the complex relations between technology and work and how jobs and living standards can be protected

Manufacturing Guilt (2nd edition) Barrie Anderson, Dawn Anderson, 2021-01-11T00:00:00Z Manufacturing Guilt 2nd edition updates the cases presented in the first edition and includes two new chapters one concerning the case of James Driskell and another regarding Dr Charles Smith whose role in forensic pathology evidence led to several wrongful convictions In this new edition the authors demonstrate that the same factors at play in the criminalization of the powerless and marginalized are found in cases of wrongful conviction Contrary to popular belief wrongful convictions are not due simply to unintended errors but rather are too often the result of the deliberate actions of those working in the criminal justice system Using Canadian cases of miscarriages of justice the authors argue that understanding wrongful convictions and how to prevent them is incomplete outside the broader societal context in which they occur particularly regarding racial and social inequality An Unruly World? Andrew Herod, Geroid O Tuathail, Susan M. Roberts, 2002-09-11 An Unruly World explores the diverse conundrums thrown up by seemingly unruly globalization Examining how fast transnational capitalism is re making the rules of the game in a wide variety of different places domains and sectors the authors focus on a wide range of issues from analysis of soft capitalism and the post Cold War organizational drives of international trade unions to the clamour of states to reinvent welfare policy and the efforts of citizen groups to challenge trade and financial regimes An Unruly World argues that we are not living in a world bereft of rules and rulers the rules governing the global economy today are more strictly enforced by international organizations and rhetoric than ever before The Real World of Technology Ursula M. Franklin, 1999 In this expanded edition of her bestselling 1989 CBC Massey Lectures renowned Canadian scientist and humanitarian Ursula M Franklin examines the impact of technology upon our lives and addresses the extraordinary changes in the bit sphere since The Real World of Technology was first published In four new chapters Franklin tackles contentious issues such as the dilution of privacy and intellectual property rights the impact of the current technology on government and governance the shift from consumer capitalism to investment capitalism and the influence of the Internet upon the craft of writing Shifting Time Armine Yalnizyan, Ran Ide, Arthur J. Cordell, 1994 This text presents two essays Securing society creating Canadian social policy and The new tools implications for the future of work The essays discuss the decline of work and its meaning while considering the new realities of work The job search is obstructed by technological progress A situation which results in loss of tax revenue fewer people in standard employment and sociological and moral consequences The proposed solutions for these problems include suggestions ranging from an equitable distribution of wealth to a national strategy for child care The Privatization of Care Pat Armstrong, Hugh Armstrong, 2019-09-25 Nursing homes are where some of the most vulnerable live and work In too many homes the conditions of work make it difficult to make care as good as it can be For the last eight years an international team from Germany Sweden Norway the UK the US and Canada have been searching for promising practices that treat residents families and staff with dignity and respect in ways that can also bring joy While we did find ideas worth sharing we also saw a disturbing trend toward privatization Privatization is the process of moving away not only from public delivery and public payment for health services but also from a commitment to shared responsibility democratic decision making and the idea that the public sector operates according to a logic of service to all This book documents moves toward privatization in the six countries and their consequences for families staff residents and eventually us all None of the countries has escaped pressure from powerful forces in and outside government pushing for privatization in all its forms However the wide variations in the extent and nature of privatization indicate privatization is not inevitable and our research shows there are alternatives Canada-Australia Kate Burridge, Lois Foster, Gerry Turcotte, 1997-08-15 This volume is the result of the Association for Canadian Studies in Australia and New Zealand ACSANZ 1995 conference held at La Trobe University in

Melbourne Australia A special feature of the conference though not its exclusive focus was trade relations But as with all ACSANZ conferences the papers were wide ranging and contributors were not limited to a single theme This publication is a refereed collection from more than sixty papers that were presented and range from discussions of immigration policy in Canada and Australia to architectural practices in British Columbia from Canadian influences on Australia s economic development to issues of identity politics in each nation s literature In addition the collection represents major research in the areas of globalization migration pluralism and ethnic relations with a strongly though not exclusively comparative orientation This work is a co publication with the International Council for Canadian Studies
