Over the past 350 years an untold number of ships have met their end along the northern Oregon and southern Washington coasts Shipwrecks of the Pacific Northwest investigates some of the most compelling historic shipwrecks from the infamous to the nearly forgotten Explore a handful of these vessels fated to have their final resting place along 150 miles of the rugged Northwest coastline including near the dangerous mouth of the Columbia River Combining archaeological analysis and new research this unique collection uncovers the tales of peril tragedy and heroism along with the tangible legacies and an exploration of what remains Possible Sources of Wreck Information National Ocean Survey, 1982 Possible Sources of Wreck Information , 1983 A listing of agencies institutions museums libraries and individuals that provide data relating to charted shipwrecks Historic Shipwrecks of the Southern Gulf Islands of British Columbia Jacques Marc, Warren Oliver Bush, British Columbia s rugged Southern Gulf Islands enticed many pioneers explorers colonists miners and adventurers in the mid 19th century Fog wind strong currents and the lack of aids to navigation made navigating these striking and treacherous islands a hazardous business Many vessels and seafarers did not survive their intended voyages and their forgotten remains now litter the sea floor visited only by intrepid divers searching for clues to the past As one reads this book stories will unfold which remind us that not so long ago travelling by ship along the British Columbia coast would have challenged even the most seasoned mariner and that danger lurked below the water s surface Historic Shipwrecks of the Southern Gulf Islands of British Columbia is a compilation of 14 stories about Shipwrecks throughout those islands This book not only follows the history of each vessel and their loss but also describes for the lay person what divers will see when they dive on the sites today This book is a must have for those with an interest in British Columbia s maritime history It is one of a series of shipwreck publications produced by the Underwater Archaeological Society of British Columbia to make the province s submerged cultural history accessible to everyone Washington Disasters Rob McNair-Huff, Natalie McNair-Huff, 2015-12-15 True accounts of major disasters in Washington history are retold in this engagingly written collection From The Seattle fire of 1889 the 1910 train avalanche on Stevens Pass and the 1915 Ravensdale Coal Mine explosion the 1955 airliner crash in residential Riverton to the 1980 Mount St Helens eruption Washington has been home to some of the nation s most dramatic moments Each story reveals not only the circumstances surrounding the disaster and the magnitude of the devastation but also the courage and ingenuity displayed by those who survived and the heroism of those who helped others often risking their own lives in rescue efforts The Book of Shipwrecks ,1836 Lighthouses and Lifesaving on Washington's Outer Coast William S. Hanable, Washington's storm ridden outer coast stretches from Cape Disappointment at the mouth of the Columbia River to Cape Flattery at the entrance to the Strait of Juan de Fuca a distance of about 150 miles Historians have labeled these waters the Graveyard of the Pacific and the Unforgiving Coast Despite their hazards sea routes to from and along the coast have been busy Maritime fur traders and explorers warships Gold Rush shipping passenger vessels lumber carriers break bulk freighters container ships and tankers have plied these waters Concurrently fisheries developed along the coast adding to the number of vessels at risk To assist mariners sailing these waters the United States built its first lighthouse on the Washington coast at Cape Disappointment in 1856 Additional lighthouses lightships and lifesaving stations soon followed With more than 180 images from archives throughout the Pacific Northwest this collection documents their history Ancient Ocean Crossings Stephen C. Jett,2017-06-06 Paints a compelling picture of impressive pre Columbian cultures and Old World civilizations that contrary to many prevailing notions were not isolated from one another In Ancient Ocean Crossings Reconsidering the Case for Contacts with the Pre Columbian Americas Stephen Jett encourages readers to reevaluate the common belief that there was no significant interchange between the chiefdoms and civilizations of Eurasia and Africa and peoples who occupied the alleged terra incognita beyond the great oceans More than a hundred centuries separate the time that Ice Age hunters are conventionally thought to have crossed a land bridge from Asia into North America and the arrival of Columbus in the Bahamas in 1492 Traditional belief has long held that earth's two hemispheres were essentially cut off from one another as a result of the post Pleistocene meltwater fed rising oceans that covered that bridge The oceans along with arctic climates and daunting terrestrial distances formed impermeable barriers to interhemispheric communication This viewpoint implies that the cultures of the Old World and those of the Americas developed independently Drawing on abundant and concrete evidence to support his theory for significant pre Columbian contacts Jett suggests that many ancient peoples had both the seafaring capabilities and the motives to cross the oceans and in fact did so repeatedly and with great impact His deep and broad work synthesizes information and ideas from archaeology geography linguistics climatology oceanography ethnobotany genetics medicine and the history of navigation and seafaring making an innovative and persuasive multidisciplinary case for a new understanding of human societies and their diffuse but interconnected development Shipwrecks Off Juan de Fuca James A.
