Kerry Meakin

Shop Window Design:

The Professionalization of Window Display in Britain, 1919-1939 Kerry Meakin, 2024-09-05 This book provides the first comprehensive history of window display as a practice and profession in Britain during the dynamic period of 1919 to 1939. In recent decades the disciplines of retail history, business history, design, and cultural history have contributed to the study of department stores and other types of shops. However, these studies have only made passing references to window display and its role in retail society and culture. Kerry Meakin investigates the conditions that enabled window display to become a professional practice during the interwar period, exploring the shift in display styles, developments within education and training, and the international influence on methods and techniques. Piecing together the evidence, visual and written, about people, events, organisations, exhibitions, and debates, Meakin provides a critical examination of this vital period of design history, highlighting major display designers and artists. The book reveals the modernist aesthetic developments that influenced high street displays and how they introduced passersby to modern art movements.

Store Window Design Sandra Moya, 2007 As well as offering the products on display added value, store window design contributes to defining the philosophy and aesthetics of each brand, since the store window also displays the imagination and inventiveness of the manufacturers. Store windows tell us which are the latest fashions or which products will be next season's fashion. This volume constitutes a journey through the history and evolution of store window design and invites us to enter this incredible world of fantasy and creativity.

Forefront Shonquis Moreno, 2005 A pane of glass no more than three inches thick separates store from sidewalk. On one side an air-conditioned interior welcomes those who can afford the merchandise inside; on the other, from the weather-beaten street, passersby may, in the time-honored ritual of window shopping, look for free. Window retail displays of the high-end kind, in which a temporary mise en scène presents expensive merchandise, have been neglected as a design discipline, although they play a significant role in our consumer culture. Forefront features displays by such designers as Simon Doonan, David Hoey, John Field, Janet Wardley, and Kozo Fujimoto in venues including Barneys, Bergdorf Goodman, Gucci, Hermès, Moschino, Shreve Crump Low, and Vin & Co. Window dressers and window shoppers alike will delight in this colorful parade of displays.

Shop Window, Flagship, Common Ground Judith A. Muskett, 2019-11-30 How are cathedrals and churches understood? Are they shop windows through which to gaze at the riches on offer within the Christian life? Are they flagships of the Spirit? Are they both sacred spaces and community utilities? Shop Window, Flagship, Common Ground views the rich ministry and innovative mission of cathedrals through the novel lens of metaphor, and it offers comparative insights on cathedrals and cathedral-like churches. Located in the emerging international field of cathedral studies, the book explores the usage and inferences of a range of metaphors, including shop windows of the Church of England, flagships of the Spirit, beacons of the Christian faith, magnets, and sacred space. Common Ground. This volume also shows how such metaphors can stimulate different types of research about the function of cathedral and church buildings.

With a Foreword by Professor Grace Davie the book suggests that cathedrals and cathedral like churches may play a role within vicarious religion theory It will provide a thought provoking critique for practitioners and a valuable contribution for scholars of cathedral studies congregational studies and ecclesiology

Methods, Models, Simulations and Approaches Towards a General Theory of Change Gianfranco Minati, 2012 Other approaches are based on considering 1 periodic changes in structure as for processes of self organisation 2 non periodic but coherent changes in structure as for processes of emergence 3 the quantum level of description Papers in the book study the problem considering its transdisciplinary nature i e systemic properties studied per se and not within specific disciplinary contexts The aim of these studies is to outline a transdisciplinary theory of change in systemic properties Such a theory should have simultaneous corresponding and eventually hierarchical disciplinary aspects as expected for a general theory of emergence

Predicting Perceptions: Proceedings of the 3rd International Conference on Appearance Stefano Padilla, Mike J Chantler, Julie M Harris, Michael R Pointer, 2012-05-03 Beauty is in the eye of the beholder and appearance lies in the mind of the observer The latter is playing an increasingly important role in nearly all of our buying decisions it informs us as to the quality of an automobile cabin the desirability of an iPhone the handle of a woollen sweater the list is endless Given the exponential rise in internet commerce and the ubiquity of smart devices the ability to predict buyers perceptions formed from interaction with digital media is maybe more important than those obtained by handling the real article Thus the science of appearance metrology is becoming increasingly critical It concerns the development of methodologies procedures and equipment which allow us to predict observers perceptions The field is therefore highly multidisciplinary physical measurement psychophysics media generation image processing statistics and vision science This book is a compilation of recent research relating to perception and appearance

The Art Teacher's Guide to Exploring Art and Design in the Community Ilona Szekely, 2021-09-09 How can community art build connection in diverse communities Where is the art in contemporary libraries How do you bring subway art into the classroom Drawing on an abundance of examples from Finland Italy New Zealand Spain and the USA including the NYC 2nd Ave Subway the Detroit's Heidelberg Project the Favel Painting Foundation and bicycle rack sculpture Szekely inspires readers to look beyond the classroom walls to develop meaningful art experiences for students She shows the myriad art forms media expressions and design professions that have the influence and potential to shape the local environment reaching far beyond the traditional museum and gallery venue Underpinned by a clear philosophical foundation the field tested approaches show readers how to go beyond the study of reproductions or dwelling on of the masters who are framed in art museums instead having meaningful art experiences using everyday objects and diverse collective experiences She also shows that innovative and exciting art lessons don t need large amounts of funding transportation or even a museum within the local community Each chapter includes photographs talking points and key lesson ideas along with links to further resources

Sculpture and the Vitrine JohnC. Welchman, 2017-07-05 Vitrines and glass cabinets are familiar apparatuses that have in large part defined modern modes of display and visibility both within and beyond the museum They separate objects from their contexts group them with other objects both similar and dissimilar and often serve to reinforce their intrinsic or aesthetic values The vitrine has much in common with the picture frame the plinth and the gallery but it has not yet received the kind of detailed art historical and theoretical discussion that has been brought to these other modes of formal display The twelve contributions to this volume examine some of the points of origin of the vitrine and the various relations it brokers with sculpture first in the Wunderkammer and cabinet of curiosities and then in dialog with the development of glazed architecture beginning with Paxton s Crystal Palace 1851 The collection offers close discussions of the role of the vitrine and shop window in the rise of commodity culture and their apposition with Constructivist design in the work of Frederick Kiesler as well as original readings of the use of vitrines in Surrealism and Fluxus and in work by Joseph Beuys Paul Thek Claes Oldenburg and his collaborators Jeff Koons Mike Kelley Dan Graham Vito Acconci Damien Hirst and Josephine Meckseper among others Sculpture and the Vitrine also raises key questions about the nature and implications of vitrinous space including its fronts onto desire and the spectacle transparency and legibility and onto ideas and practices associated with the archive collecting preserving and ordering
