A Short History of Lyme Regis John Fowles, 1991 A brief history of Lyme John Fowles, 1985 A Short History of England Charles McLean Andrews, 1921 A Short History of the English People John Richard Green, 1897 A Short History of Sherborne William Beauchamp Wildman, 1902 The Annotated Persuasion Jane Austen, David M. Shapard, 2012-02-02

Here is the complete text of Persuasion with hundreds of annotations on facing pages including Explanations of historical context, Citations from Austen's life letters and other writings, Definitions and clarifications, Literary comments and analysis, Plentiful maps and illustrations, An introduction, a bibliography, and a detailed chronology of events. Packed with all kinds of illuminating information from what Bath and Lyme looked like at the time to how bathing machines at seaside resorts were used to how Wentworth could have made a fortune from the Napoleonic Wars, David M. Shapard's delightfully entertaining edition brings Austen's novel of second chances vividly to life.

Conversations with John Fowles Dianne L. Vipond, 1999. Although best known for his novels The Collector, The Magus, and The French Lieutenant's Woman, John Fowles is also a short story writer, a poet, a respected translator, and a prolific essayist. In his long literary career, he has managed the feats of welding stunning innovation to tradition, pushing the formal boundaries of literary fiction and still capturing critical acclaim, popular success, and a worldwide readership. In Conversations with John Fowles, the first book of interviews devoted to the English writer, Dianne L. Vipond gathers over twenty of the most revealing interviews Fowles has granted in the last forty years. With critics, scholars, and journalists, he discusses his life, his art, his distinctive world view, and his special relationship with nature. Throughout his interviews, Fowles's remarkable consistency of thought is illuminated as he covers the meaning and genesis of his work. His uncompromising honesty and refreshing lack of guardedness are evident when he compares the naturalness of writing with eating or making love. From the 1960s through the 1990s, this master chronicler of the late half of the twentieth century reveals his serious engagement with social, political, and philosophical issues. He identifies himself with feminism, socialism, humanism, and the environmental movement, and he explores his recurring theme of personal, artistic, and socio-political freedom. His books, he says, are about the difficulty of attaining personal freedom, especially in terms of discovering what one is. Any reader who has been intrigued, challenged, and entertained by his work in the past is sure to find these conversations spanning the writer's career to be stimulating and revealing.

Dianne L. Vipond is a professor of English at California State University Long Beach. A co-editor of the book Literacy, Language, and Power, she has published articles in English Journal, Short Story, Twentieth Century Literature, and the Los Angeles Times.
